We have opened out nice and fresh a case of Embroideries and Insertions, and very handsome goods they are and well worth taking a look at. We bought them under very favorable circumstances, very much under their regular value, and in putting the price on we have marked them at such a close margin that ought to shut out all opposition. Remember these are not common quality or poor in design, but the very best quality of goods, with the acme of perfection both in design and quality of work. In the wide ones, say from 6 to 10 inches, we have four special lines, viz.:

The Farmer Was Dis-track-ted.

A laughable exhibition of obstinacy was given on Dundas street Saturday evening.
A sleepy looking farmer was driving a very slow and very small horse on the street-car track. A carter with a dray came spinning along after him.

dray.

The farmer did not move a muscle.

"Hi, there, you hayseed; get off the track!"

This was too much and the farmer stopped his horse, filled his pipe with tobacco, and, crossing his legs, looked calmly around as if life contained no such thing as hurry.

The carter swore at first but made up his mind to stand for his rights, and he too took out his pipe and blew whiff after whiff from his nouth with contentment stamped on his features.

The farmer waited five minutes and then leisurely got down and put his blanket over his little slow horse. The carter unfolded the covering for his horse and placed it in position.

As the incident occurred about the hour that the street-car drivers take supper, it was about 20 minutes before a car came along going in the same direction as the two dignitaries. The onlookers waited to see how the exhibition would end. The farmer it is not a second or the same direction as the two dignitaries. how the exhibition would end. The farmer did not stir until the car driver was adding his voice to the squabble and then turned slowly off the track. The carter made a pretense at doing the same thing but as soon as the small horse and the farmer's wagon were out of the way, whipped up his animal and drove off with a smile on his countenance which would have done justice to any professional clown.

The farmer took a back street and went out of town. His family could not under-

SHOT DEAD.

Mr. Fosdyck Killed in the Room Where His Brother was Shot.

Paw Paw, Mich., March 24.—Albert A. Fosdyck, county surveyer, was shot dead Friday night in the same room in Almena where Dr. Fosdyck, his brother, was recently shot. He was found dead Saturday morning, shot through the heart. Dr. Fosdyck was at a neighbor's but returned home and went to bed and did not discover the crime until the morning. No theory as to who is the assailant has thus far been formed. The shooting of Dr. Fosdyck was fully as mysterious as the killing of his brother, who, it will be remembered, was arrested for the crime.

The evidence against him, however, was not sufficiently strong to warrant his being held and he was released. At the same time it is well known that the Doctor has lived in fear of him ever since When both crimes are cleared up some startling and sensational developments will see the light. The brothers were bachelors and lived alone with a single servant. Paw Paw, Mich., March 24.-Albert 11-Year-Old Boy Chops Off His Mother's Head With an Axe.

Memphis, Tenn., March 24.—A special from Somerville, Tenn., says: A singularly atrocious murder was committed yesterday morning, the victim being Mrs. Sallie Hobson, colored, and the murderer her 11-year-old boy. In the morning Mr. Hobson, who had been in the country at work, called at the house in company with another man, and after a short stay started out for a walk. Returning an hour later, a terrible sight met his eyes. On one side of the door lay the decapitated remains of his wife, and several feet away the head. A stick of wood, on which her neck had been placed when the cutting was done, showed three distinct cuts of an axe. The boy was found playing with the other children, his clothing saturated with blood. He at first claimed the blood came from a chicken which he had killed, but at the cororal inquest admitted that he had committed the crime. He said his mother laid her head down on the block, and told him if he did not cut her head off she would kill him. The boy was placed in fail pending turther investigation. From the few of the hundreds of letters we have received from those who have been restored to health and strength by the use of that wonderful discovery, Paine's Celery Compound, we make a few extracts. We hope that the thou sands of Canadian men and women who are suffering from nervous and wasting diseases, will profit by these true and plain statements of facts. D. S. Davidson, of Montreal, suffered for years with nervous dyspepsia, pain in his back, and sleeplessness. He tried doctors without relief, was losing flesh rapidly, and had about given up heart when he commenced the use of Paine's Celery Compound. "Now," he says, "I am a new man. I sleep well and my food does not hurt me."

Mr. Jas. Johnson, 302 St. Charles Borromee Street, Montreal, was weak and nervous, had no appetite, and could not rest at night. His nerves were soothed and strengthened by Paine's Celery Compound, and he soon became well and Annie Gourley, of River Beaudette. strong.
