VOL. XLVIII. NO. 24

On 279 Special Trains, C. G. Railways

Up to March 1st 757,400 Troops have travelled over Government Railways.

Thousands arrive each week at Halifax and are sent forward to Dispersal Areas.

Since the war began in 1914 up to March 1st, when S.S. Belgic disembarked her returned soldier passengers at Halifax 757,400 troops have been carried on special trains over the Canadian Government Railways.

The first train which carried troops over the Government Railways the year the war was declared was numbered one and all special troop trains to and from Halifax since that time have been numbered consecutively. The last train from the Belgic was on Saturday No 1279. Each train averages about twelve cars with an average of 50 men to a car, which figures up a total of 767,400 men carried. Of course in addition to this thousands of soldiers have journeyed between Montreal and Halifax by regular trains during the past four years.

The movement of troops back to Canada is now approaching its greatest activity. Last Sunday 5000 arrived at Halifax by the transports Lapland and Belgic and fifteen special trains were despatched westward inside of fourteen hours.

S. S. Megantic with soldiers and dependants arrived Wednesday and S.S. Adriatic due Sunday. The movement of returning men is to be kept up actively all summer.

The process of disembarkation at Halifax is being carried on without a hitch, and there is a fine system of co-operation between the Military and the Railway officials.

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD

Beautiful Story of "Virgin With Bird."

"While paying a visit to the Catholic Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris," writes a former member of St. Patrick's parish of La Junta, Colo., now connected with the United States postal agency in France, "my attention was arrested by the preference shown by many children to repeat their prayers before the 'Vierge a Poiseau' (the Virgin with the bird). Seeking an explanation, I found in the gentle pages of Louise de Grandpre the pretty story of the Statue of the Virgin, which will lend interest to those who may visit the historic edifice.

"In the Rue Chinoise in Paris there lived a young woman, very devout, who came every day to pray. She brought with her her son, a little fellow very wide-awake and full of spirits. His mother had taught him to say his prayers. Cyril would close his hands to say 'Ave Maria,' and he would throw a kiss to the little Jesus, his dear friend, complaining sometimes to his mother that the little Jesus would not play with him. 'You are not good enough yet,' said his mother. 'Jesus plays only with the little children in paradise.'

"A very severe winter fell and the young mother fell ill and no longer came to church. Cyril never saw the little Jesus now, but he often thought of Him as he played at the foot of his mother's bed. On one of those days when the sky was dull and leaden and the air heavy and depressing, and the poor woman was rather worse, and more hopeless than usual, she became so weak they thought each moment would be her last.

"Cyril could not understand why his mother no longer smiled at him or stroked his hair or called him to her. With his little heart almost bursting and his eyes full of tears, he said: 'I will go and tell the little Jesus of my trouble.'

"While they were attending to the poor mother the child disappeared. He ran as fast as his little legs could carry him and entered the Cathedral by the cloister door, crossed the transept and was soon at the foot of the Statue of the Virgin Mary, where he was accustomed to say his prayers with his mother. 'Little Jesus,' said he, 'Thou art very happy. Thou hast Thy mother; mine, who was so good, is always asleep now and I am alone. Little Jesus, wake my mother up, and I will give you my best toys; morning and evening I will send you the sweetest kiss and say my best prayer. And look, to begin with, I have brought you my favorite bird. He is tame and will eat the golden crumbs of paradise out of your hand.' At the same time he stretched out his little closed hand towards Jesus.

"The Divine Child stretched out His hand and Cyril let his beloved bird escape. The bird, which had a lovely colored plumage, flew straight to the hand of the Infant Christ and has remained there to this day. The Virgin smiled on the child, and her white marble robe at that moment became the same color as the bird's plumage.

"Cyril, with his heart very full, got up to go out, but before leaving the Church turned round to have one more look at his little bird he loved so dearly. He was struck with astonishment when he heard the favored bird singing one of the sweetest songs in honor of the Virgin and her Child.

"When Cyril returned home he went into his mother's room without making the least noise to see if she was still asleep. The young mother was sitting upright in her bed, her head still very bad, resting on a pillow, but her wide open eyes were looking for her little one.

"'I was quite sure the little Jesus would wake you up,' said little Cyril, climbing onto her bed. 'I took him my bird this morning to take care of me in the Garden of Paradise.'

"Life once more returned to the woman and she kissed her boy."

"When you next go to Notre Dame, Louise de Grandpre adds, 'be sure to visit the Vierge a Poiseau, who always hears the prayers of the little ones.'"

Rejoice in Return Of Masterpiece

Titian's celebrated "Assumption of the Virgin," which the renowned artist painted for the Church of the Frari at Venice in 1516, hangs once more in its original home.

Its return to the magnificent frame of carved marble which was originally built for it, and which is shown in almost every photograph of the renowned painting, was decided upon when the treasure was brought in with hundreds of other Italian masterpieces from the underground cellars and distant galleries where art treasures were stored during the war to prevent destruction by shell fire.

The "Assumption of the Virgin" is counted one of the seven great masterpieces of the world, and marked one of Titian's first successful attempts to unite in the same composition two or three scenes super-imposed on different levels, earth and heaven, thus contrasting the temporal and the infinite.

The Venetians are more than delighted to have their masterpiece, which, for many years before the war, hung in the Venetian Gallery, safely back in the place where the donors and the great genius who composed it intended it to remain, more especially because of the fact that another of Titian's greatest works, "The Death of St. Peter of Verona," was destroyed by an Austrian shell in 1867.

* Nobility Of Life.

"Have you seen enough of life to be able to understand that the only things worth a moment's consideration to a thoughtful soul is to make our individual lives noble, and to separate our higher being from the accidents and environments of life. I speak as one who knows, when I say that success and failure, honor and obscurity, and all other contrary elements in this mysterious life of ours, are empty words, devoid of all meaning. It is the experience of men that, in middle life, we take the just view of human things; and that to all, especially to those who are called to a life of higher thought, there remains but one certainty, namely, that, surrounded as we are by mysteries, mysteries that deepen as we advance in life—there is one certainty of faith—that is, the teaching of a Divinely-appointed Church; and one certainty of action, that is the duty nearest to hand. And all speculations, surmises, doubts, perplex-

DO NOT DISMISS CONSTIPATION AS A TRIFLE. IT IS NOT.

Half the ill of life is caused by allowing the bowels to become constipated.

When the bowels become constipated the stomach gets out of order, the liver does not work properly, and then follows the violent sick and bilious headaches, sourness of the stomach, biliousness, heartburn, water brash, or the painful, irritating internal bleeding or protruding piles.

Keep your bowels regular with Milburn's Laxative Pills and you need never be constipated.

Mrs. C. Henderson, Trail, B.C., writes:—"I have been troubled with sick headaches and constipation most all my life. I have not now been troubled for a long time. I have great faith in Milburn's Laxative Pills using them."

PIMPLES and BOILS For Nearly Two Years.

When pimples and boils appear on the face and body it seems as if the skin is the seat of the trouble, but the real disease is in the blood.

Lotions and ointments may allay the trouble for a while, but seldom if ever cure.

You have to get under the skin; get at the blood which is the cause of the trouble. Burdock Blood Bitters goes direct to the root of the disease and restores healthy, normal action to the different organs, and cleanses the blood of all its impurities.

Mr. E. C. Goodwin, Cambridge, N.B., writes:—"For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my face and neck, and nearly all of my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything, but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the boils and pimples had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is troubled with this disease."
