Londou, Feb. 27.—Money was in strong de mand in the market to-day for the month end requirements, but the distribution of dividends prevented dearer rates. Discounts dividends prevented dearer rates. Discounts were steady. Trading on the stock exchange was slightly more active and the undertone was decidedly firmer. The improvement was led by consols, which received better attention from speculators as well as investors. Foreigners and Kaffirs were steady. Japanese imperial sixes of 1904 closed at 103. Americans were crered by the rally in New York. They opened firm, and went up to over parity in the forenoon, under the lead of Union Pacific and Canadana Pacific. Later New York bought well and the market advanced, but selling started just before the close and Droved on rumors that the proposed conversion scheme will offer 5 per cent. interest. FAMOUS VIOLINIST HERE.

mg. Mr. Hartmann is known to students of the violin all over the world for his researches on the great composer, Bach. On Friday evening he plays the famous Bach "Chaconne," which he has made a special study, and especially on account of which he made a special study of the Bach manuscripts, access to which he obtained, thru private influence, in the libraries in Berlin, where the original manuscripts are kept, and after comparison of the various parts with the published editions he examinged, he found that the two principal editions of Bach's works had committed the unpardonable arrogance and impertance of changing the original Bach. Mr. Hartmann said yesterday: "I also discovered that for many years past virtuosi had been interpreting Bach from the wrong standpoint, for the reason that to thoroly understand Bach, one would have to be absolutely familiar with his musical ornamentation.
