

NEW MOVIE ON IN FILM BUSINESS

Saint John May Be Birthplace of Industry of British Scope

Vital Films, Inc. Manager in City—Will Make Trip to England

That Saint John may be the birthplace of a film industry of British scope and proportions is the suggestion contained in the organization of Vital Films Inc. in process of establishment for the last month or so in this city, Toronto and New York.

Accordingly President Romney and General Manager George A. Balston of New York will leave for London, Eng., in January to complete the business connection over there.

England is now following the example of France and Germany in adopting what is known as the quota system of moving picture shows.

Therefore Vital Films Inc. expects to meet this new regulation by putting into circulation both English and American pictures in the proper proportions and have British financiers in their corporation.
