I suffered from Rheumatism dreadfully, with pains in my back and joints, and my hands swollen. A friend advised "Fruit-a-lives" and from the outset, they did me good. ### FAITH AND LOVE BETTER THAN DOUBT AND HATE

Canadian have faith in the future of their country. There are those who doubt, but they are in the minority. For the most part Canadians love rather than hate, but there are unfortunately a few who are inclined to hate. At the close of address delivered in London, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in one of the finest perorations ever given from a Canadian platform left this message for all Canadians, whether Liberal or Conservative, regardless of race or creed: "If you will permit me after a long life, I shall remind you that already many problems rise before you—problems of race division, problems of creed differences, problems of economic conflict, problems of national duty and national aspiration. Let me tell you that for the solution of these problems you have a safe guide, an unflinching light, if you remember that faith is better than doubt, and love is better than hate. Banish doubt and have from your life. Let your souls be ever open to the strong promptings of faith and the gentle influence of brotherly love. Be adamant against the haughty; be gentle and kind to the weak. Let your aim and your purpose, in good report or in ill, in victory or in defeat, be to live, so to strive so to serve and so to do your part to raise the standard of life to higher and better spheres."

Regardless of the tongue, no matter whether he casts his vote Liberal or Conservative, no difference, to what church one adheres, and without considering position, occupation or everyday work, this message should be heeded by all Canadians. Canada will be a better Canada if all remember that "faith is better than doubt, and love is better than hate."—The Farmer's Advocate.

The Western Front

The Germans are making desperate attempts to recover Douaumont, but have failed. The Crown Prince no longer has a pliant Falkenhayn at his back, and an unlimited number of men to sacrifice. Port Vaux is much more likely to fall than Douaumont. The French have begun to flank it on two sides. The tide has turned. The slight French losses in this great victory show not only the precision and strategic skill of the French plans; but the unguarded condition of the German defenders. They are no longer on the "qui vive." They are very sparing of their infantry just now on the British front as well, relying on their artillery.

Former Nova Scotian's Views.

The Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, in the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, said that he looked upon the present as a time when the mental, moral, spiritual and economic resources of America were taxed to the utmost. He was certain that in not one single phase was the American people ready to meet the immediate future.

"We have developed a timidity, a sheep-like quality," he said, "in the expression of our public policy, which has created an attitude towards us in every land as dangerous as it is untrue to fact. Our life has become a life of expediency and not of principle. The conflict between labor and capital is still in the stage of the opportunist. Each local disturbance is patched up. "We may be able to save this or that political party in the coming election but the problem is to save America by enthroning her once more upon principle and giving to her a moral and intellectual authority. The issue is whether the nation shall act and live by authority or by expedient. Shall we base our authority, domestic and foreign, upon a rock foundation of justice, courage, honor, which may involve sacrifice, or shall we adopt a basis of opportunism, timidity, indifference to principle?" This is the supreme decision. Nothing else matters."

Australia's War Taxation

(Westminster Gazette) The war-time profits tax which Mr. Hughes proposes for Australia is fifty per cent for the last financial year, and very nearly a hundred per cent for the present financial year. Apparently all profits over seven or eight per cent are to be taken by the State. The income-tax is also increased, and there is a tax on amusements. But perhaps the proposal which is most novel, as well as most remunerative, is levy on wealth of 1-1-2 per cent for the Repatriation Fund.

CLEANER POLITICS

Politicians who have kept their ears close to the ground have heard the rumblings of the rapid advance of the great movement for cleaner politics, which is fast gathering momentum in this country. Honest, straightforward, clear-thinking Canadians have decided that it is time they called a halt to the roads of graft, patronage and party pilfering. It only remains now for politicians to do their part. The people are ready.

In the past the general custom has been to blame everything upon the men elected to represent Canadian constituencies in legislatures and federal parliaments, but the common people—the electors—are beginning to see things in their proper light. Legislatures and parliaments are not so very different from the people represented by them. Public life cannot be purified unless the people attend to the cleaning up. There is no reason why it should be necessary for an honest business man to become dishonest in order to be rated as a successful politician. If it has been necessary in the past it has been largely the fault of the electors. Let the electors demand clean politics and Canada will get clean politics.

Premier Norris of Manitoba, speaking in London a short time ago, sized up the situation admirably in the following public life, while being honest in private life. I believe the people of Canada are looking for better things and are expecting service from the public men, men who occupy positions of trust in the different provinces. And never in the history of Canada has there been a more opportune season than when the struggle is on. Our people are in a thoughtful mood, and they are anxious for our public men to give better service to our country. To do this, however, we must have the support of the electors. It must not be left to the public men to purify public life. We must have the assistance of the electors themselves. It is just as easy for politicians to be made honest as any other class of men, but it is up to you to make them honest. Let us have cleaner politics, more honest business in the conduct of our public affairs. How can politics be made honest? Only by voters selecting none other than honest.

straightforward, clear-thinking, upright men of integrity and stamina to represent them. Crooked sticks cannot be made straight, but straight sticks may be selected and kept straight. When men of integrity are selected and elected, strengthen their hands by supporting them in right doing, frowning upon the man who seeks patronage, graft or any position or money for which he is not capable of giving honest value. Select honest men, elect them and help them to remain honest. Canada is ready for cleaner politics. — (The Farmers Advocate.)

"STRONGEST MAN IN CANADA'S ARMY"

Pte C. Glover of 180th Battalion, Now Here, Gives Wonderful Demonstration

The "strongest man in the Canadian army" is the title under which Pte. C. Glover of the 180th Sportsmen's Battalion is known to his fellow-comrades in arms. Pte. Glover demonstrated his strength to a St. John Times reporter recently. Physical strength was admired among the gladiators of old and it is safe to say that if Pte. Glover had been living when Rome was at the zenith of fame and power, he would have been an outstanding figure.

Pte. Glover is a native of Simcoe, Ontario. He lay aside pecuniary benefits to enlist in the 180th Battalion.

He weighs about 195 pounds and is the very personification of strength and physical power. Recently he demonstrated some of his feats to some members of the St. John police force. One of the sergeants of the force, weighing in the vicinity of 210, was seated on a chair, Pte. Glover lifted chair and all with his teeth. He lay on his back, stretched out his powerful arms. With one big man standing on each hand he lifted them from the ground. Among other wonderful demonstrations of strength are: To bridge 1100 pounds, lift 2280 pounds, lift on his chest a 65-gallon barrel of water, or one weighing 750 pounds; execute the human crab act, 180 pounds drew nails with his teeth.
