MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Word has been received in Bridgetown, N. S., of the death in an automobile accident of Roy Marshall. The accident occurred near Boston. Four years ago his brother was killed while jumping from a moving train on the D. A. R. at Bridgetown.

As a result of a flood early Saturday morning in the district surrounding San Antonio, Texas, the dead and missing are estimated at approximately 250. The property loss is estimated at about $5-000,000. The business section of the province was flooded for many blocks to a depth of from ten to fifteen feet.

Two hundred thousand feet of lumber were destroyed by fire at Queensdown near Cape Town, N. B., on Saturday morning. The lumber was owned by Fred Cameron of Pleasantville and the Alexander Watson Co., Ltd., of St. John, both of whom were well insured against loss.

The store of the Sussex Mercantile Company at Sussex was entered on Friday night and goods to the value of thousands were carried off. Entrance was obtained by sawing iron bars covering a cellar window. Ladies coats, men's suits, boots and shoes and furs were the principal things taken. The cash was not touched. This is the second store in Sussex to be entered within a fortnight.

About seven hundred disabled war veterans were entertained at a luncheon at Unity Camp, Rhode Island, yesterday. The guests of honor were Earl and Lady Ashburham of Fredericton. The latter was in charge of the Canadian Red Cross during the war. She addressed the men briefly. A great ovation was given the guests by the men.

STEAL TO BUY CANDY.

200-Pound Boy, 15 Years Old, Says He Eats $2 Worth a Day.

Justice Robert J. Wilkin in the children's court, Brooklyn, last week sent Joseph R. White, Jr., fifteen years old, of 186 Bergen street, to the Berkshire Industrial Farms at Canaan, N. Y., on the complaint of his father. The boy has a craving for candy and he has resorted to stealing to obtain this luxury.

Probation Officer Boyd told the court that the boy said he ate $2 worth of candy a day and that he had to steal to obtain funds to supply him with those sweets. The boy weighs 201 pounds.

JITNEY AND STREET CAR.
To the Editor of The Times: Sir,—The mayor says as soon as the snow comes the jitney will be out of business. I think his memory must be failing him. If he will look back no farther than the year 1919 he will remember that the car on the Glen Falls was tied up for two months by ice and a Ford jitney was placed on route by the Power Co. and maintained a good schedule. I think the public will agree with me when I say he cars were always tied up in snow storms. I as a motorman say that three inches of snow will tie up the street cars. What will it be with one-man operation, where the cars have to be continually backing up and the conductor when he is not looking after the trolley? sweeping the rails to enable to car to proceed?
We are in a position to know that with the present jitney we can maintain a schedule when the one-man car is stuck in the snow. We do not ask the common council to enact laws to put the Power Co. out of business. All we ask is the right as citizens to the use of the streets, and that too much of the streets will not be reserved for the exclusive use of the N. B. Power Co. Is it fair that the citizens who patronize the jitney have to alight beyond the crossing simply because the common council has reserved that portion of the streets fifty feet in every direction from a white pole for the street railway?

Who was this law enacted for, the public or the power company?
Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I remain, JOHN WILLIAMSON.

OLD LADY BEATS TRAIN OVER LEVEL CROSSING
Chatham, Sept. 12.—Passengers on the C. F. R. east bound train No. 20 received a slight shock when the brakes were suddenly applied as the train was approaching the station. The cause was an old lady who attempted to beat the train across the Wellington street level crossing. The track curves slightly at this point, and when the driver of engine 2222 saw the old lady he applied the brakes. When the train passed the old lady was seen to arise off her hands and knees, and after brushing her clothes with her hands, resumed her somewhat interrupted journey.
