AT HOME.

And while the poor young frightened wife was nervously walking up and down the hall above, and wondering and fearing how she should meet her father, Judge Burnham gathered his boy into his arms, and said between the kisses, in a voice which quivered with feeling, —

"Yes, my boy, at last she has brought your papa home!"

ore time, ate.' It ow often would be n living, me time us have coming 1 by the on busilden; he nd when d that I tell the ermined y story; urred to the surnow, to ake you l. Your get how What a rskine's to them the grat-Did you the was