What Price do You Pay For Tea?

THIS IS VERY IMPORTANT ON ACCOUNT OF CHANGED CONDITIONS.

Conditions in the tea markets of the world have changed considerably since the war. On account of Russia prohibiting the sale of Vodka and France putting the ban on Absolut, these countries have become larger consumers of tea. In fact, France and other countries have followed the English custom of serving tea to the troops instead of coffee, and this creates an enormous supply of tea.

These largely increased demands for tea would be sufficient in themselves to have caused a rise in tea values. But, in addition, ocean freight rates are three times normal and insurance rates are very high, and over eighteen million pounds of tea have been lost on vessels which were sunk by German cruisers and submarines since war began.

The foregoing facts explain why tea is higher in price than before the war. If you are still paying the same price for tea as you were eight months or so ago you are getting a lower grade than the tea you formerly used. For example, if you are paying 40 cents a pound you are getting the quality that sold at 30 cents a year ago. The old 40-cent quality is now selling at 50 cents—in fact, has been selling at this price for months.

If anyone has not been enjoying their tea lately they will no doubt find that they have not been getting the same grade or label, consequently it has not tasted so good. The flavor wasn't so full or so rich. But tea at 50, 60 and 70 cents a pound is not dear. In fact, it is the cheapest hot drink obtainable when we consider the great number of cups a pound of tea will make. At 50 cents a pound the cost is only 1.5 of a cent, so small that it is hardly worth considering.

There are more people enjoying tea today than ever before, as what other beverage will give so much real enjoyment at so small a cost? And while tea sells at anywhere near its present moderate price there is no reason for not enjoying our due share of this delightful beverage.

Hogs.

As is well known, hogs have reached an unprecedentedly high level—$11.65 per cwt. being paid for fed and watered, on the Toronto market. The fact that, even with live hogs at this figure, shipments of bacon are regularly going forward to England, will serve to illustrate very clearly the demand for that product on the British market. Without doubt, Canada stands in a better position today to develop a permanent bacon trade with Great Britain than has ever been the case before. To do this, however, there must be a volume of supply. There is very good reason to believe that, although prices cannot be expected to remain at the present high level, the demand for bacon, in the face of the supply that can be obtained, will be such as to hold the market in a very firm condition, both during and for a considerable period following the war.

Great Britain's imports of bacon in 1915 amounted to £5,441,460. From Canada she obtained only £3,324,511. The fact that Canadian bacon has been selling at an advance of from 10 to 125 per cent. above American and at not more than 125, under the normal quotation for Danish, illustrates very clearly to what extent Canada could increase her export trade, had she a sufficient quantity of hogs to make this possible. The English merchant and the British consumer will buy Canadian bacon today, quality being equal, in preference to that from any other country in the world, with the possible exception of Ireland. Not only so, but an enormous market exists also for hams, frozen pork and pork cuts of various descriptions. This market is as remunerative as the bacon trade, although it is not likely to prove as constant. The West is producing a great quantity of rough grain this year. As compared with wheat, it will probably be relatively low in price. It should, therefore, be a sound business proposition to breed as many sows this spring as would provide each farm nest fall with such a number of feeding hogs as can be conveniently handled and suitably finished. They should, however, be so selected and mated as to maintain the approved bacon type. Unless this be done, we cannot compete with Ireland and Denmark and will lose status on the British market. The development of our bacon trade is a purely commercial undertaking and we must early recognize that we cannot sell to the British merchant unless we give him what he wants. This graded, thrifty management and good feeding should yield a return this year which will more than compensate for all the labor involved.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

What They Have Done

"I suffered a great many years with kidney troubles, tried several remedies, and also doctors' medicine, with no result. Two years ago I read an ad. in a newspaper for 'GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS,' and sent for two boxes. They did me more good than all the medicine I had ever taken. After I used the first two I sent for two more boxes, and I am satisfied, and also know, that Gin Pills are the best kidney remedy made."

I used to have to rise three or four times in the night, now I can sleep and don't have to get up at all, thanks to GIN PILLS. An advertisement in a newspaper.
