

Pianos & Organs.

THE WILLIAMS PLAYER—You heard it at the Fair.
THE OLD RELIABLE EMERSON—
 Sold in St. John's for nearly half a century.
THE LINDERMAN PIANO—
 The 2nd oldest manufactured Piano in America.
THE KARN PIANO—A most reliable Piano.
THE WILLIAMS STUDENT PIANO—
 Just the thing for small rooms.
 Prices ranging from $350.00 to $550.00.

To Arrive:
 Some Second Hand Pianos—Just wait and see them.
ORGANS—Both new and slightly used. Prices from $85.00 up. See them and get our prices.

Charles Hutton

Private Greeting Cards

BEAUTIFUL DESIGNS
 SUPPLY LIMITED

ORDER NOW!

S. E. Garland

Leading Bookseller & Stationer, 177-9 Water Street.

Headquarters for Bedsteads, Springs & Mattresses

POPE'S Furniture and Mattress Factory
 Makers of Furniture Since 1860.

FISH HOOKS MAY COME
 FISH HOOKS MAY GO

MUSTADS
 GO ON FOR EVER.

ONCE HOOKED ALWAYS LANDED.

ADVERTISE IN THE EVENING TELEGRAM.

Cod-Liver Oil Freed of Bad Taste

The bad taste of cod-liver oil has been removed by Drs. Harry J. Dublin and Casimir Funk, biochemists, who are told by Science Service's Daily Science News Bulletin (Washington). Until the discovery of vitamins, a cod-liver oil was good for children's ailments. When it was found that this vile-tasting oil was the richest known source of two vitamins, one preventing rickets in children and the other warding off a serious eye disease that results in blindness, efforts have been made to develop an extract of it that would be easy to take. We read:

"The success of Drs. Dublin and Funk not only does this, but also provides a convenient starting-point for the actual chemical isolation and identification of vitamins. Because it furnishes a pure material several thousand times as strong in vitamin content as the original oil. Laboratory tests on animals and clinical tests on a large number of children by Dr. Louis Fisher, director of the Infantorium and Nursery of the Hecksher Foundations of New York, have shown that both the antirachitic and antiophthalmic vitamins are retained in the extract.

"The problem of making vitamin extracts or of preserving vitamins under artificial conditions has always been a difficult one, because the unknown substances are very easily destroyed. Even the simple cooking of many foods destroy a large part of the vitamin content. The success of Drs. Dublin and Funk was the result of several years' work.

"They first made an acid extract of cod-liver oil, using either acetic acid, the essence of vinegar, or formic acid, an acid found in ants. In this way they obtained from 2,000 grams, or nearly two pounds, of cod-liver oil, 60 grams of a substance that retained all the vitamins and left the bulk of the oil behind, as well as almost all of the taste.

"The extract portion was made into a kind of soap with caustic soda, just as animal fats were once made into soap with lye from wood ashes. From this saponified portion, one-half of a gram of a crude active concentrate was obtained. It was a brown syrupy mass which crystallized into light yellowish brown needle-like crystals radiating from a central point. An analysis of this concentrate, which weighs in animal tissue, was eliminated, and the final potent extract from the 2,000 grams of cod-liver oil weighed only one-tenth of a gram.

"The chemical composition of this substance has not yet been established; the experimenters found that it contains carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, and that sodium, sulphur, phosphorus and chlorine elements frequently occurring in organic substances, are absent.

Bullet Proof Glass Saves Seller's Life

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 18.—Bullet proof glass saved not only several thousand dollars for the Monterey Avenue branch of the American State Bank, but also saved the life of Clarence Bossov, the bookkeeper when a trio of robbers attempted to hold up the bank.

The men, travelling in a sport model automobile, entered the bank and separated; one going to the teller's window, where Bossov was stationed; one to the window of Eddy branch manager, and one staying near the janitor, who was sweeping near the door. The man at Bossov's window asked for a dollar's worth of pennies and as the bookkeeper started to count them out he swung a gun above the counter with the words, "put 'em up." At the same time a second robber drew a sawed-off shotgun from his overcoat and backed the janitor into a corner.

Bossov, instead of following orders, dropped and pressed the alarm buttons, one of which sounded a big gong outside the door. The robber fired at Bossov started to drop but the bullet struck the glass, which is three quarters of an inch thick, and bullet proof. The gong uproar frightened them and they ran. The bullet hole in the glass was directly in line with Bossov's heart. There were no customers in the bank at the time.

Apostles' Tombs Under High Altar

EDINBURGH, Nov. 14.—It was now certain that the bodies of St. Peter and St. Paul were actually lying at present under the high altar of St. Peter's, Rome, said Prof. Sayce in a lecture on the recent excavations under the Church of San Sebastiano. This was the most interesting and important result of the excavations, but much also had been found of interest relating to the early history of Christianity, he added.

The new fur-trimmed coats wrap and are cut in such a way that they form a slight blouse in the back.

AFTER SHAVING—MINARD'S LINIMENT.

STOCK MARKET NEWS

Supplied by Johnston & Ward, Board of Trade Bldg., Water Street.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.

TO-DAY'S NEW YORK OPENING.

Amer. Tobacco B. .... 14 1/4

Baldwin ..... 12 1/2

Ansco ..... 12 1/2

C.P.R. .... 14 1/4

Calif. Petrol ..... 30 1/2

Chrysler ..... 18 1/2

Cuba Cane Sugar, Pfd. .... 45

Eric 1st Pfd. .... 43 1/4

Cons'd. Cigar ..... 48 1/4

Fisk Tire ..... 23 1/4

General Motors ..... 114

General Petrol ..... 58 1/2

Int. Comb. Eng. .... 57 1/2

Marland Oil ..... 22 1/2

Mack Trucks ..... 22 1/2

Nevada ..... 13 1/4

Overland Com. .... 28

Phillips Petrol ..... 49 1/4

Pierce Petrol ..... 5

Pacific Oil ..... 60 1/2

Gloss Sheffield ..... 125

Spicer ..... 27

Studebaker ..... 56

Texas Co. .... 51 1/4

Union Pacific ..... 146 1/2

U. S. Steel ..... 139 1/2

Crucible ..... 80 1/4

Montreal.

Asbestos ..... 95 1/4

Abitibi ..... 69 1/4

Brazilian ..... 75 1/4

Can. Steams Pfd. .... 54 1/4

National Breweries ..... 53 1/4

Ogilvie ..... 165

Smelters ..... 154

Shawinigan ..... 161

Steel of Can. .... 93 1/4

Winnipeg Elec. .... 47 1/4

Wheat.

Chic. Dec. New ..... 165 1/4

Chic. Dec. Old ..... 163 1/4

Chic. May New ..... 162 1/4

Chic. May Old ..... 160 1/4-161 1/4

Winnipeg Nov. .... None

Winnipeg Dec. .... 149

Cotton ..... 20.91

Princess Mary Will

Devote Yet More

Time to Children

In order to devote more time to her two children, Princess Mary will this winter transfer more and more of her social and official duties to the Duchess of York, Hubert, the elder son of the princess and Viscount Lascelles, is now nearly three years old. He rarely seen in London, spending most of his time at Goldborough Hall, the second son, David, is inclined to be somewhat delicate, and his health is carefully watched by his royal mother.

Good for many occasions and fashionable for all is the dress of crepe with a kasha coat to match.

United States and is causing economists to write lengthy articles on the subject.

Although the cost of living has climbed higher than a frightened cat, statistics indicate that early marriages are actually on the increase.

"The United States census figures of 1920 show that there has been an increase during recent years in the proportion of married persons among the younger element of the population. For each year of age, from fifteen to thirty-four, the figures show an increase in the proportion married as compared with 1910. The change is especially noticeable in the younger ages."

In other words, thousands of very young couples are hopefully moving into rose-covered cottages or roof-covered flats, expecting to find music in the drip of the sink. In spite of all that has been said about the modern tendency to postpone marriage and about the sophistication of the flapper, figures prove that there are more and more of these marriages every year.

Now, just what happens to these couples who marry so soon as they are old enough to vote? According to Kathleen Norris, they stand a very much better chance for happiness than those who are hanging to the ragged edge of thirty. There is no reason, she says, why a young couple shouldn't marry on $40 a week, even in New York city. All the young wife has to do to live within this amount is to give up beauty parlor, magazines, matinees and parties, and to content herself with one new dress every three years instead of one a year.

Medical men and women are almost unanimously of the opinion that the earlier a person marries the better it is for their mental and physical welfare.

Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, Toronto medical health officer, has long held this view; as has his assistant, Dr. Cruikshank, and his colleagues in the provincial health department.

Divorce Judge Advises Patience.

Not so the lawyers, however, Judge Selah Strong, who hears much evidence in American divorce actions,

Same in U. S. A.

The same situation is faced in the

United States and is causing economists to write lengthy articles on the subject.

Although the cost of living has climbed higher than a frightened cat, statistics indicate that early marriages are actually on the increase.

"The United States census figures of 1920 show that there has been an increase during recent years in the proportion of married persons among the younger element of the population. For each year of age, from fifteen to thirty-four, the figures show an increase in the proportion married as compared with 1910. The change is especially noticeable in the younger ages."

In other words, thousands of very young couples are hopefully moving into rose-covered cottages or roof-covered flats, expecting to find music in the drip of the sink. In spite of all that has been said about the modern tendency to postpone marriage and about the sophistication of the flapper, figures prove that there are more and more of these marriages every year.

Now, just what happens to these couples who marry so soon as they are old enough to vote? According to Kathleen Norris, they stand a very much better chance for happiness than those who are hanging to the ragged edge of thirty. There is no reason, she says, why a young couple shouldn't marry on $40 a week, even in New York city. All the young wife has to do to live within this amount is to give up beauty parlor, magazines, matinees and parties, and to content herself with one new dress every three years instead of one a year.

Medical men and women are almost unanimously of the opinion that the earlier a person marries the better it is for their mental and physical welfare.

Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, Toronto medical health officer, has long held this view; as has his assistant, Dr. Cruikshank, and his colleagues in the provincial health department.

Divorce Judge Advises Patience.

Not so the lawyers, however, Judge Selah Strong, who hears much evidence in American divorce actions,

Same in U. S. A.

The same situation is faced in the

United States and is causing economists to write lengthy articles on the subject.

Although the cost of living has climbed higher than a frightened cat, statistics indicate that early marriages are actually on the increase.

"The United States census figures of 1920 show that there has been an increase during recent years in the proportion of married persons among the younger element of the population. For each year of age, from fifteen to thirty-four, the figures show an increase in the proportion married as compared with 1910. The change is especially noticeable in the younger ages."

In other words, thousands of very young couples are hopefully moving into rose-covered cottages or roof-covered flats, expecting to find music in the drip of the sink. In spite of all that has been said about the modern tendency to postpone marriage and about the sophistication of the flapper, figures prove that there are more and more of these marriages every year.

Now, just what happens to these couples who marry so soon as they are old enough to vote? According to Kathleen Norris, they stand a very much better chance for happiness than those who are hanging to the ragged edge of thirty. There is no reason, she says, why a young couple shouldn't marry on $40 a week, even in New York city. All the young wife has to do to live within this amount is to give up beauty parlor, magazines, matinees and parties, and to content herself with one new dress every three years instead of one a year.

Medical men and women are almost unanimously of the opinion that the earlier a person marries the better it is for their mental and physical welfare.

Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, Toronto medical health officer, has long held this view; as has his assistant, Dr. Cruikshank, and his colleagues in the provincial health department.

Divorce Judge Advises Patience.

Not so the lawyers, however, Judge Selah Strong, who hears much evidence in American divorce actions,

Same in U. S. A.

The same situation is faced in the

MAJESTIC THEATRE TO-DAY

Wolves of The Night

Starring

BILL FARNUM

Scream 2-Reel Comedy. Big Matinee Saturday Afternoon

20c

MAJESTIC THEATRE
Is the Pony Contest Theatre

20c

Monday, NORTH OF 36

Wedding Bells

(Nfld. Weekly, Boston.)

Mr. Manuel Jenkins, formerly of Twillingate, Nfld., were married in Malden, Mass., Nov. 7th, by the Rev. Eugene Pearce, assistant pastor of Malden Center Methodist Church and the double ring service was used.

The bride was given in marriage by the groom's brother, Mr. Joseph Jenkins, of Medford, Mass.

The bride was attired in white satin, trimmed with white pearls with a long tulle veil fastened with fillets of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Mrs. Charles P. Newman, of Malden, Mass., was maid of honor and wore white canton crepe and carried a bouquet of carnations. Charles P. Newman was best man.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's brother, 75 Almont Street, Medford, Mass.

The bride gave to the bride's maid a string of beads of blue pearls and green gold. The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls, and gold cuff links to the best man and Mr. Joseph Jenkins.

The couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents. The couple will reside at 9 Howard Avenue, Malden, Mass.

—Com.

Moonshine Millions

Although the Foreign Office has announced that the Webber "Millions," the Edwards estate, and the Bogardus estate in New York are beyond the reach of British claimants, there is still evidence that unscrupulous agents are keeping false hopes alive. British would-be claimants to the mythical fortune left by a certain William Webber—said to have struck a gold mine "out West"—to his descendants of the seventh generation are enough to fill a good-sized steamer.

Even more numerous are the claimants to the New York property, worth $100,000,000, reputed to have been left by Robert Edwards, of Wales, who emigrated to America in the eighteenth century.

It is because of the stream of inquiries that reaches consular officials and the Foreign Office that the warning that these tales of millions are "Moonshine" has been issued.

Young Men, Women Are Marrying Earlier

FIGURES SHOW CHANGING CONDITION IN U. S. AND CANADA.

People are marrying younger than they have done since the beginning of the present century. Particularly is this true in the United States and Canada.

During the past fortnight a determined rush for marriage licenses has made itself felt in Toronto, and one of the features of this unseasonable hurry to the altar has been the extreme youth of many seeking to wed.

Frequently the bride and groom-to-be have been younger than 18, thereby requiring parental consent before the license could be issued. In no case this month has this consent been denied.

In 1923, the last year for which official record has been completely compiled, more men were married at the age of 23 than at any other age. In the year preceding 1923 the most popular age for men to marry was 24 in most cases and 25 in a few. In no case had the most popular age dropped to 23.

A similar situation is seen in the marriage of girls. The brides are younger than they used to be. In 1923 the age of 21 was the most popular at which young ladies became brides. Records traced back ten years show that 21 has also been the most popular age for girls to marry during that period, but second place has changed from 22 and in one case 23 to 19. Last year more girls were married at the age of 19 in Ontario than at any other age except 21.

Same in U. S. A.

The same situation is faced in the

Strang's

The Shop on the Corner

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING IS NOT BEGUN IN FULL YET

— BUT —

For that Boy who is far away, it is time to buy!

OUR ASSORTMENT OF

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

comprises just what he would like, and suggests to you what to give.

Come in and Inspect Our Lines

SEE OUR ASSORTMENT OF

NECKTIE and Handkerchief

Combination

of superior quality Silk.

Silk Handkerchiefs

Neck Ties, Fancy Socks,

Fancy Shirts, Collars,

Golf Hose, Gloves,

Etc., Etc.

J. J. STRANG

CORNER WATER STREET and PRESCOTT STREET.

United States and is causing economists to write lengthy articles on the subject.

Although the cost of living has climbed higher than a frightened cat, statistics indicate that early marriages are actually on the increase.

"The United States census figures of 1920 show that there has been an increase during recent years in the proportion of married persons among the younger element of the population. For each year of age, from fifteen to thirty-four, the figures show an increase in the proportion married as compared with 1910. The change is especially noticeable in the younger ages."

In other words, thousands of very young couples are hopefully moving into rose-covered cottages or roof-covered flats, expecting to find music in the drip of the sink. In spite of all that has been said about the modern tendency to postpone marriage and about the sophistication of the flapper, figures prove that there are more and more of these marriages every year.

Now, just what happens to these couples who marry so soon as they are old enough to vote? According to Kathleen Norris, they stand a very much better chance for happiness than those who are hanging to the ragged edge of thirty. There is no reason, she says, why a young couple shouldn't marry on $40 a week, even in New York city. All the young wife has to do to live within this amount is to give up beauty parlor, magazines, matinees and parties, and to content herself with one new dress every three years instead of one a year.

Medical men and women are almost unanimously of the opinion that the earlier a person marries the better it is for their mental and physical welfare.

Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, Toronto medical health officer, has long held this view; as has his assistant, Dr. Cruikshank, and his colleagues in the provincial health department.

Divorce Judge Advises Patience.

Not so the lawyers, however, Judge Selah Strong, who hears much evidence in American divorce actions,

Same in U. S. A.

The same situation is faced in the

United States and is causing economists to write lengthy articles on the subject.

Although the cost of living has climbed higher than a frightened cat, statistics indicate that early marriages are actually on the increase.

"The United States census figures of 1920 show that there has been an increase during recent years in the proportion of married persons among the younger element of the population. For each year of age, from fifteen to thirty-four, the figures show an increase in the proportion married as compared with 1910. The change is especially noticeable in the younger ages."

In other words, thousands of very young couples are hopefully moving into rose-covered cottages or roof-covered flats, expecting to find music in the drip of the sink. In spite of all that has been said about the modern tendency to postpone marriage and about the sophistication of the flapper, figures prove that there are more and more of these marriages every year.

Now, just what happens to these couples who marry so soon as they are old enough to vote? According to Kathleen Norris, they stand a very much better chance for happiness than those who are hanging to the ragged edge of thirty. There is no reason, she says, why a young couple shouldn't marry on $40 a week, even in New York city. All the young wife has to do to live within this amount is to give up beauty parlor, magazines, matinees and parties, and to content herself with one new dress every three years instead of one a year.

Medical men and women are almost unanimously of the opinion that the earlier a person marries the better it is for their mental and physical welfare.

Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, Toronto medical health officer, has long held this view; as has his assistant, Dr. Cruikshank, and his colleagues in the provincial health department.

Divorce Judge Advises Patience.

Not so the lawyers, however, Judge Selah Strong, who hears much evidence in American divorce actions,

Same in U. S. A.

The same situation is faced in the

United States and is causing economists to write lengthy articles on the subject.

Although the cost of living has climbed higher than a frightened cat, statistics indicate that early marriages are actually on the increase.

"The United States census figures of 1920 show