

at it contains, 201-on scholastic politiy, 203-209; fixed wealth and capital, 298-300; another determining mean-alth, 271-272; the theory and, 334;
single taxers and,

validity in the old onomy, 184; first oned in "Progress y," 184; in land ral sanction, 265; pecial interests to ation of, 273-274; tribution determine st, 434; based on 454-450, 460-461;
nition and error,
uses of confusion as
; pre-assumption 460-461; essential 461-462; where 462-469.

genesis of, 134;
sk on, 171-172, 175, of English corn-e contest revealing
aries of, 175-176;
nd manufacturers beneficiaries of,
ishness and, 196;
ialism, 197; effect ical economy in 95, and in the es, 179, 196, 207; by confusion as
-281, 493n.; value on and, 263, 264-common interest, petition and, 402-

school. See Aus-mplies, 274.

ois, leader of the 145; who he was taught, 148-156; ations with, 160-

162; resemblance of George's views, 163; agriculture the only productive occupation, 354-355.

Quincey, Thomas De, value, 215-216.

Rae, definition of wealth, 121.

Reason, distinguishes man from the animals, 14-18, 29, 31-37, 51, 56, 77-78, 85, 397-399; welds men into the social organism or economic body, 19-24, 399; essential qualities of, 29-30, 33, 45-46; it impels to exchange, 35-37; its process of operation, 29-30, 47-48, 92-100; the Ego and, 47; impels man to seek causal relations, 56-57, 79; how it apprehends the world, 77, 85; how it interprets nature, 75; how it posits God, 79, 403; instinct and, 36-37, 291-292, 397-399; metaphysics, 330; mysteries, 344-346, 348; antinomies, 345-346, 348; pure, 346; Hegel and Schopenhauer, 208-209; Kant and Schopenhauer, 346-348, 350; the human, one and to be relied on, 349-350; lunacy and madness do not affect, 349; human and eternal, 344-350.

Reasoning, the three methods used in political economy, 92-100; power of special interests to pervert, 135-136; Bacon on the right way of, 139.

Reciprocity, exalted meaning given by Confucius, 306.

Rent, the central principle of political economy, 150; produit net, 150; unearned increment, 150; proposition of the impôt unique or single tax, 150-151; Ricardo's formulation of the law, 154, Physiocrats anticipated and surpassed him, 150-151, 154-155; law of, treated in "Progress and Poverty," 202; Smith's theory of, 173-174, he was not clear as to, 183; theory of, and diminishing returns in agriculture, 333-334; related to agriculture in current teaching, 356; one of the three laws of distribution, 444; futile attempts to regulate, 445-446.

Resurrection, relation of value from obligation, 309-312.

Ricardo, does not define wealth, 124; rent doctrine and the Physiocrats, 154-155; law of rent, 183; corrects Smith as to rent, 173-174; restriction of meaning of word land, 255-256; of paper money and seigniorage, 520.

Rich, Christianity made to soothe the, 174; cannot be any, under a true political economy, 304-307; Christ's philosophy, 306-307.

Right, no business of political economy to explain difference between wrong and, 73. See Justice.

Rights, natural, the Physiocrats, 149-159; Smith, 164-165, 172;
"Our Land and Land Policy," 201; "Progress and Poverty," 201-203; Spence, 185; Ogilvie, 185-186; Chalmers, 186-187; Wakefield, 187-188; Spencer, 188-189, 191-193; Dove, 189-194; Bisset, 194.

Rogers, Thorold, does not define wealth, 124.

Ruskin, John, repugnance to "dismal science," 83; definition of wealth, 123-124.

Satisfactions, of desires and, 81-85, 301-303, 324-325; wealth cannot be reduced to, 289. See Desire.

Say, Jean Baptiste, definition of wealth, 121; hopes for political economy, 130, 177-178, 180.

Schopenhauer, of extinction of desire, 83; Hegel, 208-209; Kant, 346-348; the world as will and idea, 347-348, 350.

Science, the knowledge properly