Woman's Hair

Here's a Preparation That Makes Hair Fascinating

PARISIAN SAGE is the ideal hair tonic and beautifier of the present time. It is compounded on the most advanced scientific principles, and nothing on the market to-day can compare with it. It accomplishes so much more than the ordinary tonics, and does it so quickly that users are astonished.

PARISIAN SAGE kills the dandruff germs and eradicates dandruff in two weeks, or money back.

PARISIAN SAGE stops falling hair; itching of the scalp and splitting hairs, or money back.

Since its introduction into America it has become a prime favorite with women of refinement.

PARISIAN SAGE gives a fascinating lustre to woman's hair and makes it beautiful. It makes the hair grow luxuriantly; it is the daintiest and most refreshing hair dressing science has produced, and has not a particle of grease or stickiness in it.

A large bottle of PARISIAN SAGE costs but 50 cents at T. B. Taylor & Son, and dealers everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

They Generally Are.

"What makes you so happy to-day, Binks?"

"Got a good one on my wife. You know, she's always been holding you up to me as the model husband."

"Flatterer, I'm—"

"Wait a minute. I looked up the word 'model' in the dictionary and found it means 'a small imitation of the genuine article.'"

If your children moan and are restless during sleep, coupled, when awake, with a loss of appetite, pale countenance, picking of the nose, etc., you may depend upon it that the primary cause of the trouble is worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator effectually removes these pests, at once relieving the little sufferers.

Boarder—Say, this bacon is downright bad!

Landlady—That's queer. The butcher said it was only recently cured.

Boarder—Well, it must have had a relapse.

Perhaps the reason that no man has ever raised an objection to the 'promises' in the marriage service is that before marriage he never thinks of them; at the altar he is too frightened to hear them; and afterward he doesn't remember them.

GOULD NOT RAISE MY RIGHT ARM

OLD BRIDGEPORT, C. B.

"For the past 41 years, I have been suffering with Rheumatism. When I read in the papers that GIN PILLS would positively cure rheumatism, I wrote you for a free sample to try. I could not raise my right arm because of the awful pain in my shoulder—was not able to drink. After taking a few GIN PILLS, I was able to lift my hand and put it on the top of my head."

"That man Mehitable married has a lot of foresight," said Farmer Corn-tassel.

"He looked kind of worried and scared at the weddin'," replied his wife.

"That's what makes me think he has foresight!"—Washington Star.

I went to the Islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon and met an old fisherman named La Pape. His limbs were stiff from Rheumatism and I gave him some Gin Pills. I met him again in a few days and he told me he could lift his arms, which he had not been able to do for ten years. ADOLPHE R. MAHE, soc. a box—6 for $2.50—money back if not satisfied. Walt Mason on Baseball.

The baseball season will soon open and joys for which we've long been gropin' will be our own once more; if we have cares we soon will lose 'em; the good old game will soothe each bosom, and heal the head that's sore. When we assemble on the bleachers we'll soon forget the tire-some creatures who fuss in politics; forget their ranting and their posing, the schemes and plots that they're disclosing, forget their Cheap John tricks. The grand old game must be suspended each year until the winter's ended, and, while it's off the map, we all get sour and cross and rusty, and fill the air with language gusty, and stand around and scrap. Then idle things gain our attention, pipe-dreams too numerous to mention; and we are in a trance; we think, to better our condition, that we must boost some politician to pomp and circumstance. But all such things go callyhooting when once we hear the umpire shooting his larynx at the mob; then grief and worry are forgotten, and politics seem stale and rotten, and care must jump its job.

The First Society of Authors.

A society for the protection of authors was founded as long ago as 1785. Authors themselves were not members of the society, which was instituted for their benefit by noblemen and gentlemen, who subscribed 2 guineas annually in addition to an entrance fee of 10 guineas.

Their purpose, as defined by themselves, was "to assist authors in the publication and to secure to them the entire profits of their own works"—that is to say, they published books, but took no fees for doing so. They were amateurs, however, engaged in trade in competition with professionals, and their enterprise was unsuccessful. The society was wound up in 1749, and the balance in hand ($20 12s.) was presented to the Foundling hospital—London Author.

"I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives, and to see him live so that his place will be proud of him."

She: "And how is your bachelor friend?"

He: "When I saw him last he was mending very slowly."

She: "Indeed! I didn't know he'd been ill."

He: "He hasn't been—he was sewing fresh buttons on his underwear."

The moving picture business, scarcely 17 years of age, is one of the commercial prodigies of the century. Despite its youth it is estimated that over $25,000,000 is invested in the business and 75,000 persons employed in this continent alone. Twenty million nickels a day is a conservative estimate of the public's contribution to its upkeep.

In this country where fatal railroad accidents are a matter of almost daily happenings, it is a remarkable contrast that is presented by the official board as to fatal accidents on British railroads. During the past year there were but three accidents to British trains attended with loss of life, the total number of fatalities being but fourteen. For the seven years preceding, the average of killed in railroad accidents was but 23.
