During the past year the Society has enrolled a steadily increasing number of members. The eight regular meetings have been well attended, and a corresponding increase in the interest taken in its work and objects was noticeable.

The room hitherto kindly placed at the disposal of the Society by the council of the Canadian Institute becoming too small to accommodate the attendance, the President and Secretary waited upon the Honorable Dr. Ross, Minister of Education, and through his kindness obtained the use of the examiners' room in the Educational Building. The wall space being otherwise occupied, and the increasing membership, will, however, necessitate the procuring of a larger room in the near future.

Eight regular meetings have been held, at which the following paper have been read: "King William's War, 1689-1697," by the Secretary. "Quebec in 1775," by Mrs. S. G. Wood. "War of the Spanish Succession, or Queen Anne's War, 1702-1713," by Mrs. Forsyth Grant. "Brebœuf's Wanderings," by Lady Edgar. "War of the Austrian Succession, or King George's War," by Miss Ada McKellar. "Wayside Records," or Notes gathered from U. E. Loyalists' Tombstones and their History, by Miss Sara Mickle. "The Conflict in the Ohio Valley," by Miss Grant Macdonald. "Some Archives," by Mrs. H. W. Harrison (Seranus). This paper was read by special request, it having been prepared and read by her at the meeting of
