The Advance in Africa,

Far off the burning kral was marked
in flame against the sky.

"Ah!"

The chief of the panic-stricken Sen-gambians turned and gazed back apprehensively—

"I always said!"—

He shuddered as he spoke. "The coming woman boded us no good." And, as he fled, the bloodthirsty yells of the fierce Amazons of Dahomey in pursuit gave confirmation to his words.

Tantalization,

Now, my lady, I propose—
I propose—why, what's the matter?
To—to—give you this rose:

How your heart goes pitter-patter!

And I hope with all my faults

You'll consent to be my—listen—

Be my partner in this waltz;

How your dark eyes dance and glisten!

And I'll ask you for your hand—

When I help you to your carriage,

O—er—can you understand

What a bachelor thinks of marriage?
