

CHURCH NOTES FOR BUSY MEN.

ROMAN CATHOLIC Father Fitzgerald Speaks

Learning that an action of law was about to be entered against him for some remarks he had made concerning the marriage of a Catholic to a Protestant, Father Fitzgerald is thus reported: "I mean to plan to the congregation that the bride, being a Protestant and having no knowledge of the laws of the Catholic church was not to blame."

"I did not mean in the least to slander her. As a priest I must defend the laws of the church. Catholics must abide by the laws of the church. I do not say that their marriage was not legally binding, but that they were not married in the eyes of the church."

"On Sunday I announced to the congregation that this young man and woman are not validly married, according to the laws of the church. I have not excommunicated him. He has excommunicated himself. I shall not object to his attendance at church."

Archbishop Brochu's Appeal

Archbishop Brochu, after sending a personal contribution of $500 for the Three Rivers sufferers, has announced through the French press that the collections of Sunday text in all the churches of the diocese will be for the same object. The different parishes are requested to send in the money at once on Monday, and His Grace makes an earnest appeal to the charity of his flock.

Case of the Christian Brothers

The difficulty regarding the employment of Christian Brothers as teachers in Ottawa separate schools seems about to be solved. Some time ago the Ontario Government decided that the Brothers had to observe statutory qualifications within two years or be dismissed. The time expires December 31, and as yet none have qualified. However, the Minister of Education has decided the Brothers can take permanent qualifications by a six month course. Most of the Brothers will begin training September, and the other half when these are finished.

THE ANGLICAN

The Bishop of Manchester

The Bishop of Manchester has been saying some very plain and pointed things about people who pursue religion as a pastime, instead of taking it seriously. "Many people," he said, "cannot attend church unless it is within five minutes of their house, and cannot possibly spare more than a train fare for the collection. The music must be the best, the sermon of the very best, the heating arrangements must be faultless, and the church warden patterns of courtesy, providing everything that can be thought of—prayer-book, hymn book, Bible, seat, cushion, and kneeler. In contrast with such self-seeking and self-importance the Bishop urged his hearers to try to be missionaries to their friends and neighbors, and to spread the self-sacrificing spirit."

Episcopacy at Its Worst

Canon Hanson says:—"A Presbyterian church is seen at its best in its representative assemblies, an Episcopalian church is in that particular at its worst. For the simple reason that Episcopacy is essentially a democratic body. When every serious question of doctrine and discipline is reserved to a handful of bishops, there is little left for the mass of the clergy and nothing at all for the laity to deal with."

A Bishop's Burden

The new Dean of Carlisle (Dr. Barker), who shortly after his appointment came into a fortune of $100,000, states that during one day he was asked to endorse three coats, to give one person a pension, and by three persons from different parts of the world to educate their sons.

THE PRESBYTERIANS

Talmage Number Two

A correspondent says: "I heard Dr. Talmage preach in a densely crowded congregation at St. James's Hall, Piccadilly, not long before his death, and I refer to the battle of Armageddon when I heard his son at the Crossway Central Mission on Sunday evening. Dr. Talmage did not display his father's fiery eloquence and fondness for avowals of facts and figures, but he is an extraordinarily interesting and original speaker, and has great oratorical fervor. He has also a seemingly inexhaustible fund of personal reminiscences."

Evangelist McNeill

The Rev. John McNeill, the Scottish evangelist of the United Free Church has accepted a call to London to succeed the Rev. F. B. Meyer, in London. This will be Mr. McNeill's third settled pastorate. His first was in the McCorrie-Forth charge in Edinburgh; the second Regent Square, London, where he succeeded Dr. Oswald Dykes, and now he is about to return to London (Christ Church, Westminster) to carry on the work of the ex-president of the Baptist Union.

Going to Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 27.—Rev. Dr. Duval, Moderator of the Presbyterian General assembly is expected here tomorrow to officiate at the installation of Rev. Dr. McCreary as principal of the new Presbyterian College.

THE BAPTISTS

The French Work

OTTAWA, June 25.—The annual conference of the French Baptist churches for Canada, met in the French Baptist church of Ottawa.

Rev. M. B. Parent, for twenty years pastor of the Grande Ligne Baptist church, preached the annual sermon. The Grand Ligne church, organized in 1837, enjoys the distinction of having been the first French evangelistic church organized in Canada.

The afternoon session was concluded by a discussion on Western Missions, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. A. Cameron.

Gleanings

Oklahoma City has four Baptist churches, with a membership of more than 2,000. And they are growing fast. Rev. W. B. Hinson, well known in these provinces, is the pastor of the First Church, which occupies an edifice which cost over $100,000.

Eight years ago the China Baptist Publishing Society was established in Canton, the Northern and Southern Baptists in the United States uniting in the enterprise. It has been successfully carried on. The receipts last year were $85,000. It is now proposed to enlarge the work, and to this end the managers are asking for $35,000 for a new building and additional equipment.

The New Zealand Baptist Year Book tells that the churches in the Union number forty, with 4,485 members, in a constituency in which the census records 17,000 people as Baptist adherents. The addition to the churches by baptism during the past year were 279, and the exact opposite the net increase of membership.

CONGREGATIONALISTS

Union Approved

Some weeks ago leading members of the Congregational body wrote in opposition to the proposed union of the Methodist and Presbyterians. At the convention held two weeks ago a motion in favor of this union was passed unanimously. A hope was expressed at the same time that the basis of union should be completed as soon as practicable.

Rev. Hugh Pedley

To the earnest and untiring efforts of Dr. Pedley very largely to be attributed the vote in favor of the proposed union with the Presbyterian and Methodist churches. He is a strong man in the Canadian Congregational church, and his deliverances have great weight with his brethren.

THE METHODISTS

Worthy of Mention

A remarkable incident has occurred in connection with the United Methodist Sunday school, Northwick, Four Chesbire County, Ontario. The school have been won by boys, all members of the same Sunday school class. When it is remembered that there were but thirty scholars available, and that there were 564 candidates, this singular result would be appreciated. Another feature worthy of note is, that the school is a strong man in the Canadian Congregational church, and his deliverances have great weight with his brethren.

Rev. Dr. Rose

Rev. Dr. S. P. Rose, the well-known Methodist divine of Manitoba, has been invited by the quarterly board of the Sherbourne street Methodist church to succeed Rev. Dr. Jackson as pastor of the congregation. Dr. Rose has occupied the pulpit of the largest churches in Ottawa, Hamilton, Montreal and Toronto.

Liberal Giving

Mr. W. P. Hartley, the Liverpool jam manufacturer, has brought the Hartley Town Hall for $21,000. Mr. Hartley intends to present it to the Primitive Methodists. The hall and site cost sixty thousand pounds.

Mr. Why don't you keep out of the par? Things are running smoothly now!

"You ain't engaged yet daughter, and your ma knows from experience that a young man who finds things running too smoothly is apt to get bored and out."

SATURDAY SERMONETTE

"JUST FOR FUN."

It is funny what strange things will strike some people as funny, and out of their heads when they will, and say, look of fun.

Eugene Sue tells how two old wives was a man and his wife, would take a foot off a miserable cat and then would laugh to see the poor creature try to get away from them. Later when they got all the fun they could get out of the suffering of the cat, they teased and whipped and tortured a little child, "just for fun" they said. There are quite a number of people who get a great deal of fun out of the suffering of others, and when I see a poor dog with a tin can tied to his tail and a poor forlorn kitten chased and stoned by thoughtless, cruel boys, I think of Sue's old man and woman.

There are men and women everywhere constructed that they get a lot of fun out of teasing children. The new baby has "cut out" the other children and they are going to "tear it" and so on until the teased child is in a panic of fear and sometimes of dislike for the teaser that lasts a life time.

Other people are constructed on such vulgar lines that they get a world of fun out of the bad grammar of uneducated people.

When I hear them I always know that their grammar is as new as the line clothes they are so condescending of.

"Just for fun." The coarse and vulgar caricature, the oddities of old people, and laugh at their expense.

"Just for fun." A heartless young man "paid attention" to a young girl who never dreamed he was only flirting—until he won her affection, and rode away leaving a heart that ached for many a day and a pillow wet with tears for any a night.

"Just for fun." She blurted with a manly young boy until she had his heart in her keeping, and when he told her one moonlight night in June that she had changed the world for him, and he would try and make himself worthy of her, and would she wait for him,—"and so on and on the foolish boy babbling." And she, just a little bit remorseful, laughed and told him she "thought that all the walks and drives and H-spring good nights was only fun."

Well, the boy will get over it and will be glad in years to come that she was "only in fun," for he will marry a better girl. But he will never be quite the same. He will be a trifle cynical for a while, and when the right girl looks at him and finds out the pressure of his hand in just the same way as the wrong girl did, he will often get skeptical, and wrong her by asking himself if she means it, "the shy, loving glances, her sweet smiles, her other glances, her did she look that way "just for fun?"

When I see young people flirting, playing at love, if they are both of a kind, it does not matter if they do get their wings singed, these silly moths who play with the flame of love, for if one knows nothing of such arts, and one is a past master, then I think of the two old wretches torturing the kitten "just for fun."

The fool who "rocks the boat" and his twin—the other fool—who points the "did-not-know-was-lashed" pistol at you, ought to be imprisoned for life, just for fun.

SUMMER COMPLAINTS

KILL LITTLE ONES

At the first signs of illness during the hot weather months give the little ones Baby's Own Tablets, or in a few hours the child may be beyond cure. These Tablets will prevent summer troubles if given occasionally to well children, and will promptly cure these troubles if they come unexpectedly. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine so effective and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that the Tablets are absolutely safe.

FIRST OF UNITED SERVICES IS HELD

Rev. David Lang Occupies Pulpit of St. Stephen's Sunday Morning

The first of the united services of St. Andrew's and St. Stephen's Churches took place yesterday. In the morning the service was held in St. Stephen's church, when special music was rendered by the choir of St. Andrew's church, assisted by some of the leading chorists of St. Stephen's church. The subject was the limitations of life and was taken from the text, Col. 4: 18: "Render unto the Lord what is his, for he is the author of life." This epistle was written by Paul while he was in captivity in Rome awaiting trial. After an interesting and instructive introduction, Mr. Lang went on to say that Paul's sphere of influence was limited by his imprisonment, and that the life of everyone had limitations. In Paul's case there was an nobling of character during his confinement, which developed in him a spirit of forgiveness to his Jewish enemies. Everyone who uses his limitations right would be stronger in his narrow sphere than if he had greater liberty.

KING MAKES STRONG PLEA FOR SOBRIETY

Large Attendance at Temperance Lecture in Every Day Club

The attendance at the Sunday evening temperance meetings in the Every Day Club continues large. The Rev. J. Ketchum has been arranged for last evening, but was unable to attend, and J. Harry King kindly consented to address the meeting. Mr. King is a favorite with the club members, and was several times applauded in the course of his vigorous plea for the sobriety of the individual and the destruction of the liquor traffic. Sam Jones once said that the state was founded on manhood and womanhood, but the liquor traffic was founded upon the ruin of both. Mr. King agreed with this statement, and dwelt upon the great need there is of taking hold of persons who have become drunkards and putting something into their lives that would offset the craving for liquor and make them not only strong to resist temptation but helpful to others who are tempted. If the tired worker could but pass the saloon and go on sober to his wife and children, and the welcome of a good home, how much better for him and for his. Mr. King quoted statements to show how states and cities have benefited by prohibition. He also mentioned the recent growth in prohibition sentiment, which he hoped would soon destroy the liquor traffic in Canada. He dwelt upon the value of good example and kindly fellowship in helping men to overcome the drink habit. After a visit to Chicago and other cities he had to say in his return that St. John, in the number of drunken men to be seen on the public streets did not appear to good advantage by comparison.

BEULAH CAMP MEETING

BROWN'S FLATS, July 5.—The services of the Beulah Camp meeting of the Reformed Baptist Alliance of Canada, which opened here Friday, were continued today.

A church at Gray's Mills, Kings county, and a church at Four Falls, Victoria county, were received into the alliance.

Rev. W. B. Wiggins of Moncton is the new president, and Rev. A. L. Blair secretary.

The weather has been delightful with the exception of some showers today.

HOPEWELL HILL NEWS

HOPEWELL HILL, July 4.—Dominion Day was pretty generally observed as a holiday throughout this section of the county, and large numbers took advantage of the day to go out and enjoy a day in the open. Picnics attracted large crowds, while others spent the hours beside the babbling brooks of the coast, and drove to the many points of interest which the county affords. A big picnic at Albert closed off with a garden party in the evening. There was also a picnic at the Cape Route.

Albert county Orangemen will celebrate the "glorious twelfth" this year at Alma.

Mr. Geo. C. Hamilton of Boston has arrived at Hopewell Cape, spend the summer. A number of visitors from the states are expected at the Cape shortly, having secured accommodations at the Albert House.

CENTENARY'S NEW PASTOR MAKES FINE IMPRESSION

Eloquence of Dr. Flanders Pleases Large Congregations—Preaches Both Morning and Evening—Father, Converts, New Rector of Mission Church, Delivers Powerful Sermons

Rev. Dr. Flanders, the newly appointed pastor of Centenary church, occupied the pulpit yesterday for the first time. At both services Dr. Flanders made a deep impression on his hearers. His deep, scholarly attainments were reflected in the thoughtful sermons he preached. His style is as clear as a past master, and his powers strong. His voice, which is well adapted to pulpit work, added in the excellent impression which he made.

His evening sermon was on the text Psalm 18, verse 35: "Thy gentleness has made my heart great, O Lord; for thou hast said, 'I will not be angry with thee, O Lord; for thou art merciful.' After entering military life he soon reached the foremost of his executive ability was very great. It was largely due to his provision and protection that Solomon's reign also was so remarkable. As a poet he showed wonderful vision.

The text refers to moral greatness. In spite of his sin, David's character was a great one. He overcame that which he had declared that he was a man of the heart, who has passions deep and strong and who resists and overcomes so that he walks a conqueror.

When Saul was pursuing David and the latter entered the King's camp at night he had the opportunity of killing his persecutor and avenging all his wrongs. He overcame the temptation and in speaking of the matter later used the words of the text.

The gentleness of God was revealed to David by the heathen king, and in present force and ferocity. The difference is shown in the terms used to describe Christ, such as "the lamb, the lion, the rose of Sharon and similar terms.

The gentleness of the text is that which goes with strength and power. It is not an attribute of the vapid and weak and those that lack energy. One thing required of a physician is that he should be gentle and kind. He should be broken morally and spiritually, had need of a gentle touch, so God sent the Good Physician.

When Saul was taken in sin was brought before Jesus two sins were displayed. Her sin of impurity

FAST TIME EXPECTED AT SACKVILLE RACES

SACKVILLE, N. B., July 5.—Frank Power of Halifax will be the starter at Tuesday and Wednesday's races at the Sackville speedway. The judges will be F. D. Prescott, Sussex, W. L. Wilson, Moncton, and T. A. Linton. Truro, R. Lamy of Amherst, and J. R. Somers of Springhill and Dr. J. R. Calkin will be timers.

All the visiting horsemen speak very highly of the track and predict fast time in the meeting. Tom Holmes, the colored driver, declares the track to be the best in the province, with the exception of Halifax and possibly of Chatham.

Duty before the day of Jesus Christ had a limited application and meaning. The Jews divided the race into two parts and this division was simple and to them satisfactory. The best part of the race were Jews and all the rest were accounted outsiders, bits of humanity and were called Gentiles.

The ancient Greeks divided the world into two classes. The small handful of the elect and saved were the Greeks and the vast outside, heathen for, despised, known as the Barbarians. The Jew and Greek accepted the same interpretation of life and limited duty to those of their own nationality. To their fellow countrymen they admitted national duties, patriotic values and obligations, but the Gentiles and Barbarians were slaves to be whipped to their tasks, and chattel to be sold in the market place. If justice, equity and kindness should be exercised towards them, they were regarded as so much virtue that one had a right to expect or demand. The principle of selfishness was at the root of activity and men were generous in their relations so far as kindness would minister to personal gratification and power. Beyond that

JOLLY CROWD OF ODDFELLOWS IN TOWN ON PLEASURE BENT

Under Command of General Welch, Oddfellows from Lynn, Worcester and Other Places Enjoy Themselves in St. John—Party Entertained in Royal Fashion by Canton LaTour

Fifty Oddfellows under command of General Welch, Department Commander of the Patriarch Militant of Canton City of Lynn, arrived in St. John on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the Eastern Steamship Company's steamer Governor Cobb. They were met on the arrival of the steamer by members of Canton LaTour and headed by the Artillery Band, were escorted to the Victoria and Dufferin Hotels. Colonel N. W. Brennan had charge of the reception.

The visiting Oddfellows consist of members from Lynn, Worcester and other places in the province, accompanied by their wives and daughters. Following is a list of the visitors: Gen. S. E. Welch, Gen. A. E. Hulse, Mrs. A. E. Hulse, Gen. D. A. Harrington, Col. G. W. Lewis, Mrs. G. W. Lewis, Major Joseph Deaconson, Mrs. Deaconson, Major D. Knowles, Capt. L. Herbert Knott, Mrs. Knott, Lieut. A. H. Lawrence, Mr. John Schofield, Major Frank Wray, Capt. E. A. Clark, Mrs. E. A. Clark, Capt. R. J. Cook, Chev. E. L. Edwards, Chev. John Harpout, Chev. E. H. Fay, Chev. E. B. Collier, Mrs. E. F. Collier, Chev. L. R. Page, Mrs. L. R. Page, Capt. A. B. Ingersoll, Chev. John E. Gouin, Mrs. John E. Gouin, Hon. F. A. Harrington, Mrs. F. A. Harrington, Chev. Jerry Spiller, Chev. C. M. Powell, Chev. John Hart, Mrs. John Hart, Chev. A. B. Fisher, Mrs. A. B. Fisher, Miss Fisher, A. S. Alley, Mrs. Alley, Chev. John Schofield, Mrs. C. A. Harrington, Miss LeCather, Gen. A. Brown, Miss Maguire, Chev. Landry, Chev. Henry Putnam, Mrs. Henry Putnam, Major A. W. Stetson, Col. J. F. Vaughn, Capt. A. S. Edwards, Gen. Harpout.

At 7 p. m. the visitors were taken in charge by Canton LaTour, and conveyed to Rockwood Park on buckboards, where an informal luncheon took place. The Artillery Band supplied excellent music and several toasts and patriotic speeches were given.

The toast to the King was received with much honor.

The fourth of July was honored by all the guests standing while the band rendered "The Star Spangled Banner" by Rev. Dr. Flanders. The program was directed by Past Master Skinner and D. D. Grand Master Codner.

In replying to the toast to the President of the United States, General Welch indulged in a brief eulogy of the present incumbent, referring to him as one of the ablest and most popular men in America. Continuing General Welch spoke of his home city of Lynn, the greatest producer of boots in the world. Some people have an idea that Lynn is not very large, but there are times when its population includes as many as forty million soles. Lynn boots go everywhere and have perhaps even found their way to New Brunswick.

Major General A. E. Hulse addressed the party in a happy manner. He said that Malden, where he came from, was sometimes regarded as a suburb, but it should really be considered greater than Lynn. Lynn manufactured boots, but without the rubbers made in Malden the paper boots of Lynn would be of no use in wet weather. Malden is Lynn's true savior. The city of Worcester in imitation of the city of Malden proposed a toast to the two greatest cities in America, but he did not think this would be safe, for they had to travel home together. He did not think the making of boots at Lynn and the rubbers at Malden were of much importance unless people had the money to purchase them. Having the money, they would send orders, and these orders were forwarded in envelopes made at Worcester, where as many as four or five millions were turned out daily. Worcester thus makes possible the business of Lynn and Malden.

All the speakers referred in a most happy manner to the pleasant relations existing between the two great nations of America.

On Sunday morning at 11:30 a. m., a church parade, headed by the Artillery Band and consisting of the visiting staff, Canton LaTour, visiting Oddfellows' Hall, and marching along Union, Charlotte, King and Germain streets to St. Andrew's church, where the Oddfellows occupied seats in the middle of the church.

Rev. Dr. G. M. Campbell, past grand, conducted service, assisted by Rev. David Lang, chaplain of Pioneer.

Dr. Campbell selected his text from Matt. xxiii:—"And all ye are brethren."

Duty before the day of Jesus Christ had a limited application and meaning. The Jews divided the race into two parts and this division was simple and to them satisfactory. The best part of the race were Jews and all the rest were accounted outsiders, bits of humanity and were called Gentiles.

The ancient Greeks divided the world into two classes. The small handful of the elect and saved were the Greeks and the vast outside, heathen for, despised, known as the Barbarians. To their fellow countrymen they admitted national duties, patriotic values and obligations, but the Gentiles and Barbarians were slaves to be whipped to their tasks, and chattel to be sold in the market place. If justice, equity and kindness should be exercised towards them, they were regarded as so much virtue that one had a right to expect or demand. The principle of selfishness was at the root of activity and men were generous in their relations so far as kindness would minister to personal gratification and power. Beyond that

CLOSING OF THE CHIPMAN SCHOOL AFTER GOOD YEAR

(Correspondence.)

CHIPMAN, N. B., June 30.—The closing exercises of the Chipman Superior School were held on Monday afternoon, June 29th, at the Chamber of Commerce and other interested persons were present in the different departments, and unanimously expressed themselves well pleased with the work done throughout the year.

Grades X and XI gave a demonstration of work done in the manual training department, which has been in charge of Miss Jennie Parker Alward. The quality of the work done reflects credit on teacher and pupils. About 100 of the entire school assembled in the principal's room, where the prizes for the year were presented by Rev. D. MacD. Clarke. The distribution was as follows: Best work in advanced department, for attendance and general proficiency, Miss Leena B. Wilson, Moncton. In the intermediate department, Wilfred Addison, Agnes Clarke having the same general average.

In the primary department, Viola Hassan, and in the special prize in each department. In the High School grades this prize was given to the best essay on "The History of the world" and was awarded to Larr C. Doherty, grade XI, for an essay on "The Loyalties and Their Effect On Canadian History."

The special prize in the intermediate department was offered for spelling and arithmetic by Fannie Bisset, grade V, and Marie Hay, grade VI, and, and the special prize in the primary department was offered for excellence in existing between the two great nations of America.

A prize offered in grades VII and VIII, for best essay on Alcohol and its effects, was awarded to Gordon B. Baker, grade VIII. A class prophecy, written by Miss Beth Addison, grade X, predicted a bright and useful future for many of the thirty-two boys and girls of the advanced department. Miss Myra F. Barton, grade X, read a short paper giving a history of the work and bringing life of the school during the year.

All three teachers are retiring from the school, and many sermons expressed themselves very sorry that this should take place, as the work done in every department had been of a highly satisfactory character. At the close of the exercises the principal, A. E. Floyd, was presented with an address and a very handsome dress suit case, containing a set of brushes, shaving appliances, etc., by the pupils of his department. In replying, Mr. Floyd expressed his pupils very heartily for a bright and useful future for many of the district for the interest they had always manifested in the school during his term of years here. Besides the gift already mentioned, Mr. Floyd, as well as the other teachers, received several presents of value as tokens of esteem.

The principal and the intermediate teacher, Kenneth M. Pliske, are looking forward to beginning college.
