

THE TORONTO WORLD.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1884.

ALL SORTS.

What's in a name? A great deal, my son. Sheephead is the favorite resort of silly swells.

A boarding-house without hash would be as incongruous as a haunted house minus a mystery.

A Toronto husband whipped his wife merely for washing potatoes in his Sunday-go-to-meeting plug hat. He might have hung her if she had braided the hat the wrong way.

A woman has been sued for $5000 for attempting to kill an ancient maiden in Massachusetts. If he had succeeded she would doubtless have paid him double that amount to do so some more.

Received at last.
W. H. Crocker, druggist of Waterdown, says when all other remedies fail for Bowel Complaints, then Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue.

Their First Quarrel.
Mr. Blank—You are a regular Lulu Hart.

Mrs. Blank—And pray who is she?

Mr. Blank—The magnetic girl. You possess the two great qualities of magnetism.

Mrs. Blank—Indeed.

Mr. Blank—Yes; when determined to go to the beach in a fashionable bathing suit, you are decidedly positive.

Mrs. Blank—Indeed.

Mr. Blank—And, what, in spite of me, you wear it, you are decidedly me.

Ho-ho! Words.

Mr. McArthur, of Hopetown, Ont., says she is a regular lulu without Hayes's Pectoral Balsam to cure prevailing throat and lung trouble.

Antiques & Curiosities.

A Jewish chronicler, writing in 1740 of English burial customs, says: "The English have several customs which, in my opinion, are as fanatical as any that are observed among other nations. In this country the breath is no sooner out of the body than they fall a-striking the body of everything made of linen. A Mohammedan is not more careful of washing a dead body, a Jew is not more exact in purifying it, an antipapist is not more superstitious in his superstitions than the English are in wrapping up in a shroud shroud. There are great numbers of these grave-clothes ready made, and many go home living by selling them." This is an expressive law of the power of the mind over a dead body that is not woolen. It so much as a thread of flax or hemp is employed in sewing a shroud! It is a crime against the state. However, as far as I can understand, this is an old custom. When I used to understand this reason I was from condemning the English. The intention of their law which forbids burying a linen is to increase the expense of woolen goods, and so, I suppose, that kind of indifference. Monarchs have the following reflection on this law: "Nothing, sure, can show a greater concern for trade than to make the very dead interest themselves in it."

Precidited People.

Many people are prejudiced against patent medicines but all who try Burdock Balsam are compelled to acknowledge it is a patent as valuable as gold.

How to make your money go a long way. Inclose it in a letter to San Francisco.

The banana skin, though crushed to earth has the power to take somebody with it.

Foolish Old Young.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy for Cholera, Colic, Diarrhoea and Dysentery. No person is safe without it.

They used to say "cray as a bedbug," but I revised version has it, "cray as a bedbug."

"I'll give you a tip on that, old thugman when he drove his cart on the hay-scales."

A search warrant.

If there is any lurking taint of scrofula in the system, Burdock Balsam are warranted to search it out.

The reason why "Nimrod" Washington Compound should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, it is perfectly harmless. Second, it saves more than half the labor. Third, it is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers, Lowden & Co., Wholesale Agents for Toronto.

The best and most improved sewing machine—the "Wanzer."

DEATH.

There is no rival for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is the acknowledged champion for the cure of all Summer Complaints.
