THE SILVER LINING.

A fishermen sat at his door one day.
Watching the clouds that, heavy and gray,
ear Obscured the sunlight shining:
And he said to Bright Eves at his knee, Look yonder out in the west and see

I think when our skies are cold and gray,
And we vainly seek to find the way.
Somewhere the light is shining;
If we havely resolve to do or part,
Andther our graves with a patient heart,
And free from all repining.

We shell be led to a higher way,
To a better work than we do to-day,
And find love's sunlight shining;
For truth of a rit and strength of soul
Will make the darkest clouds mroll
And show it's silver lining.
