TROUBLE ENOUGH. We do not need to borrow Our trouble from to-morrow We'll find enough to worry us before we're through to-day; We waste our time in fretting O'er what's to come, forgetting The goodness and the gladness that are rich along the way.

We do not need to ponder On what we left back yonder-Back yonder on the blotted page that tells of yesterday; We should recall the gladness And not bring up the sadness.

But let the gloom go to the dark and from visiting Mrs. Coates at let the sunshine stay. So what's the use to borrow, Our troubles from to-mo row, Or clutch the sorrows that we thought were ours on vester day. To-day will have its fretting, But let us go, forgetting, And joy will overtake us as we walk along the way.

42-47). As the result of Peter's preaching at Pentecost about three thousand persons confessed Christ in baptism. That their conversion was genuine is evidenced by what they did: 1. "Continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine" (v. 42). Continuance and steadfastness are infallible proofs of the genuineness of one's conversion. They not only were steadfast, but they kept themselves in the school of Christ-came regularly to the meetings to be instructed by the apostles. Christians cannot grow less they feed upon God's word. Trashy novels and story papers will not make Christians grow. The "sincere milk of the word" is essential to growth (I Peter 2:2).

2. Kept themselves in the fellowship of the apostles (v. 42).

This doubtless means that they attached themselves to the church and sought the friendship of Christian people. Christian growth is helped by association with Christian people, not by withdrawal. One who expects sancti-fication in seclusion will be doomed to

3. They went regularly to the communion table (v. 42). In the "breaking of bread" they sym olically fed upon Curist. True worshipers will not neglect this means of

4. They went regularly to the prayr meeting (v. 42). Prayer is the very breath of soul growth. It is as necessary to spiritual life as breathing is to physical life. The result of such life was:

(1) Wholesome fear (v. 43). A powerful ministry (v. 43). Many apostles. (3) Mutual ministry (vv. 44-45). Those who give themselves to Christ are large-hearted and generous, giving of their substance to help the poor and needy. (4) A constant wor-ship (v. 46). (5) Unity and gladness

Note the characteristics of a witnessing church:

1. A praying church (v. 31).

For every want and every need they betook themselves to God in prayer.

2. A spirit-filled church (v. 31).

When they prayed the place was shaken wherein they were gathered together. They were all filled with the hely spirit. The spirit is given in answer to prayer (Luke il:18).

8. A testifying church (v. 31).

The ministers had boldness in testimony.

4. A united church (v. 32).

They were of one heart and one soul, nited in the one body to the one head by the holy spirit.

5. A charitable and generous church who had need.

G. Its membership possessed un-blemished characters; great grace was culties (Acts 6:1-4).

Out of the beautiful fellowship of this early church grew a peculiar difficulty. Among the Grecian Jews there came a feeling that partiality had been shown in the distribution of funds. The difficulty was recognized at once and properly dealt with. The apostles refused to allow this to divert their minimum, so they proceeded with the interest. istry, so they proceeded with the initial organization in the church, the appointment of deacons. We have here set forth the qualifications of those who are to look after the business end of the church.

of the church.

1. Good report (v. 3).

It is highly important that even the business affairs of the church should be in the hands of honest men. The church cannot afford to appoint men of doubtful reputation to do such work.

2. Full of the holy spirit (v. 3).

The temporalities of the church should only be entrusted to spirit-filled men.

3. Full of wisdom (v. 3).

The highest wisdom is required in the handling of the business side of church life, and this should be done by men other than ministers. Ministers should give themselves to prayer and preaching.
