BRITISH TAKE TRENCHES

Paris Reports Capturing Two of the Enemy's Lines.

LONDON, June 20. — An official statement issued by the British war office today says:

"On Friday, north of Hooge, we occupied German trenches on a front of 250 yards, which the enemy had been forced to abandon, owing to our local successes there."

"As a result of the fighting in this neighborhood during the week we captured 212 prisoners, including two officers, and took three machine guns and a full gas cylinder."

"Northeast of Armentières, we exploded several mines last night, and destroyed a portion of the enemy's trenches. Our artillery and rifle fire inflicted casualties on the enemy while trying to escape after the explosion."

"The electric power station at La Basseuse was successfully bombarded yesterday by our airmen."

FRENCH REPORT.

PARIS, June 20. — 1:35 p.m. — The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"In the sector to the north of Arras, as masters of the Fond de Buval, we have delivered an attack towards the east in the direction of Souchez and advanced about one kilometre (two-thirds of a mile)."

"The artillery action continues to be very violent."

"To the west of the Argonne we repelled a violent attack by the enemy and made some prisoners. On the heights of the Meuse, our troops attacked in the sector of the Calonne trench, and carried two of the enemy's lines, making 70 prisoners, of whom two were officers."

"In Lorraine, near Reillon, we captured a central point of enemy resistance and repulsed two counter-attacks.
A third counter-attack temporarily drove us back, but we almost immediately regained the entire position. A fourth counter-attack was arrested by our fire. We made about a hundred prisoners."

"Our offensive in the valley of the Fecht continues to make progress; we have taken additional prisoners."

"The following official statement was issued last night:

we have continued our action, following favorable engagements of the last few days."

"After a spirited struggle, the Fond de Buval, obstinately defended by the enemy since June 9, was completely invested and carried by assault. Thereupon we captured some machine guns and a few prisoners. The resistance of the Germans was very obstinate."

"On the slopes extending to the east of Lorette, in the direction of Souchez, we have carried several trenches and made three hundred prisoners, about ten of whom are officers."

"Beyond Hill 119,
"We hold the slopes of Hill 119, where our troops are maintaining themselves, clinging to the ground beyond the last German trenches, notwithstanding counter-attacks by the enemy. To the south of these slopes, our front has been carried forward to the northeast of the 'Labyrinth.'"

"The enemy by a counter-attack of extreme violence, from our last night one part of the great passageway which we had previously occupied; we regained it during the course of the day, and have repulsed all the attempts of the enemy."

"In the entire sector the artillery engagement continues fiercely. In the outskirts of the forest of Le Pretre, the enemy attempted to attack, but was not able to do so."

"At Embremont, a German battalion captured two of our small posts, but we immediately counter-attacked and although with forces inferior in number, recaptured all of our positions and drove our opponents to the light."

"Advance in Alsace
"In Alsace, our advance continues on the two banks of the Fecht River, in spite of the heavy fog and a torrential rain. We hold the bank of the bank of the Western Fecht the group of hills of Brankopf, Hill 830, Leichwilde and the ridges of Steinbrück and Altenhoff (Althoff)."

"On the right bank of the western branch we have gained the heights of Hilgenfirst, which constitute the outpost of the Little Balon de Guebemil-ler and proceeded on the slopes to the east in the direction of Landers-bach."

"We have bombarded the railway station at Munster and exploded munition depots located there. The A-of the day our troops completely invested Metzeral, which the Germans had set on fire before evacuating it."

"The official statement issued today by the French war office says there is nothing to add to last night's official communication."

"GERMAN REPORT.
BERLIN, June 20 (via London). — The following statement was issued today at German army headquarters:

"North of La Basseuse Canal, and on the front north of Arras we repulsed several partial attacks with sanguinary losses for the enemy."

"In Champagne a French division which attacked after blowing up a trench was shot down by our fire. The French operations against our outposts in the forest of Perroy led to local fighting in which we maintained the upper hand."

"In the Vosges, Munster was heavily shelled by the French. Renewed enemy attacks in the Fecht Valley and south of that point failed."

"An enemy aircraft, one of a squadron which dropped bombs on Isenghem in Flanders without doing damage of military importance, was shot down.
Several others were obliged to return.
Another enemy aircraft was shot down near Vouziers, in Champagne."

that such a step does not appear at all necessary at this time.

Servians Occupy Durazzo;
'President Flees To Italy'

LONDON, June 20. — 6:25 p.m. — A Reuter dispatch from Athens says it is reported there the Servians have occupied Durazzo, Albania. Essad Pasha, provisional president of Albania, and former commander of the Turkish forces at Scutari, is said to have fled to Italy.

Servian troops have been operating in Albania for some time and the Servian War Office has announced the occupation of considerable territory in that state, with Durazzo as their ultimate objective. Italy has not formally declared war against Turkey, which may explain the reported flight of Essad Pasha to Italy.

Persons.

[Canadian Press.]
Chicago, Ill., June 21. — Men whose writings bristle on the advertising pages of the nation's papers, gathered here today from every state in the country and several from abroad to attend the eleventh annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

There were 10,000 delegates here, it was estimated, including a number from Canadian cities. Mr. Roster, president of the Ad Clubs of Sydney, Australia, was among the foreign delegates.

The convention will continue over Friday. Chief among the meetings today was a reception for William Woodhead of San Francisco, president of the association, reports of officers, and addresses of welcome.

Tonight there will be a monster advertising pageant in which 8,000 persons are expected to march.

The delegations were to be arrayed in miniature menageries among them as mascots. The Texas delegation of 250 brought a crocodile, led by a silver chain. The California delegation had a small, brown bear as a mascot.

Rev. Frank H. Rowe of Toronto is one of the delegates.

that greater watchfulness would be maintained in the future to prevent similar escapes.

GERMAN MOVING AT
LEMBERG GATES

Kaiser in Charge of Campaign and Crisis Is Near.

BRITAIN STILL CONFIDENT

Believes Grand Duke Will Emulate Joffre's Example of Autumn.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, June 20. — 10:36 p.m. — After seven weeks of battering across Galicia, during which the Russians have been thrown back more than 150 miles, the Austro-Germans are today as close to Lemberg as were the Germans to Paris after their first dash across France last fall.

Never, perhaps, since before the battle of the Marne, have the Teutonic allies appeared so confident of success. Having failed in their original plan of Russia, they have reversed the order of their strategy and now, judging by the expenditure of life and ammunition in Galicia, they have planned their whole faith to so paralyzing the Russian army as to permit the throwing of a tremendous weight of men and metal into the western theatre, there either to break through the Franco-British line or force an interminable period of sanguinary warfare.

Kaiser in Charge.

A dispatch from Copenhagen tonight says that the German Emperor himself has taken supreme command of the Galician campaign, establishing his headquarters in Silesia as near to the front as practicable.

Meanwhile, the German official communication records the further progress of the Austro-German forces toward Lemberg, both to the north and south of the city. It claims, as well, that the Russians have been cleared from parts of the Dniester to the south.

The great question England and her allies are asking is whether Grand Duke Nicholas, commanding the Russian forces, can successfully emulate Joffre's tactics of last fall and check the Austro-Germans at the gates of Lemberg.

Optimists point out that the Grand Duke checked them almost at the gates of Warsaw, just as Gen. Joffre stopped them before Paris, and Field Marshal Sir John French stopped them before Ypres, Dunkirk and Calais.

Russians Are Prepared.

It is argued, further, that even should Lemberg fall, the Russians can drop back to equally formidable positions, utilizing the rivers and swamps and other advantages of the terrain, and it is the British contention that they could thus hold out for months, England and France, in the meantime, sending their aid in men and munitions, if necessary.

Whether Russia has sufficient ammunition to sustain the present strain is a question which cannot be answered in England, although the London papers say frankly that the shortage is acute.

One of the Sunday papers characterizes the situation in Galicia as "Russia's supreme emergency" and public interest is centred in that theatre, notwithstanding the hard fighting in progress along the western front. The sound of guns is audible at Lemberg and possibly one of the most interesting phases of the great war.

For two years she has been a pupil at Somerset House School, at East Cliff, Ramsgate. She has seen Zeppelins drop their flaming bombs with deadly effect, and has seen the futile efforts of the land sea anti-aircraft guns, to bring them down.

"My," she gasped, "it was exciting.
We were chased out of bed almost every night by bells and sirens. It was the only exciting thing I did there in the whole two years. I'm mighty glad to get home though, for now I can sleep a whole night through without expecting a bell."

In Heart of Excitement.

Many of the Zeppelins, flying over the different sections of England cross in the vicinity of Ramsgate, and for that reason there are many alarms sounded, and the land and sea batteries eagerly on the grey, long, envelopes of gas that whirl so gently through the air. Hundreds of tongues of light from the batteries of the harbour and the towers on land split the night, and from all the heights there roar angry guns. And from above, speeding away from the aeroplane which make after them, the Zeppelins answer with their flaming bombs.

It was on May 17 that Miss Reis had her greatest and most exciting experience, after which she and the other girls refused to go to bed, until daybreak.

Saw Three at Once.

"It was 2 o'clock in the morning," she said, "when, my gracious, what a racket! Our bell just rang and rang, and all the sirens blew, and the teachers and maids called to us to get up quickly. Our clothes were arranged neatly for experience, and we dressed quickly and then went in to help the little children. You know that school is for girls from 1 to 50 years. Some of the other girls and I went to the window and got behind curtains and peeked out. We saw up in the sky three Zeppelins going along, with those bobbing cradles underneath, and from all of them were coming great streams of bombs. After they left the Zeppelins a little ways they burst into flames and lit up everything around them. We were all so excited that we couldn't sleep. Finally, at 4 o'clock, more sirens blew to assure everybody that everything was all over, and we were told to go back to bed. The little girls went, but I just couldn't, and some of us talked till morning."

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
CURED HIM

Mr. R. J. Swales, Harrison, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer with eczema, I tried all kinds of salves, but they did me no good. Sometimes I would nearly yell with the pain, and would pass little white worms. I was sick to get at the blood. I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it has made a complete cure." all skin diseases, such as eczema or salt rheum, itching or burning rashes, boils, pimples, eruptions, ulcers, etc., are all caused by the blood becoming impure, and that American Consul-General Shandling, at Vera Cruz, had arranged to send several carloads of Burdock Blood Bitters, which had been shipped to him by the Red Cross.

The Red Cross announced that it would immediately ship three carloads of Burdock Blood Bitters to Mexico.

assistance was given.

RUSSIAN COMPOSER

the music composer and formerly direcpupil of Rubinstein and Tschalkowsky.

In 1885 Taneyeff composed the three-act opera, Orestes.

Home Dressmaking Easy
With Adjustable Dress Form

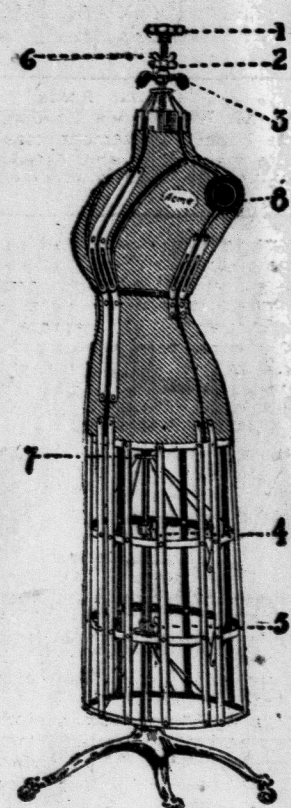

You owe it to yourself, if you do home dressmaking to any extent, to use an adjustable form, which is more necessary to the home dressmaker who is well gown than is her mirror. Much of the "style" and "swagger hang" of the high-class woman's ready-to-wear garments is due to the fact that they have been tailored and fitted over one of these adjustable forms. You may produce just such "swagger" effects at less cost with your own home dressmaking by using a stylish standard pattern and fitting your garment over one of these adjustable forms.

One Form Adjusts To Fit Every Woman in the Family

The adjustable form is the most economical, as the one form being adjustable may be reduced or increased in size to any proportion to suit every woman in the family. Even with dressmakers, a great deal of fitting and trying on is necessary, which is tiresome to anyone, while at home you may sit down while doing your own fitting on one of these forms; also for trimming, making over or repairing a dress, with a form you can readily get at every part of it and observe the effect as you proceed and avoid much ripping and doing over.

HUGE WAVE DRAGS
SEVEN SEA BATHERS
TO A QUICK DEATH

Strong Undercurrent Carries Them Far From Beach—Many Heroic Rescues.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 20. — Buffeted by a huge wave and carried into deep water by a treacherous undertow, seven bathers, including prominent members of the Philadelphia summer colony, were drowned in the surf here today. Scores of others were dragged to the beach in an unconscious condition after life guards and other bathers had battled desperately to save their lives.

One man was drowned when he slipped under a wave and was torn to pieces by the undertow. The bathers were about to come ashore at Mississippi avenue, and a score of fishermen thronged into the water.

The dead are: Miss Marion Rhodes Craemer, 18, a student at Beechwood College, Jenkintown, Pa.; John Lysle, 25, a prominent member of the Junior bar, of Philadelphia; Philip Arnold, 18; Frank Brigham, 16; Charles J. Matlack, 28; James McKay, William Crowe, all of Philadelphia. Charles Green, the fisherman who lost his life, resided here.

Life guards say a storm caused an offset or gully between a sandbar 100 yards out and the beach. The offset extended the entire length of the beach, and with the development of the strong undertow, the bathers were swept into water of unexpected depth. Many heroic rescues were made by members of the beach patrol and by volunteers, and several persons gave up their lives in efforts to save others.

Crowned Attempting Rescue.

Arnold Crowe, McKay and Matlack plunged into the surf to assist Walter Marguerum, one of the guards, who had been knocked unconscious by a buoy.
All of the would-be rescuers were drowned, while Marguerum was saved by another guard, John Lysle, who saw to it that the buoy was not heard Miss Crowe's call for help.

He immediately went to her assistance, but was carried away by the tide.
Earl Collins of this city succeeded in reaching the drowning girl, but she was pulled away from him and sank.

Collins, however, then caught his way to another girl, who was caught when he heard Miss Crowe's call for help.
Young Brigham was drowned while his brother-in-law, Dr. John Coulter, was trying to bring him ashore. The physician stumbled unconscious into shallow water with the girl clinging to his neck. Brigham was swept away before the rescuers could reach him, and Dr. Coulter was barely alive. The latter was later revived.

THINKS ROSS RIFLE
THE BEST IN USE

Wounded Soldier Says It Has Stood the Test in the Trenches.

OTTAWA, June 20. — That the Ross rifle used by the Canadian troops at the front is the best in the western war theatre, is the opinion of Captain S. J.
Huggins of the 4th Battalion, who was wounded at St. Julien, Captain Huggins, who is one of the best known Canadian riflemen, and a British army veteran, although he is now in the thigh, and returned home today to recuperate. Before leaving for the front he was a strong advocate of arming the Canadians with the Lee-Enfield, such as the British army uses and the Princes Patricia were armed with.

"I was opposed to the Ross rifle before I left Canada," he stated tonight.
"I thought that it would not stand the hard usage, but I know differently now.
In the trenches we found it a wonderful shooter. It was said that in the mud the sights would be clogged and we could not use them. We used them for days in the trenches with mud up to our knees and the sights were all right."

FIVE SHELLS FELL
IN RHEIMS CATHEDRAL

PARIS, June 20. — Albert Dalimier, under secretary of fine arts, has returned from Rheims, where he went to see what further damage had been done to the cathedral by recent German bombardments.

"Five shells fell in the cathedral on Thursday, causing additional destruction," he said, in discussing his inspection. "Measures of protection naturally are restricted. Sand-bags
