Our Children's Corner.

My Children. They sleep ; athwart my white Moon-marbled casement, with her solen Silently watching o'er their rest serene, Gazed the star-eyed Night. My girl, sedate or wild, By turns as playful as a summer breeze, Or grave as Night, or star-lit Southern seas, Serene, strange woman-child !

My boy, my trembling star ! The whitest lamb in April's tenderest fold, The bluest flower-bell in the shadiest wold, His gentle emblems are.

They are but two, and all My lonely heart's arithmetic is done When these are counted. High and Holy One O hear my trembling call !

I ask not wealth nor fame For these, my jewels. Diadem and wreath Soothe not the aching brow that throbs beneatl Nor cool its fevered flame.

I ask not length of life, Nor earthly honors. Weary are the ways The gifted tread ; unsafe the world's best praise And keen its strife.

I ask not that to me Thou spare them, though they dearer, dearer b Than rain to deserts, sunshine to the sea, Or spring flowers to the bee.

But kneeling at their feet, While smiles like summer light on shaded stream Are glancing from her glad and sinless dreams I would my prayer repeat.

In that alluring land, . The Future, where amid green, stately bowers, Ornate with proud and crimson flowers, Pleasure, with smooth white hand.

Beckons the young away From glen and hillside to her banquet fair, Sin, the grim she-wolf, croucheth in her lair, leady to seize her prey.

The bright and purpling bloom Of nightshade and acanthus cannot hide The charred and bleaching bonds that are denie Taper, and chrism, and tomb !

Lord, in this midnight hour I bring my lambs to thee. O by thy truth, Thy mercy, save them from the envenomed tooth And tempting poison-flower !

O. Crucified and Crowned, Keep us! We have no shield, no guide but thee Let sorrows come, let hope's last blossom be By grief's dark deluge drowned ;

But lead us by thine hand, O gentlest Shepherd, till we rest beside The still, dear waters in the pastures wide Of thine, our Sinless Lamb !
