The garage owned by John McFarlane Jr., Camlachie, was completely destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon. The wind blew the blaze over and threatened to fire Dr. Brown's residence and office but a bucket brigade soon formed and saved the building.

Two damage actions have been entered against the Dominion Tobacco Company, the Foster Tobacco Company, Limited, W. C. Macdonald, registered, and George Jaspersion, for more than $30,000 by seventy-five tobacco growers of Essex and Kent. The case will probably be heard at the sittings of the Supreme Court at Chatham in November. The growers allege that the defendants some or one, refused to accept tobacco in the fall of 1919, for which they are alleged to have contracted.

The fine barns of J. Wesley McFadden, near Tupperville, containing the entire season's crop and farm implements, and a large hog pen adjoining, were destroyed by fire last Wednesday evening. Mr. McFadden was doing chores and was in the act of driving a cow into the building when he noticed the blaze. He had left the building a few moments before, and it is thought the lantern hanging in the building exploded. Mr. McFadden, who is deputy reeve of Chatham township, succeeded in saving all the livestock quartered in the building.

All similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy as there is nothing like it to be had. It's cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price. m

Dr. MacMurchy was called and it was deemed advisable to take Mr. McLarty to the hospital at Chatham, and he passed away while being taken there.

Gordon Brown, Amherstburg, was relieved of nearly $100 in bills late Sunday night. He retired about a quarter after eleven and it was after this that the thief entered his room while he was asleep and stole the money from his pants pocket. After discovering his loss Monday morning he found that a window screen had been removed downstairs and it is supposed that the thief entered the house by this means. This is the third theft within two weeks by sneak thieves entering private houses in two cases and in the other a business place.

Orville Jamieson, 6th con., Bosanquet, met with a heavy loss Tuesday when his two barns, hen house and pig pen were all destroyed by fire, with 1,400 bushels of grain and 30 tons of hay, besides straw and other provisions. The farm implements were mostly all saved. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Jamieson was preparing to go to a neighbor's after dinner, and on opening the barn door discovered the end of the building in flames, which spread so rapidly that nothing could be done to quench them. An insurance amounting to $1,700 is held in the East Lambton Farmers' Insurance Co.

John Kearns, a well-known farmer and stockman of Euphemia township died suddenly Monday morning of heart failure. Apparently the deceased had always enjoyed the best of health, and that he ever suffered from this ailment came as a surprise to many who knew him well. Mr. Kearns retired on Sunday evening apparently in his usual good health. About 2 a.m. his son, Vincent, hearing a call, hurried to his father and found him dying. Deceased was in his 63rd year.

Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the barn of Albert Trowbridge, a prosperous farmer residing on the 10th line of Enniskillen. The fire was first noticed by neighbors about two o'clock Monday morning but on account of the strong wind which fanned the flames, it was impossible to check them, and the barn was completely demolished. The contents of the barn were destroyed, including 15 tons of hay, 600 bushels of oats, 100 bushels wheat, as well as his complete stock of poultry. Fortunately no animals were in the barn at the time. Mr. Trowbridge is at a loss to understand the cause of the fire. The damage totaled around $5,000. It was partially covered by insurance.

Saturday morning fire completely destroyed Norman Bristow's tobacco barn on the Wm. Mills farm, near Essex, together with seventeen kilns of the finest quality leaf which had been cut and cured before the frost. Though Mr. Bristow carried considerable insurance his loss will be heavy. The fire started in a house adjoining the barn, occupied by a Belgian family, and once it caught flamed up like tinder, the fierce flames licking up the leaf like chaff. There were no means of fighting a fire of this kind and it was impossible to save anything. Seventeen kilns of tobacco represents about 8 1/2 tons and Mr. Bristow's loss can easily be figured, as leaf in this stage of curing is worth at least 50 cents a pound. This adds another to the growing list of tobacco barns burned in South Essex this season.

David Neely, R.R. 1, Camlachie, aged 12, was seriously injured in a runaway accident which occurred in Sarnia on Saturday at noon. He is in the Sarnia General Hospital and his attending physician stated that he would recover. The youth in company with his mother and younger sister was riding in a buggy when that vehicle was bumped by a coupe automobile. This impact frightened the horse and, getting beyond the control of the driver it galloped down Milton street. Near the corner of Kathleen avenue the buggy collided with the curb and the occupants were thrown out. The boy alighted on his head and as soon as the serious nature of his injuries was learned he was rushed to the hospital. An examination revealed that he had suffered injuries to the brain but these are not expected to prove fatal. His mother and sister escaped with minor injuries.

This was all saved but the implements together with all the season's crop were destroyed. As it was seen the barns could not be saved attention was turned to the house which was only a few rods away. The loss is only partly covered by insurance.

JOHN BROWN

One of Lambton's oldest, most widely known and highly respected pioneers, John Brown, passed away on Thursday morning, Oct. 18th, at the advanced age of 85 years. The deceased who was born in Dalhousie, county of Lanark, moved to Lambton in 1854. In 1880 he settled on the 2nd concession of Moore, at that time a primeval forest, where he resided continuously up to the time of his death. His partner in life, Nancy Maitland passed on before four years ago. Mr. Brown was one of a family of twelve, two of whom survive him, George of Brook street Sarnia, and Mrs. Blain of Nebraska. He is survived by his four sons, Rev. John Rex Brown of Calgary; James of Sault Ste Marie; and Ned and David, 2nd line Moore. The funeral obsequies which were largely attended took place on Saturday afternoon and were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Hagelstein and the Rev. Mr. McEachern of Point Edward, a former pastor. The pallbearers were George Armstrong, Wm. Clubb, Jno. McKenzie, Peter Rattray, David McDonald and David Gray. Mr. McEachern based his address on John 11:25 "I am the resurrection and the life," which words the speaker said, had been assigned him by the deceased as his funeral sermon text some six years ago. There were few men in Lambton, said the speaker, who enjoyed in as large a measure the confidence, esteem and regard of their fellow citizens as did Mr. Brown. The very soul of rectitude and honor, unassuming and courteous in manner, he was beloved by all who came within the charmed circle of his friendship. His sterling integrity, shrewd sagacity and blamelessness of life rendered him a tower of strength to every worthy cause. He was the founder, foster father, of the Plum Creek Presbyterian congregation of which he has been since its inception a beloved elder and a worthy example to the flock in faith and practice. It might be said of John Brown, that rich was all the treasures of spiritual knowledge and experiences—the growth and accumulation of a whole life time of discipline—came to his last hour like the mellow fruit that gathers into itself all the life of the tree, and all the dew and sunshine of the summer and at last bends and breaks the branch from which it hangs, verily "the actions of the just smell sweet and blossom in the dust."
