

THE ROYAL AND ANCIENT

THE ROYAL AND ANCIENT—The past two or three months in Great Britain there have been several tournaments arranged for officers and men from the United States, Canadian and Anzac contingent. One of the most notable of these was the Overseas Officers' Golf Tournament, recently held at Sandy Lodge. There were a large number of entries and the winner of the Medal Round was Captain R. A. Gray, with a score of 33 from scratch. Captain Gray is a very well known Canadian Golfer indeed. He was manager of the Elm St. Branch of the Bank of Toronto, and Captain of the Rosedale Golf Club when war broke out and was one of the first of the 3000 odd Canadian golfers to enlist. His drive is long ball and has a lot of good short shots in his bag. Captain Gray, who holds the amateur record of the Rosedale course (72) is a director of The Royal Canadian Golf Association. His place on the Board is very fittingly, never having been filled during his absence of some four years, from the Dominion. "Bobbie" is one of the most popular of Canadian golfers and friends here will extend hearty congratulations in his really notable performance at Sandy Lodge.

A man who has been in Canada for many months now, is certainly "some golfer." Capt. Gray also won the Bogey Competition.

About half the returns are as far from the clubs participating in the Royal Canadian Golf Association Red Cross Drive on Thanksgiving Day. The average score is about $500 per club and if this percentage is kept up the Association will go well over "the top" in its efforts to raise $25,000 for the Red Cross.

Considering the fact that the "British" took place at the very crest of the influenza wave the results are most encouraging. The "flood" undoubtedly robbed the fund of thousands of dollars.

The Great British golfers have been asked to send their old clubs and balls to France for use of the men there who now and again find time to get in a game on some improvised course and play a while at a time. That one of the many really first class links to be found in France. Many tales of paths and statistics many of these links in France.

There is a mother sending her boy's clubs with the more words "He will not want them again." It was all. The rest of the tale is obvious. And a wife—"Bill would have been so glad to know that his football club would help to give any British officers some fun." Imaginative may be left to conjure up

Royal and Ancient—The tales of heroism of the posthumous spirits of the gifts. The gifters' spirits go marching on—that is the great thing.

And here in an item that the many rich munition-made men in Canada might read to advantage: W. Robert W. Coak is an Englishman who making an art of aluminium castings for flying machine has helped win the war and incidentally made for himself a fortune. His home is at Clacton-on-Sea, where owing to the war the golf club was on the verge of bankruptcy. Mr. Coak who is president of the Clacton Advance-ment association thought that it would be "bad business" for a resort like Clacton not to have golf links and although not a golfer himself (he thinks to "take up the game" when he can spare time from war activities) promptly stepped in and bought the property and then handed it over to the Clacton Advancement Association. Canada could stand a few Robert W. Coaks sprinkled up and down the country from coast to coast.

From the 24th to Oct. 31st in the province of Ontario golf courses given over to the Home-to-Sea competition.

A good deal of golf is still being played before May 24th, and after October 31st, but with the exception of British Columbia the golfing season generally in the Dominion may be said to embrace the above mentioned days.

As a result of the large increase in the number of golfers reported from coast to coast and as a result of the Daylight Saving scheme, there has been an increase probably of 30 or 40 per cent in the number of games on the courses in Canada in 1918 compared with 1917. The total of the holes made in one would go to hear and this assertion is substantiated in 1917 there were 12 such fields recorded in 1918, there were 50.

The following is the complete list of the golfers who accomplished the 20,000 to a shot in the season just closed.

Mr. H. H. Henry Anderson (Canadian) at York Mills in 1917; Vancouver, Mr. Robert Bone (captain of the Vancouver Golf and County Club and a well known Scottish-Canadian Golfer, Vancouver; R. A. Mackie (also a Scottish-Canadian golfer), Lakeview Golf Club, Toronto; G. H. Jeaman, Winhuic Golf Club; George French, Sarnia Golf Club; H. W. Glasco, Winhuic Golf Club; Dr. F. C. Morrison, The Royal Montreal Golf Club; Wm. Kinney (professional of the golf club, Saskatoon, also made a hole-in-one in 1917); Dr. W. F. Reid, Digby, N. S. (Secretary of the club); Lieut. Caven, United Services Golf Club, Victoria, B. C.; Mr. John B. Keeble, Rosedale Golf Club, Toronto; Mr. F. J. Rutherford, Easthorne Golf Club, Jackson's Point, Ont.; Mr. C. E. She was a very bright and cheerful disposition, always fully interested in every social occasion and will be greatly missed by her large circle of friends. The funeral which was private, took place at 2:30 p.m. Friday afternoon at the Congregational cemetery.

The peaceful slumbers of our village were disturbed on Monday morning about 4 a.m. with a ringing of bells. No one was in doubt what all the noise was about, and a great many at once turned out to assist in celebrating. It was certainly glorious news for everyone, but was mixed with extreme sadness for those whose sons, friends or relatives had made the supreme sacrifice. It was indeed a sad and a celebration possible. A number from Brantford and vicinity went to Brantford in the afternoon, and the celebrating continued in the village with many of the fireworks until late in the evening.

How to solve it: The above squares hold the answer. It is in sentences of nine words, containing forty letters. Each letter is represented by a number, and that number is the position of the letter in the alphabet. For instance, A is represented by the figure 1, as it is first in the alphabet, and so on. Now to help you get started, we will tell you that the first letter in the puzzle is "W". "W" is the 23rd letter in the alphabet. Go to work and figure out the words in the sentences, and try to find the answer to the great question, "Where will the war be over?" It is not easy, but it is worth while trying for it.

Increase in Subscription Rates Commencing Dec. 1, 1918

The subscription rates of the Brantford Daily Courier and the Brantford Daily Expositor, commencing December 1st, 1918, will be as follows:

Delivered in Brantford and Vicinity, 45c. per month
By the year, Paid in Advance, $5.00 per annum
By Mail, " " 4.00 per annum
Single Copies, 2c.

After publication of this notice, payments in advance on subscriptions will only be accepted to December 1st at the old rate, after that at the new rate.

This advance in subscription rates has been made necessary by the tremendous increase in the cost of white paper, the price of which has recently been fixed by the Paper Controller at Ottawa. By this one item alone thousands of dollars are added to our annual cost of production, and in addition, labor, presses, stereotype supplies, type and all other items of expense have enormously advanced in price during the last few years.

Even at the new rates the Brantford papers are only now charging prices which have been in force for some time back on almost all the other daily newspapers published in this section of the Dominion. In many cities the subscription rates are very much higher.
