

FAINTING FROM HEAT IN FRENCH CAPITAL

Temperature in Western Europe Goes to the Summer Level.

London, Dec. 23.—A meteorological phenomenon which, it is stated, has not been known in 150 years, is being experienced in parts of Western and Southern Europe. The temperature has risen with astonishing suddenness, under the influence of a southerly wind, to a summer level. The contrast has been most marked in Spain, France and Switzerland, but has been very great further north.

Concurrently with the gale in Great Britain yesterday the mercury in London rose in the course of a few hours from 21 to 55 degrees. Even tonight the temperature is above 50 degrees. In Paris the thermometer registers 80 degrees. The sudden change had a strange effect in the hostess last night. It was necessary to shut off the heating apparatus and open all the doors and ventilators, notwithstanding which several persons fainted from the heat.

Further south to degrees is common. This temperature is unusual in Switzerland, where the ice and snow are melting with summer speed, causing floods, which threaten to be serious. The snow has disappeared from the mountains to a height of 4,000 feet, stopping skiing and tobogganing and other winter sports.

The guests at the hotels are sweating in their winter clothing, and are glad to doff their coats outdoors.

In Madrid the temperature is 73 degrees.

The change in the weather probably accompanied in many parts by excessive rains, is causing destructive floods.

The gale wrecked the Italian legation at Lisbon, destroying the minister's valuable collection of works of art.

NO CANNIBALS ON TIBURON

Just a Few Deer and Great Flocks of Wild Pigeons.

Nogales, Ariz., Dec. 23.—The mystery and glamor surrounding Tiburon Island, Gulf of California, has been dissipated effectually through the return of seven American explorers who visited the island. They had supposed it to be inhabited by man-eating Seris Indians, and to contain hidden treasure and rich mineral deposits. The party was under the leadership of Professor Fayette A. Jones.

The explorers landed at Keno Bay on the mainland, and were visited by twenty Seri men and women, who proved friendly, and who informed them that there was nothing of value on the island.

The expedition crossed to the island, however, and established a permanent camp, and for five weeks prosecuted their explorations, finding no indication of anything of value or of great interest.

The island is 20 miles wide and 25 miles long, and is of volcanic origin. It contains no human beings, but a number of deer and great flocks of wild pigeons. Inscriptions were found proving the visit there in 1905 of a rescue party in search of traces of the Grinnell exploring expedition, which was lost the year before.

THE MIKADO'S TARIFF

Will Be for Revenue Only, a Middle Course Being Adopted.

Tokyo, Dec. 24.—Tariff revision and the new treaties of commerce are now occupying the time and attention of almost the entire Government for the Diet. At the coming session of the Diet statutory rates will be fixed for a number of articles changing to a very considerable extent the present tariff. Some conventional tariff will be left to the treaties, but they will not be the general rule in the drawing of treaties, because it is the intention of Japan henceforth to establish her own tariff without regard to conventions. It is insisted that Japan will not adopt a high protective tariff, but will endeavor to take a middle course of a tariff for revenue only. Incidentally, however, protecting a number of her own interests. At present the tariffs are uneven and in some cases considered unjust.

A FIFTY-YEAR FIRE TO BE EXTINGUISHED

Millions Have Been Spent in an Attempt to Stop Blaze in Mine.

Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—There is a prospect that the fire which has been burning for 50 years in a mine at Summit Hill, Pa., at last will be extinguished. The mine contains one of the most valuable deposits of coal in the anthracite region and millions of dollars have been spent in vain efforts to put out the fire. A Scranton, Pa., construction company which had the contract for extinguishing the fire has completed its work. The company occupied a year in building a concrete wall 15 feet thick. This extended far below the mass of burning coal, and it is thought the work has had the effect of conquering the fire, but this will not be settled positively for some time.

BARONESS KEEPS GIFT OF CHATEAU

Daughters of Late King Leopold Fail to Secure Possession.

Pontoise, France, Dec. 23.—The court today decided in favor of Baroness Vaughan and ordered the removal of the seals which had been placed upon her property at Ballincourt.

Attorneys for the daughters of the late King Leopold had sought to seize the residence given the baroness by their father, and as a first step had placed seals indicating the claim of ownership upon the property.

At the same time the court ordered that the inventory be made of the contents of the chateau, with the exception of the personal effects of the baroness and her children, which the court directs shall be placed immediately at their disposition.

In case the attorneys for the Princess Louise and Baroness Vaughan are unable to agree upon a person to make the inventory, the choice will be made by the court. In any event, the Belgian consul is likely to be present while the account is being taken of the furniture, art treasures and securities.

In addition to the $150,000 paid by the baroness for the chateau, it is estimated that over $200,000 has since been expended in making alterations and an equal amount for furnishings and treasures of art.

NEW AIRSHIP IDEA

Inventor Proposes to Fly by Creating Friction in the Air.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 24.—W. R. Clark, an inventor, living in Spokane, has completed a model of a flying machine, one-sixth of the normal size, containing 552 cubic feet of plane surface, with which he will attempt flight early next month. He believes he has solved the problem of successful aerial navigation by creating friction in the element against which he is contending.

Four propellers are used on the sides and the rear of the machine with two top wheels, giving the same action as the gyroscope. The speed of the side propellers is 1,000 revolutions a minute, while the gyroscope wheels are geared to 2,000 revolutions a minute. There is also a dome to hold the air under pressure and give the ship the readiness mentioned by a descending parachute. The completed machine will be 44 feet from tip to tip and 62 feet from pilot to rudder, the motive power being two 40-horsepower gasoline engines.

KOREAN PREMIER YI MAY NOT RECOVER

Reported To Have Died From Stab Wounds, But Is in a State of Coma.

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 23.—Yi Wan Yung, the Korean premier, who was reported yesterday to have died from the stab wounds inflicted by a would-be assassin, Li Tan Ming, an Americanized Christian Korean, is lying in a state of coma today, with chances favoring his recovery. He is suffering from dangerous knife thrusts in the right lung and abdomen.

Li is still in jail here. He expressed regret today that his attack on the Premier had not proven fatal. Further than to say that Yi's administration was inimical to Korean integrity, he would not explain the motive of his attack.

CONCESSION MADE BY PRUSSIAN CLERGY

Still Oppose Cremation in Country—Remains Have To Be Shipped Across Frontier.

Berlin, Dec. 23.—The only parts of the German Empire where cremation is legal are Saxony and Hamburg. A step forward, if a very short one, has been made toward legalizing it in Prussia.

At present when a person dies in that kingdom leaving instructions that his body shall be cremated the remains are commonly sent to Hamburg or Gotha and there buried in a cemetery where shelves of stone or marble are reserved for them. The process is long and expensive, and for many years an agitation has been going on to alter the law obtaining in Prussia forbidding all forms of disposing of the dead save earth burial.

Hitherto the chief opponent of cremation in Prussia has been the Protestant Church, and twice of late years the general synod has refused to listen to petitions on the subject. This year a concession was made, and though it is only a small one it is hailed as giving hope for the future.

The clergy are to be allowed to officiate in their ecclesiastical robes at the service for the dead usually held over the body before it is dispatched to Hamburg or elsewhere for cremation. Up to this the clergy were permitted to hold such service, but not in their ecclesiastical robes. The general synod is now willing to abolish the restriction on the ground that the sight of a pastor officiating in his ordinary garments may hurt the feelings of the relatives of the deceased.

Methodist Young Men Take Active Part in Toronto's Elections.

Toronto, Dec. 23.—For the first time in the history of the city, an organization of 1,500 active workers will be at work in connection with the municipal elections in the interests of temperance and clean citizenship. At Trinity Methodist Church this evening there was a meeting of the 25 clubs in the Methodist Young Men's Association for the purpose of discussing municipal affairs and drawing up a slate. The association will not pay any attention to the board of education this year.

Controller Hocken's candidacy for the mayoralty was endorsed at the Trinity Church meeting.

A STORM RAGING AROUND LITTLE DOG

The Anti-Vivisection Statute in Old London To Be Removed.

London, Dec. 23.—Storms are again raging about the "Little Brown Dog of Battersea," that effigy which was presented to Battersea, London, England, in 1906 as a protest against vivisection. This time the authorities have recommended that the memorial be returned to the donors on the ground that it involves unnecessary expenditure for police supervision and causes obstruction on what is now a high-way.

The inscription on the effigy, which has led to numerous disturbances by medical students, is as follows:

In memory of the brown terrier dog done to death in the laboratories of University College in February, 1903, after having endured vivisection extending over more than two months and having been handed over from one vivisectioner to another until death came to his release. Also in memory of the 272 dogs vivisected in the same place during the year 1902. Men and women of England, how long shall these things be?

The statue has not only been the most keenly discussed monument in London of recent years, but far and away the most expensive to guard. Early in 1908 the chief commissioner of police wrote to the borough council pointing out that the cost to the police of guarding the statue owing to the students' demonstrations amounted to about $5,500 a year. At this rate the cost to the London ratepayers is something like $10,000. Night and day constables have been on duty and for the convenience of the watching officers.

The first idea of the Battersea authorities was to request that the inscription be changed, but even in that case the statue would still offend some people, so the decision has been made to take away the effigy altogether.

An eminent surgeon in London suggests that wherever the dog may be set up he may be allowed to write the inscription on it, which he says would be as follows:

The dog was submitted under profound anaesthesia to a very slight operation in the interests of science. In two or three days it was healed and remained perfectly sane and free of all pain. Two months later it was again placed under profound anaesthesia for further experiment and was killed under the anaesthetic. It knew nothing of what was being done to it on either occasion.

None of us can count on so easy a death. We doubtless shall suffer pain or distress, both mental and physical.

This dog was free alike from fear and suffering. It died neither of starvation nor of overfeeding, nor of burdens from old age, but of a single shot in its sleep.

UNCLE SAM'S MONSTER

Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—The battleship Utah, the greatest warship ever built in the United States, was launched from the yard of the New York Shipbuilding Company at Camden, N. J., today. The Utah is the fifth of the all-big-gun type of battleship launched for the United States navy. When completed she will be more powerful than the Delaware and North Dakota and remained perfectly sane and free of all pain. Two months later it was again placed under profound anaesthesia for further experiment and was killed under the anaesthetic. It knew nothing of what was being done to it on either occasion.

None of us can count on so easy a death. We doubtless shall suffer pain or distress, both mental and physical.

This dog was free alike from fear and suffering. It died neither of starvation nor of overfeeding, nor of burdens from old age, but of a single shot in its sleep.

The Utah will be fitted for a flagship, and her complement as such will consist of a crew of 1,000, of whom 450 will be officers.
