SEATTLE'S TRAGEDY.

The late tragedy in Seattle is but the natural sequence of the elevation of unprincipaled men to important and responsible positions The position of chief of police of the city of Seattle is a better one than the office of sheriff of the county and the man who can faithfully and fearlessly perform the duties of the office must be far above petty gain by bribery. The lately murdered Meredith was evidently not sufficiently broad or sufficiently imbued with the moral courage to hold himself above and aloof from those to whom rigid enforcement of the law means retirement from business. Meredith drilled with this class until, when he attempted to extricate himself, they "peached" and morality and decency demanded and accomplished his retirement.

Betrayed by his erstwhile friends the lawless element whom he prostituted his position to screen and protect; repudiated and branded as a rascal by those who had placed confidence in him and shown that confidence by elevating him to a position of responsibility and trust, Meredith became imbued with the desire for revenge brought about at the point of a gun. The result was his own death at the hands of one from whom there is no doubt he formerly accepted bribes in order that the law he was sworn to defend might be violated.

The death of one desperate character (Meredith was desperate or he would not have been out as he was-a walking arsenal) by another who, when cleared of his crime by the civil law, as he probably will be, will suffer few if any feelings of remorse or compunctions for having disobeyed the injunctions of the moral law. Conscience and Considine parted company long ago.

The shooting of Meredith by John found the churches and missions in Considine is but the result of crookedness in officialdom, one milestone that marks the highway traveled by grafters, bribers and all others whose ways are tomorrow night is causing a furore in

It is to be hoped that the recent rerealing of such wholesale crookedness in Seattle will cause to be awakened there a realization of the fact that it is today the most wicked city on earth and that steps, sure and certain, will information and advice on all business life.) IS WHOLLY YANKEE.

A little paragraph is going the rounds of the newspapers to the effect that I. Pierpont Morgan "is English by birth and enjoy the joys of life at the Stand and by education". On the contrary and by education." On the contrary, J. Pierpont Morgan comes as close to being of pure American ancestry as any man in the United States. His father, James Spencer Morgan, while an English banker, was an American citizen, having been born in West Springfield, Mass., with a long line of American ancestry. After a successful career in business and in banking in this country, he went to England and 1853 to become a member of the banking firm of George Peabody & Co. His wife, the mother of J. Pierpont Morgan, was a daughter of the poet, John Pierpont, who was himself born in Connecticut. J. Pierpont Morgan, the son, was born in Hartford, Conn. Neither is he English by education. On the contrary, he was educated in the Boston schools primarily, and finished his education in the University of Gottingen, Germany. Moreover, his business career has been entirely in the United States. It is true he is a partner in the banking firm of J.S. Morgan & Co., of London, the successor to the house established by George Peabody; but he himself has always retained his residence in New York since he left STROLLER'S COLUMN. the German university, a boy of 20, in 1857. He was the New York agent of ondon concern.
