THE SINN FEIN RIOTS.

CORK, To-day.
One man killed and a score injured was the toll in yesterday's conflict between the Sinn Feiners and the police. Serious disorders occurred, including an attack on the jail in an effort to liberate political prisoners detained there, and attacks on various military recruiting quarters in the centre of the town. A number of the clergy pleaded in vain with the Sinn Feiners to keep the peace. Finally the police, armed with carbines, bayonets and revolvers, charged at the double quick down Patrick Street. Some of the crowds stood their ground, replying with a fusillade of clubs and stones, but the majority fled into the adjacent streets. The injured were quickly gathered up by stretcher bearers and taken to hospital. The soldiers, who up to this time were confined in barracks, were now called out. They planted machine guns in the centre of Patrick Street and patrolled the scene of the disturbances until early this a.m., when quiet was restored. They then returned to barracks.

GERMAN MINISTER TO NORWAY RESIGNS.

LONDON, To-day.
Herr Michaelis, German Minister to Norway, has resigned and is returning to Germany, according to Scandinavian despatches to the Morning Post. The Christiania correspondent, however, says that this is not connected with the recent discovery of explosives being brought into Norway from Germany.

THE POSITION OF RUSSIA.

WASHINGTON, To-day.
The dissolution of the Duma and the Council of Empire, urged by the Pan-Russian conference of the Workmen and Soldiers' Councils, was explained by members of the Russian Mission here to-day as merely another step in the building up of the new Government of Russia. It doesn't indicate the slightest hostility, it was said, between the Councils and the other parts of the Government. The Duma, it was explained, ceased to exist when after its dissolution by the Czar in its later extraordinary sessions it created out of itself the Provisional Government. To this Government it entrusted complete legislative, executive and judicial powers; with its birth the Duma itself was dissolved. Since then it has met only once for a decennial ceremonial and has had absolutely no part in the Government. The Council of Empire is even less representative than the Duma, it was said, as it was composed of appointees of the Czar elected from various classes, such as capital, education, agriculture and former ministers. Ever since the revolution most of the members of the Council have remained home at their estates. Special Ambassador Bakhmeteff of the Mission will address the Senate to-morrow with special reference to the foreign relations of the new Provisional Russian Government. It is understood to be the purpose of the new Government to announce the broad principles of diplomacy under which the present war should be conducted without going into great detail as to their specific application. One of the main reasons why Russia has proposed a conference of the Allies is understood to be uncertainty there as to just what treaties Russia is now bound by. The former Czar is said to have signed many international agreements without consultation with or subsequent reference to his ministers. It is thought possible that some of the Allied nations may be holding Russia to engagements which the present Russian Government has never seen.

WILL NOT ADMIT REFUGEES.

STOCKHOLM, To-day.
Two hundred Russian refugees, men, women and children, on their way from Switzerland to Petrograd, have received advice here that the Russian Provisional Government has refused permission for them to enter Russia. A representative of the Swedish Government has gone to Petrograd to endeavor to arrange for their admission into Russia.

FIGHTING IN CAUCASUS.

PETROGRAD, To-day.
The official communication issued by the war office to-day says: The Western and Roumanian fronts unchanged. On the Caucasus front we occupied a series of heights on the Bargun summit, 30 miles southwest of Ushnui. The Turks attempted to attack but were repulsed by our fire. West of Sommes we forced the Kurds from positions west of the summit of Ashkun.

CANADIAN-AUSTRALIAN LINE.

VANCOUVER, To-day.
The Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Co., has amalgamated with the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, opening a Canadian-Australian line from Vancouver to Honolulu and Sydney.

SHIPYARDS THREATEN STRIKE.

NEW YORK, To-day.
An ultimatum, fixing Saturday, June 30th, as the date on which they will strike if their demand for an advance of 50 cents per day is not granted, was yesterday given to 21 of the largest shipbuilding firms and corporations by the Marine Trades Council, representing 12,000 men employed in the shipyards in New York and New Jersey.

CASUALTIES FROM AIR RAID.

LONDON, To-day.
The official figures of casualties in the London air raid of June 13, were announced yesterday. Subsequent deaths and the discovery of more bodies in the debris have brought the number of dead to 21 men, 43 women and 42 children. The injured number 220 men, 110 women and 106 children.

FRENCH TROOPS OCCUPY ATHENS.

LONDON, To-day.
A despatch to the Times from Athens says that French troops yesterday entered Athens and occupied several points in the city.

SPANISH GOVT. SUSPENDED.

MADRID, To-day.
As the Government yesterday decided to suspend the constitutional guarantees, Premier Dato went to the Palace to obtain the King's signature to a decree authorising the suspensions.

VENIZELLOS AT ATHENS.

PARIS, To-day.
A despatch from Athens says that former Premier Venizelos, who has been commissioned by King Alexander to form a new cabinet, arrived at Athens yesterday and will be received by the King.

WILL URGE GREECE TO JOIN ALLIES.

LONDON, To-day.
A despatch to the Times from Athens says that as soon as Parliament is convened M. Venizelos will probably propose to the Deputies that Greece join the Allies. He does not intend, however, to mobilize the nation against its will. He is expected first to undertake a great campaign explaining to the people that Greece's interests are bound up in the Entente cause. If his mission is successful he will be able in about three months to put the entire forces of Greece into the balance.

A Hospital Incident.

London Daily News: In a London hospital there is a man whose hand was mangled in an attempt to throw back a live bomb which had landed among a group of his fellows in a trench. Recently an illustrious visitor made a round of the wards and asked the patient how he got his injuries. The patient lived a lonely life on the outskirts of civilisation before the war, and is still slow and sparing of speech. An orderly started to explain for him, and had only got so far as to say that he lifted a German bomb when the illustrious visitor broke in with a stern expression of a hope that this would be a lesson to the patient. So illustrious was the visitor that none of those who knew the facts had the courage to suggest that he had been over hasty, and the patient was left with rather a wry smile on his face.

How Germans Juggle Figures.

Westminster Gazette: The official German casualty list for April provides a very good test of the value of German statistics. The Western offensive began on April 9. We know with certainty that before the end of the month the French and British between them had captured nearly 40,000 prisoners. Under the head of "Prisoners and Missing" the Germans account for 4,308. That is one-ninth of the known loss under those headings. The explanation is, apart from any design of concealment, that the German lists are months behind date. These figures probably relate to January or February, when there was little activity. If we take the prisoners and missing as a basis the totals are probably only a small fraction of the actual losses. The Germans admit four and a quarter millions of loss since the beginning of the war. Big as is that figure, a very large addition must be made before we reach the actual total.

The Premier's Verdict.

The Government held a special party meeting last night to determine finally whether it is to be their intention to fight an election or prolong the life of Parliament. It escaped through the tightly closed doors that the majority of the members, including those who do not intend to run for any district again, would like to remain in power another spell or an extra year, as was done before they held on to office from 1903 to 1905, contrary to the Constitution. To summarize the deliberations of the party meeting and say bluntly what happened, no general election will be held this year and a Bill will be introduced authorizing the extension of the life of Parliament. The Premier, Sir Edward Morris, will, in all probability, make an announcement to that effect at this afternoon's session of the House, and meanwhile there is likely to be something doing when the Opposition gets going over this verdict of the Premier.

The Careful Censor.

(From the Detroit News.)
Nobody loves a joke like the censor. He is always up to some trick to make the people enjoy themselves. For instance: Major Gen. Pershing arrived in England. How could the censor tell the people of Great Britain and America where the general landed without conveying the news to the Germans? It took a minute for the censor to solve that problem. He dated his story: "A British port." Of course there are many British ports. The German, reading the text, would immediately be bewildered. But the witty censor must convey his news to America. For two-thirds of a column he continued his story, without mentioning the name of a port, but at last:
"The British delegation which welcomed the party . . . was composed of Rear Admiral, etc., etc., and the Lord Mayor of Liverpool."
And lest any American, familiar with the roving habits of chief executives in his own country, might think the Lord Mayor of Liverpool was joking in Portsmouth, the censor informed him that the Pershing party, having arrived at 9 in the morning, would reach London at 3 in the afternoon. And Liverpool is 200 miles from London. What German mind would ever figure that out? And now you who have doubted the name of the censor have a concrete instance of what he can do.
