received the last ad attentions due a corpse. The lower limbs were confined, the ever weighted and the lower jaw far-tened by a bandage. The watchers were called in, and in the course of a couple of hours the family and friends were settled for the night. About that time the sup-posed corpse frightened the watchers and the entire household almost out of their sources the sitting the set the supenses by sitting up in bed, tearing the bandage from his jaws and demanding to know what it all meant. As soon as the frightened people could be convinced that Rosch was not dead, every attention was paid him, but it was of no avail, for after the excitement of his revival passed off, the man sank again rapidly and died for certain last evening.

Struck by Lightning.

GANANOOUR June 28 - This evening thunderstorm passed over this place, and during service in the Presbyterian church the lightning struck the church spire, passing down the front, shattering one of the front doors, throwing splinters and broken glass in all directions and making a report not unlike a nine pound-er gun.
