

of the Extension lecturers in connection with the Univ. of St. Andrew's, lecturing in many Scot. and Eng. towns, and has read important communications before the Linnæan Soc., London, and the Brit. Assn., of both of which he is a mem. Conjointly with Prof. Mavor, he delivered a course of lectures amongst the operative classes of Glasgow, entitled "Social Life in Man and Animals," 1892, and, in 1894, opened the popular science lectures in Univ. Coll., Toronto, with an address on "The Colours of Animals." He also delivered one of the Somerville course in Montreal, 1896, on "Can. Fisheries," and, in 1896, gave the annual evening discourse before the Royal Soc. of Can., on "Fishing Industries and Resources of the Dom." He performed the duties of naturalist in the Irish Govt. Survey of Deep Sea Fisheries, 1890, and took part in a survey of the Fishery Bait Beds on the east coast of Eng., 1891. He was apptd. Comnr. and Genl. Insp. of Fisheries for the Dom. of Can., Oct. 1, 1892. He is an hon. mem. of the Glasgow Nat. Hist. Soc. (V.-P., 1892); an hon. mem. of the Andersonian Nat. Hist. Soc. (Presdt., 1890-93); an hon. mem. of the Marine Fisheries Soc., Grimsby, Eng.; and Presdt. of the Ottawa Field Nat. Club. In religion, a Presb., he m. 1894, Bessie Morton, dau. of the late Rev. Hugh Morton Jack, Girthon, Kirkcudbright, Scot.—206 O'Connor St., Ottawa, Ont.

"One of the most capable and promising of our younger scientific men."—Leeds Mercury.

PRINCE, Miss Louisa, educationist, is the dau. of the late Hy. Prince, Montreal, in which city she was b. and ed. She pursued her musical studies at Leipsic, Germany, after which she opened a class in piano playing in Chicago. In 1894, at the request of leading citizens of the place, she established Stanton Coll., Natchez, Miss., of which institution she was apptd. Principal. This is now one of the leading schs. in the southern States, and possesses a large number of pupils.—Natchez, Miss.

PRINGLE, His Honour Jacob Far-rand, Co. Ct. Judge, is the eld. s. of the late Jas. Pringle (who was descended from the families of Pringle of Torsonce, Abercrombie of Birkenbog, and Ogilvie, Earl of Findlater), by Anne Margt., his wife, dau. of Joseph Anderson, and granddau. of Saml. Anderson (both U. E. Loyalists)—the latter a capt., the former a lieut. in the King's Royal Regt. of N. Y., commanded by Sir John Johnson. B. at Valenciennes, France, June 27, 1816, where the 81st Regt. of Foot, in which his father was an offr., was then stationed as part of the army of occupation, he came to Can., 1817, was ed. at the Cornwall Grammar Sch., and was called to the bar, Nov., 1838. He practised in Cornwall; was elected a Bench. of the Law Soc., 1857; was Clk. of the Peace and Co. Atty. for the united cos. of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, 1858-66; and was Junior Judge for the said cos., 1866-78, when he was apptd. Senior Judge. He was apptd. Surrogate Judge of the Maritime Ct. of Ont., Mch. 8, 1879, and local Judge of the High Ct., Mch. 14, 1882. His Honour served as a volunteer during the rebellion, 1837-38, and commanded a volunteer co. (with which he was on active service for 5 mths., 1866) from Nov., 1862 to Nov., 1866. He was a town councillor of Cornwall, 1852-54; and mayor, 1855-56. He is the author of the history of the settlement and early progress of "Lunenburg, or the Old Eastern District" (1890). He is a Con. from conviction, but has never taken an active part in politics. A mem. of the Presb. Ch., he m. Sept., 1844, Isabella, 3rd dau. of the late Hon. Alex. Fraser of Fraserfield, Glengarry.—Cornwall, Ont.

PRIOR, Lt.-Col. Hon. Edward Gawler, merchant and legislator, is the 2nd s. of the late Rev. Hy. Prior (Ang.), of Dallaghgill, Yorkshire, Eng. B. there, May 21, 1853, he was ed. at Leeds Grammar Sch., and studied