To Get Up In The World

is the aim of everybody. Some are much quicker in getting up higher than others. No matter whether you are slow or fast in the ascent we can in some measure assist you if you purchase your goods from us. We have just put in a very fine assortment of the best Stoves made in the Dominion, which we have bought for cash, and you know that to get up in the world means success, and success unaccompanied by the necessary wherewithal to make success successful seems a valueless commodity. So aim to succeed by buying good goods at low prices, and if you come to us with this intention, we will certainly help you to succeed.

"The Brownies in Fairyland," benefit of Children's Aid Society of Chatham, will be put on at the Grand on the 3rd and 4th of October, by local talent, under the direction of Malcolm Douglas, of New York. It promises to be and should be a grand success. The roles are filled with Chatham's local singers, and the Brownies' parts will be taken by scholars from the different schools.

On the production of "A Brave of Partridges," by Mr. Reeves-Smith, at the Strand Theatre, London, Mr. Ganthony, the author, was waiting in the vestibule for his father to conduct him to his box, when a gentleman, mistaking him for one of the waiters, asked where he should find his seat. Mr. Ganthony not being prompt to answer, the gentleman emphasized his importance by saying, "I am the author of the first piece," to which Mr. Ganthony replied, "I am the author of the second piece, but I don't know where your seat is," and going to his father who then arrived, left the astonished author of the Curtain Raiser to his meditations.

THEY RAN THE RAPIDS

The Royal Visitors Enjoy Some Novel Sport at Ottawa.

Log Rolling Contests and War Canoe racing—Presentation of the Mink Cape to her Royal Highness.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Royalty ran the slides to-day. Running the slides is usually a combination of water tobogganing, shooting the chutes and a shower bath, but the last named element was eliminated to-day by the use of tarpaulins.

After the slide running the Duke and Duchess were taken in canoes to Rockcliffe, where log rolling contests, war canoe racing and other sports were held, and then all went up to the lumber shanty on top of Pine Hill, where an exhibition was given of the operation of felling trees and preparing them for the mills.

The trip from Rideau Hall to the head of the slides was made in the royal trolley car "Duchess of Cornwall and York," and a special was also provided for the newspaper men and others who accompanied the party. Six rafts were at the head of the slides and the car ran to within a few feet of the rafts. A special track, 1,000 feet long, had been laid for the occasion, and on the rafts had been built seats covered with tarpaulins and robes. Four assistants were on each raft. J. R. Booth, the lumber king, had charge of the arrangements.

On the raft with the Duke were the Duchess, Lord and Lady Minto, Mr. Booth, members of the staff, police and several press men. The other rafts were used by invited guests. Police and military lined both sides of the chutes and thousands of people watched the royal party go down. Shantymen went over the slides in their river boats and several men went over on cedar logs. The slides are about half a mile long and pass under five bridges. All the bridges were crowded with sight-seers and hundreds of camera shots were taken. Before the trip was made the lumber grounds were closely searched for firebrands, and the trip was made without any unpleasant incidents.

This afternoon the mink cape from the ladies of Ottawa was presented to the Duchess at Rideau Hall. All who contributed to the purchase money of the gift had been invited to attend and Lady Laurier made the presentation.

To-night the Duke and Duchess held a public reception in the Senate Chambers, beginning at 9 o'clock. The alleged precedence given the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches at the reception yesterday was commented upon yesterday by Rev. Mr. McIntosh, of the First Congregational church. Mr. McIntosh said there should be no precedence in Canada for the reason that there is no state church.

The most brilliant gathering the Senate has ever held met to-night at the reception given by the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. About one thousand came to meet the royal party, and everyone was given a handshake. The reception was to begin at nine o'clock, but it was forty-five minutes after that before the Duke and Duchess were in position on the dais. With them were Lord and Lady Minto, Prince Alexander of Teck and the suite. All wore brilliant uniforms. The throne was almost covered with electric lights, and on pillars placed at the sides of the dais were crowns done in lights. The walls were decorated with lights, and magnificent bowers of plants were filled with electric light flowers. The Bishop of Ottawa was the first to be presented, and then came Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Lady Laurier and Sir Louis Davies. A continuous procession of people passed the dais for an hour, and afterwards the royal party visited the Parliamentary library. A great crowd of people came up to Parliament Hill to see the decorations and gave the royal party hearty cheers. Thousands waited until the reception was over to see the Duke and Duchess start for Rideau Hall. The buildings were illuminated for the last time and the scene was very beautiful.

This afternoon Lady Laurier, on behalf of the ladies of Ottawa, presented the Duchess of Cornwall and York with a fur cape. The presentation was made on the lawn at Rideau Hall, and the Duchess put the cape over her shoulders and told the ladies she was delighted with the gift and with the reception she had been given in Ottawa. Afterwards the Duchess greeted most of the ladies.

The entertainment given the royal party at the shanty in Rockcliffe Park to-day was unique in their experience. The work of lumbering was illustrated and a luncheon was served. French-Canadian songsters were sung and one of the foremen made a speech in broken English.

To-morrow at noon the royal party, after a five days' stay in Ottawa, will leave for Winnipeg.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL

A very successful tea meeting was held last evening at the Providence Methodist church. The program was as follows:

All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name.
Chairman's address—Dr. Hannon.
Solo—Miss Humphrey.
Recitation—Miss Barrasin.
Selection—Providence Choir.
Address—Dr. Thornton.
Recitation—Miss Barrasin.
Selection—Providence Choir.
Address—Rev. George.
Solo—Miss Humphrey.
Got Save the King.

The program was much enjoyed by all present, and the pastor, Rev. J. Oosterhout, and the members of the congregation deserve great credit for the way they are improving the church. The proceeds amounted to some $50. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Nervous Dyspepsia

How it shakes one up, invades sleep, destroys strength, adds a real misery to life. Not the stomach but the nerves are affected. Starved nerves make the whole trouble. You need Ferrazone because it's a nerve food. It supplies the elements that are needed to make rich red blood. This is the savings bank of health. The richer the blood in red cells, the richer you're sure to be in health. Ferrazone quickly makes blood, strengthens the digestive organs and, presto! the nervous disturbance disappears. Sold by McCall & Co.

Caps for Boy Wearers

Now then! Here's a line of goods that are not costly, but are none the less important for that. You'll not catch us napping in any sort of wear that brings mothers to the store.

Speaking of mothers, the boy often comes himself, and that's a sign of confidence that we value very highly. The store where children are sent alone to buy has a right to feel a little pleased with itself.

But that's a digression. Let us tell you about these little caps:—

Boys' golf caps of navy and serge, 12 1/2c, 15c, 20c.
Boys' golf caps of dark and medium tweeds, 15c, 20c and 25c.
Boys' chiefs, tweed or navy blue serge, with self or glazed peaks, 25c.
Small boys' fancy caps, blue and red jockeys, chiefs, in plain blue serge with white or red and white trimmings, 25c.
Boys' well little military caps, with glazed peaks and heavy black silk trimmings, 40c.

CHANDLER VS. GIBSON

The Court of Appeal Fines Judgment in Favor of Plaintiffs.

Judgment by the Court of Appeal was delivered in this action on Saturday last. The defendants appealed from the judgment of Judge Meredith, which finds that Moses Chandler, deceased, took under the will of his father, a life estate in certain lands situated in Chatham Township, and comprising fifty acres.

William Chandler died in February, 1882, leaving a will, the sixth clause of which is in these words: "To my son Moses I give and bequeath fifty acres out of the north-west part of lot number twenty in the Ninth concession of said Township of Chatham, during his lifetime, and then to go to his children, if he has any, but should he have no issue, then to be equally divided among all my grandsons."

After Testator's death, Moses married and died intestate in 1897, leaving a widow and two infant children, who are the plaintiffs in this action. In 1898 Moses conveyed the farm to the defendant E. W. Scane in consideration of an exchange of land and $200.00 in cash. In 1898 the defendant Gibson entered into possession of the land under an agreement to purchase the land from Scane, who after his purchase made lasting improvements. The action is brought by the two infant children of Moses for construction of the will, and to recover possession of the land.

The defendants claimed that Moses acquired an estate-in-trail in the fee-simple. Defendants also counterclaimed for a return of the land and cash in exchange for the farm, and an allowance for improvements. Defendants also set up the Statute of Limitations. The trial judge held that the words "children" and "issue" did not confer an estate-in-trail on Moses, but merely a life estate, and that neither the rule in Shelley's nor Wyld's case applied, and that the effect of the devise was to give to the children of Moses an absolute estate in fee-simple in the lands.

The trial judge held that the words "children" and "issue" did not confer an estate-in-trail on Moses, but merely a life estate, and that neither the rule in Shelley's nor Wyld's case applied, and that the effect of the devise was to give to the children of Moses an absolute estate in fee-simple in the lands.

From this judgment the defendants appealed, and the Court of Appeal gave judgment on Saturday last dismissing the appeal, and affirming the judgment of Judge Meredith in all respects, whereby the children of Moses, the plaintiffs in this action, become the absolute owners of the property.

E. D. Armour, K. C., and M. Houston, Chatham, for defendants; M. Wilson, K. C., and J. B. O'Flynn, Chatham, for plaintiffs.

PLEASANT RECEPTION.

A welcome to strangers and students was given last evening by the Park St. Methodist League. There was a very large attendance and an excellent program was carried out. The renditions by the Musical Club were enthusiastically applauded, but the autographs were the event of the night.

The idea of the autographs was to get acquainted with as many people as possible and have them put their names on your cards and to the one having the greatest number of names a souvenir was given. Miss Tillson got the souvenir, having 67 names on her card.

The program was as follows:—Opening Hymns.
The Topic—Temperance—By Mr. Westman.
A Talk—Will. Shillington.
Selection—Musical Club.
Autographs.
Hymn.
Selection—Musical Club.
Instrumental Solo—Miss Mae Peate.
Presentation of souvenir.
Closing exercises.
