FOOTBALL.

U. N. B. vs. Mt. A.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 3.—The team which is to be sent into the Maritime inter-collegiate Rugby League game at St. John's field here tomorrow by the U. N. B. against Mt. Allison will, it was said today, not include Captain H. H. "Rimble" and others who have been on the hospital list. If this proves true, U. N. B. will not present as strong an array of first string players against Mt. Allison as the team which played a tie game with Acadia at Wolfville, as his- tory, one of the regular forwards who had been worrying along with a cracked rib, had it fractured in the exhibition game with King's College at Windsor. The U. N. B. team for tomorrow's game will not be finally chosen until this evening. The outlook this morning was said to be that Leo Cain was likely to be the only one of the Red and Black "triplets" to play. The change in the weather makes for ideal Rugby conditions.

Deaths of Injuries.
Newport, R. I., Nov. 3.—Injuries received in a football game yesterday caused the death of Frank Nadeau, of Lowell, Mass., a first class fireman on the battleship North Dakota.

Merle Porter Injured.
Halifax (Echo).
Merle Porter, star half back of the house senior team, is out of the game for the rest of the season with a fractured rib. Porter sustained this injury in the game with the Crescents last Saturday, yet, despite this fact, played with the Collegians against Kings on Monday, and showed up as one of the best men of the field. He came to Dal this year from Acadia with the reputation of being a fast runner and hard tackler, and lived up to his advance notices, while with the Tigers being one of the most effective of their backs. He played wing half and as a consequence did not have the same number of chances to distinguish himself as others who handle the ball more often, but when he did get his hand on it he went

AWARDED $4,000 DAMAGES.

(Halifax Recorder.)

The case of Mrs. Myers versus the Tram Company was finished yesterday evening before Judge Melish and a jury, with W. O. Cameron as foreman.

In this case the plaintiff was awarded $3,000 damages by a jury at a former trial, but the defendant appealed and a new trial was ordered.

Yesterday the jury found that the company was negligent by starting the car before all the passengers who wished had alighted, and they found that the defendant had not been guilty of contributory negligence.

The plaintiff was awarded $4,000 damages, as the jury found she had been permanently injured.

Reference was made to other provinces spending large amounts to attract the tourist, and a resolution was unanimously passed placing the council of the Board of Trade on record as being anxious to encourage any well-considered effort which may be made to increase the present volume of motor travel from New England to this province, and would respectfully suggest that the provincial government take the matter of such encouragement under consideration at the very earliest opportunity.

A committee was named, composed of A. H. Whitman, F. A. Gilles and F. E. Elliot, representing the council, who will add to their number, for the purpose of bringing the matter to the attention of the local government.
