INNOCENT ONE PROVED PROLIFIC OF CHARGES

William McLean Had Disgusting Pictures and Assaulted Two Persons.

When William McLean appeared in police court this morning he thought he would only have to explain to the magistrate that everybody in London was conspiring against him, and that he would then be allowed to go. But things happened differently. In the first place when William was arrested by P. C. McCullough Tuesday night charged with being drunk, he failed to get rid of three obscene pic tures which he was carrying in ocket, and which the court charcterized as the flithiest and most disgusting pictures he ever saw. In the tion of one month in jail, and on the second place, William's sister, Mrs. tion Tuesday and laid a charge of as- the option of 21 days in jail. Taking ouise Rice, called at the police stasault against him, contending that he a little pity on him towards the last struck her over the face because she the court decided to allow him to go

In the third place another charge assault had been preferred against him by Alfred Moore, who claimed when both shoulders were dislocated, that William had met him on the and he was injured internally. He was night of Aug. 28th, and had torn the neck off his shirt with an umbrella, and had chased him about three blocks Mrs. J. C. Duffield and Mrs. William and used threatening language to him. William pleaded "guilty" to all the harges, put told the court that he may be secured in the London Life struck Moore with the umbrella because he thought the latter was going to shoot him, and that the blow he struck his sister was nothing but a push. He accounted for the obscene pictures by saying that a friend of his gave them to him three nights ago to
