Media Accreditation

Accreditation is open to representatives of bone fide news-gathering organizations and freelance media representatives on assignment for recognized news organizations. A letter of assignment is required for all media representatives wishing to be accredited for the North American Leaders' Summit.

All media representatives seeking accreditation to the Summit must complete a Media Accreditation Form (<http://www.international.gc.ca/montebello2007/form.pdf>) and send it with a passport-size photograph and the letter of assignment to the address indicated below as soon as possible before August 13, 2007.

Late applications may result in delay or denial of accreditation to the Summit. Only those persons whose applications are refused will be notified.

Summit credentials will be distributed upon presentation of appropriate identification at 9:00 a.m., August 17, from the Summit Accreditation Office in Whitton Hall on the second floor of the Old Ottawa City Hall.
