The Lumber Market is Firm Though Receipts Are Larger - The Fish Trade-Deaths of Provincialists.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

BOSTON, May 21.-The British and Canadian Societies of Boston, Worcester. Manchester and other places, have made arrangements to observe the Queen's birthday on Wednesday next. The Canadian Association of Manchester, N. H., has arranged an elaborate banquet at which Mayor Clarke will be the principal speaker. There are more natives of Canada in Manchester than Americans.

The country needs rain and needs it badly. The weather has been cold and damp for four or five days, but the amount of rain fall has been light. The farmers are the worst sufferest from the dry weather, the mills having had all the water needed for the present, due to the heavy snow fall last year in the northern part of New England. The growth of oats has been checked by lack of rain and feed grass is beginning to feel the effect of the drough. The crop in this state promises to be short. Fruit trees are doing well, according to the report of the government bureau here. Secretary McKean of the Maine board of agriculture says that the condition of the grass fields is generally very good. Clover has wintered well in most sections of Maine. Hay is selling in that state at $7 a ton, nearly $2 lower than last year. Potatoes are worth 74 cents a bushel, four cents higher than in 1898.

Medical Examiner Oraper, who held an autopsy on the body of Edwin Adams of Digby, who died suddenly on the Yarmouth steamer Boston here after the immigration officials had refused to permit him to go to a hospital, reports that death was caused by rneumonia, complicated with organic diseases of the heart and kidneys. It is not probable that anything more will be done about the case.

The following from the maritime provinces were in the city recently: O. H. Warwick, St. John; R. L. Bradley, W. B. Ross and Mrs. Ross, Miss Mackay, Halifax; A. Lovitt, Edgar M. Clements, Yarmouth.

There is no truth in the report that the Plant line, Yarmouth and D. A. R. companies are to be consolidated. About everything in the country has been or is being consolidated, but there is no likelihood of the provincial steamship lines joining forces. It is admitted, however, that an agreement on rates for the summer will be announced soon.

The following deaths of former provincialists in Boston and vicinity are announced: In Dorchester, May 14, Mrs. Ella F., wife of Frank W. Armstrong, aged 32 years, formerly of St. John; in Somerville, May 12, Mrs. Elsie A. Watson, widow of James C. Watson of Fredericton; in this city, May 14, Mrs. Mary A. O'Connor, wife of Thomas L. Halifax School Children Sent a Cable to the Queen-Her Majesty's Reply.

Oration by U. S. Consul Foster, Who Told of the Growth in Military Power of the Two Anglo-Saxon Nations.

(Special to the Sun.) TORONTO, May 23.—Empire day was loyally celebrated by Toronto school children today. Each school celebrated the day independently. HALIFAX, May 23,-Empire day was very generally celebrated through-out Nova Scotia. Teachers and chil-dren took hold of the idea with alac-rity, one reason probably being that the Canadian Teachers' Association, which met here last year, and Superintendent of Education McKay of Nova Scotia, had helped to launch it. In Halifax the school children decorated themselves with small flags and they gave their pennies for larger ones to be hoisted on the school buildings. Patriotic addresses were made to a large assemblage by Rev. Wm. Dobson and others. An oration was delivered by United States Consul Foster, who cold of the growth in military power of Britain and America. its expansion policy, he said, the United States were helping to introduce more fully to the world the principles of liberty and justice that had made England famous. VALUABLE DONATION TO THE NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY. Capt. Aikman of the s. s. Peerless, has presented the above society with eight Roman coins taken from the ruins of old Alexandria (now Metze), and the foot of one of Rameses' (the Great) princesses, found at Assouan. GUY CARR'S HEAVY LOSS.

His Dwelling and Horse Barns Destroyed by Incendiary Fire.

(Sherbrooke, Que., Examiner, May 22.) Guy Carr of Compton again suffered loss by fire. This time the dwelling house and horse barns were destroyed. The fire broke out early on Saturday morning at about the same time as that which destroyed his cattle barns and destroyed a number of valuable live stock. His dwelling house and cattle barns were some distance apart, being on different sides of the road, and it will be remembered at that time fire broke out simultaneously in the dwelling house and cattle barns. It was in endeavoring to save the house that the fire got such headway in the barns. It was suspected at that time that the fire was incendiary origin, but the fire of Staurday morning more than justifies the suspicion then entertained When the fire broke out Saturday morning Mr. Carr was sleeping alone in the house, and was awakened at about one o'clock by a severe attack of caughing, caused by the smoke entering his room. He immediately got out of bed and found both dwelling house and horse barns a mass of flame. Assistance arrived but not much could be done to stem the devouring element, and in a short space of time the last of the nice model farm buildings were in ruins. fiend who did the work was evidently disappointed in his last attempt to burn the whole of the buildings, and came again, this time, unfortunately, having secured his revenge.

Fortunately for Mr. Carr, his horses were out in the pasture, and his carriages were in the yard, and they Only $1,100 insurance was carried on

AN EPITAPH BY WIRE.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.) When the out-of-town correspondent cuts loose he does it with artistic grace and profuseness. If he can put it in a telegram at day telegraph rates he enjoys it all the more. Here is an example received at this office a day or two since from a rural village. The correspondent gave the news item in a line or two, and then ran in his personal comments. Here they are:

"Jim Blank, the genial and whole souled fellow that he was in life, is no more. Everybody loved him, and his untimely death at the hands of a cowardly assassin has cast a gloom over the whole county. Two weeks ago the angel of death visited his home and removed a loving wife and mother, leaving two small children, to them a double affliction. 'Tis sad." As the business manager hastily and omewhat warmly remarked: "Epitaphs are all right in their way

ARGENTINE TRADE.

From the complete retens of the foreign trade of the Argentine Republic in the year 1893 we have extracted the figures relating to exports of the principal articles of agricultural production. It will be seen that live sheep, frozen mutton, frozen beef, wool, were exported in larger quantities last year than in either 1897 or 1896, whereas jerked beef was shipped in smaller quantities in 1893 than in either of the two preceding years. Comparing 1899 with 1897 we get the following increases: Cattle, 121,175 head; sheep, 73,65 head; frozen mutton, 8,940 tons; frozen beef, 1,626 tons; wool, 15,715 tons.

The only decrease shown are jerked beef, 13,997 tons.

Historic House Burned-Destruction of Fruit Trees by Mice-Off for Montana. MAUGERVILLE, May 18 .- At noon today the house in Lincoln owned by J. W. Dykeman and occupied by Hayward True, jr., was burned to the ground. The fire originated from a spark on the 'oof. Prompt assistance saved most of the furniture, although somewhat damaged. Mr. Dykeman and his family went west this spring and had left some of their furniture stored in the house, part of which was lost. There was $600 insurance on the house and $100 on the furniture in the Quebec Fire Assurance Co. This house was once the palatial residence of the late Col. George Hayward, chief commissioner of public works, by whom it was built about 50 years ago at a cost of about $8,000. J. W. Clark lost about 200 bearing fruit trees by destructive mice last winter. A number of others are heavy losers by the same pest. J. E. Stocker of Oromocto lost $100 worth of young fruit trees from other causes.

The Misses Bella, Eliza and Mary Mills will leave shortly for Montana, where they will make their future home. Rev. R. W. Colston has returned from a pleasant visit to his old home in Quebec.

MEN WHOM SURGEONS ADMIRE. Constantly Furnishing Then Something to Do. (Golden Penny.)

The old proverb, "While there's life there's hope," gains a good deal of force from these brief sketches of men who triumphantly survived almost every form of accident:

A few months ago died Thomas Rushton of Welkden, Lancashire. Most of his life was spent in hospitals consequent on his many mishaps. When five years old he fractured both thighs, and before he had fairly recovered he fell down stairs and sustained a double fracture. Thenceforward his life was one long series of misfortunes, for besides breaking both legs twenty-four times, he sustained many other injuries and underwent countless operations.

A short time ago the Lancet mentioned the case of a man who had fractured his limbs six times, and on each occasion the accident occurred on the same date, namely, August 26. Before he was 16 he had mot with five such mishaps, so he resolved for the future always to remain at home on the fatal 26th. It chanced, however, that twenty-three years later, forgetting his resolution, he went to work on the unlucky day, and on his return slipped down and broke his leg.

FREDERICTON.

Body Found in Commercial Hotel Outhouse That of William O'Brien.

Coroner's Jury in McLean Murder Case Render a Peculiar Verdict-County Court News.

(Special to The Sun.)

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 23 .-The remains of the man found in an outhouse of the Commercial hotel last night have been identified as those of William O'Brien, a young man well known about the city, who disappeared from his home early last fall. O'Brien was addicted to strong drink, and at times to opium, and when last seen before his disappearance he was under the influence of liquor. He must have visited the place at a late hour in the night, lost his balance, and fell headforemost in the cesspool. The unfortunate young gentleman was an employe of Kitchen & Shea of this city, and was for several years previous a book-keeper in New York. The body was removed to the residence of Dennie O'Brien, father of the deceased, and was buried this afternoon. Great indignation is expressed throughout the city over the fact that Coroner Coulthard did not hold an inquest. It seems to be the general opinion that a strict and searching inquiry should have been made into the affair, and that the good name of the city demands it. That a young man should meet his death in such a peculiar way and place and then have the matter passed over with scarcely an inquiry, is something that the citizens of Fredericton can not understand. The inquest into the murder of Mc-

Lean was concluded before Coroner Moore at Stanley today. Several witnesses were on the stand, but their examination brought nothing new, The verdict was "that McLean had come to his death by a stab of a knife." A large number of people are wondering how long it took the jury to arrive at this sensational conclu-
