Business Cards.

FREDERICTON

MONUMENTAL WORKS

JUST ABOVE REFORM CLUB ROOMS.

Plain and Ornamental

ANGUS ULLOCK

Duke Street, Chatham,

MIRAMICELE.

IMPORTER OF

CIGARS.

GROCER.

Merchant.

SAINT JOHN, - . N. B.

Banking.

OF THE

Head Office, ST. JOHN, N. B.

FREDERICTON BRANCH :

WOODSTOCK BRANCH

DIRECTORS:

CANADIAN AND FOREIGN AGNTS.

NIPEG.—Union Bank of Lower Canada, 'York.—John J. Cisco & Son. ron.—Merchants' National Bank. JPAX.—Merchants' Bank of Halifax.. DON. G. B.—Imperial Bank (Limited) 13.—Societe General. Ag China And Australia.—Bank of Ind Ag China And Australia.—Bank of Ind

VEST INDIES.—Colonial Bank.

ished. eton March 6, 1883

Miscellaneous

NOTICE.

Fredericton, May 14th, 1883.

LANTERNS.

6 DOZEN Tubular Lanter Lantern Globes,

GILBERT W. VANWART. - - Agen

THOMAS MACLELLAN ALFRED RAV

Maritime

Saint John, N. B., Aug. 25, 1882.

First-Class turnouts: stock fresh, tention given to fam.ly carriages. Chatham, Nov. 21st, 1833.—1 yr.

beauty from his eyes.

First mate, Edward Fuller, of Barn

stable; second mate, Allen Eldrege,

Chatham, Mass.; boatswain. Philip Clark,

Boston; third engineer, Collins; purser,

The officers of the cutter Dexter say that the wind was blowing a gale, and

Two men frozen so stiff as to be unable to relinquish their hold on the rigging were at length the only persons remain-are frozen," was the answer. The captain then jumped, and, although he the passengers, said that many of the shouted, "save those men first."

W. Spaulding, Boston; second stewart

1884

YEAR. NEW

1884

WILEY'S DRUG STORE.

Fancy Goods, Perfumes. Toilet Articles, Pure Spices, Etc., Etc. vessel to sail to night. I met Captain Cook on my homeward way; he is an old friend, and I will send you in his care. "So my romance is ended," he though.

Pure Flavoring Extracts, Ten Gross Diamond Dyes.

JOHN M. WILEY, Opp. Normal School, Queen Street, Fredericton.

Professional Cards.

J. T. SHARKEY, LL. B., Attorney-at-Law, Notary Public, &c.

OFFICE:

QUEEN STREET, FREDERICTON

Opp. Officers' Square. MONUMENTS, TABLETS

J. M.O'BRIEN ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Conveyancer, Notary Public, Fire LIFE INSURANCE AGENT.

TOO CLAIMS PROMPTLY COLLECTED. BATHURST, N. B.

GREGORY & BLAIR, Barristers and Attorneys-at Law,

NOTARIES PUBLIC,

FREDERICTON.

J. H. BARRY, Saint John, N. B.

BARRISTER-AT-LAW, CONVEYANCER; &c.

OFFICE:-FISHER'S BUILDING, (up st FREDERICTON.

Barrister, Etc. OFFICE:

QUEEN STREET, FREDERICTON. 2 Doors Below Queen Hotel Fredericton, Nov. 28th 1883.-1 yr.

JOHN BLACK BARRISTER

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW NOTARY PUBLIC, CONVEYANCER, &c. FREDERICTON, N. B. Office on Queen Street, over the W. U. Telegrap DIRECTLY OPPOSITE THE POST OFFICE. Loans Negotiated. Accounts Collected. Fredericton, Dec. 19, 1883.

QUEEN HOTEL Fredericton, N. B.

J. A. Edwards, PROPRIETOR.

FINE SAMPLE ROOM IN CONNECTION. A FIRST-CLASS LIVERY STABLE.

Merchants, Vice-President.
THOS. MACLELLAN, of Maclellan & Co., Bankers.
JOHN TAPLEY, of Tapley Bros., Indiantown.
Howard D. TROOP, of Troop & Son, Shipowners Coaches at trains and boats.

Aug. 25, 1882.

JAMES C. FAIREY,

Auctioneer & Commission Agent.

Newcastle, Miramichi.

Newcastle, Nov. 21st, 1883.-1 yr.

Barker House,

REFITTED AND NEWLY FURNISHED.

Queen Street, Fredericton, N.B.

F. B. COLEMAN, Prop.

Fredericton, March 28, 1883.

Michael Donohue, BLACKSMITH HARVEY STATION, York Co. Wagon Work, Sled Shoeing, Horse Shoeing, Etc.

R. SUTHERLAND, Jr.

SCHOOL DESKS,

SCHOOL FURNITURE, CHURCH FURNITURE,

OFFICE FURNITURE Merit Books and Cards used in Public Schools and authorized by the Board of Education

QUEEN STREET,

Fredericton, - - N.B.

LITERATURE.

THE ROMANCE OF A ROSE

Look up, sweet Nell! Here is lost gorgeous flower that you have wrought so subtly with your gay silken

THE Subscriber begs to inform the Public the ooking young man, with a set face and eyes were fixed on a young girl, whose fair head was bent over an embroidery frame, and he held in his hand a lovely rose, fragrant and dewy, as if just gather-JOHN MOORE ed from some country garden where the glory of the summer had space to revel. The tint was a faint pink, with a dash of CHATHAM LIVERY STABLE. pale yellow like a gleam of sunset sleep-

The young girl, who was in reality did the people watch this proces the asure sky flooded with June sun- with sound.

Wines, Liquors

two young hearts had flown together spontaneously, like two young birds; it D. BREEZE, usly, like two young birds; it electric

A. LBELYEA, Wine and Spirit having been educated in the old English style, where the parent's will is law—but lately some solumn questionings had lately some solumn questionings had like a tide over the face as his eyes met like a tide over from the touch of her betrothed, and shuddered at the slightest caress. No. 1 KING SQUARE,

"It is for me, I know!" cried Nell se, and all the gallant Frenchmen who have so nobly fought for us: so I must make myself as charming as pos-

DOMINION OF CANADA, woman, placing it in the very spot where it was most effective in the shining braids of her golden brown hair. She made so lovely a picture that Jasper Authorized Capital, $2,000,000 tractive to other men?" he said.

A. S. MURRAY, - - - Agent J. A.& W. VANWART, Solicitors. what of flippancy ir. your manner at eyes." times, that looks-well, what men call more spite against England than love for made his own gift the messenger of her Ah! the brave captain scarcely guessed Bank of Montreal and Agencies

"Oh, Jasper, what ugly, cynical views you take of everything?" Eleanor answer-daughter, however, and there was a kind of light in his eye when he looked at her, like the palest wintry ray of sunlight on a limit of heavenly gardens, sweet with a sphodel, on to the plains of paradise! What matter that it was all the fancy of lips. She seemed to feel it there now! What matter that it was all the fancy of lips. She seemed to feel it there now! THE partnership heretofore existing between LIMERICK & REID having been dissolved LIMERICK & REID having heen dissolved mutua loonsent, any persons having any claims inst the late firm will render the same for imdiate payment to A. LENERCK & Co., who are horized to collect all bills and to pay all ims of the late firm. Any person indebted to make the compact of their several necounts, which are now me rendered, by the first day of JULY next, as business of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the collection of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late of the late firm of Limerick & Reid stop of the late of the late stone wall. "Billing and cooing, eh?" he said, with whose future he had so prudently arranged. "Well, that is all right."

"No, father, we are quarreling-that is swered Eleanor, with a saucy smile. "What! what!-that will never do too bad, Jasper, that I should not have never a sunshiny face at best. mplacent, after this pres-

a framework about her, and the sunshine oringing out her slender, girlish figure in her to the finest fibre of her being. In fact, this Puritan girl, by the ac- chair, lost in a reverie-this time a paincident of birth, was formed to appreciate ful one. A sudden blight seemed to the chivalry lover, and shrank from the have fallen on her life-a dark cloud had plain speech and uncouth manners of extinguished the sunshine, and as she her own. Besides, in truth, she had glanced out of the window she saw the losely cropped black hair. His gray face that had haunted her ever since. sky had grown dark, and one of those Though the eyes had not once rested on sudden Summer storms were gathering her, she could not forget them, nor the over it. She gave little heed to that, highbred, aristocratic air of the man- however. She was thinking, instead, how one of those French officers of whom did her father dare-now could Jasper Jasper had spoken so slightingly. insult her in such a manner! Yet flutter-

And while she dreamed, the sound of ing uneasily in her heart, was a secret the drum throbbed through the air, and feeling that they were justified for it all with heart-beating and sorrowful presage thoughts.

First-Class turnouts: stock fresh. Particular attention given to faintly carriages.

Chatham, Nov. 21st, 1832.—1 yr.

Ah, to day it is a triumphal march. The war is over, and victory perches on their banners. The sunlight seems to revel in the sight to day and make merry with palest blue and cream-color. She was in flashes over the banners and the carriage, then both accompanied her the passengers washed overboard.

eyes and full, tremulous lips. Like some their own beloved ones, whose hearts are better to defer this visit." long, childish dream, her life had run throbbing proudly at the sight. The until within the last month, when her colonel glanced at his daughter as he with something of her old sauciness; the boats. Twenty-one persons, one of whom engagement to her cousin Jasper had opened graver possibilities before her, from which she shrank a little, it must colonel glanced at his daughter as he with something of her our sanchess, the passed, but her eyes were not on him. French officers are still in town—better send at once where the only beaux are still in town—better sen came in contact with his winning man-only for herring and haddock." For this was not a betrothal in which ner, trained to the grace of courts.

giance, the eyes of answered the colonel; "besides, this is had been led on by Eleanor's grim father, the Marquis de Rocha.nbeau were fixed only a Summer storm, soon over. Goodwakened in her heart, and she could not hers, with that reverent, adoring look curved in such bitter scorn; he only with which the devotee regards his patron saint; the quaint, pale blue bro- tenderness tugging at his heart that cade closely fitting her lithe young figure, would have unmanned him if he had not But we have kept the young man with its rich lace at the white throat. What wonder that the young marquis uttered his very soul in a look? stooped to pick it up. and raised the grand snowy bird; then they went silent the rose went into his blood," and he fortable, when he ascertained she pre- aft and told the passengers to keep cool cared not what his eyes might say to the ferred the deck to the cabin. Then he fair donor. Whatever they said, she left her for the gathering storm demand smiled in answer, and the smile lit up ed watchfulness. The wind was growing told an officer to get the boats ready. With the hope of being able to identify her face to rarer beauty.

Paid Up Capital, s698,000 looked grim. thought the marquis, as they marched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. We launched artillery fille t the darkened sky, and a la neavy sea running. tractive to other men?" he said.

"It's a woman's first duty, always and everywhere, to look as well as possible," she answered, with a merry laugh.

"Atter all, I might do worse than bosom of somore cloud, and showed a find a wife here. She would not have seething sea and many long rents in the deck, and the stern being entirely under water we were forced to go up on top she would be pure as a dew-drop. That the winds and the bloom brushed off by gallantry.

But Eleanor drew her warm shawls of the house. I staid there a minute, the wharf. All of the bodies were trozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen the sightest notice of the the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen the sight that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen the sight that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen that the wharf. All of the bodies were frozen the said.

oquettish?

The girl's eyes flashed a little defiantly seemed carved in stone. What! his her.

betrothed—his wife, almost—casting love—s she answered:

"It's all right, young lady," said the tacking drifted inside. "I like to please. If that displeases glances at another man!—one of those captain, encouragingly. "We'll weather "As for the gallant French officers detested, because they possessed a grace given you a pleasanter trip; but who shour you seem disposed to admire for which he could never hope to attain. could have guessed this morning?—truly, Prince Edward Island: F. W. Fairbanks. their chivalric conduct," he went on, Ah, he could not trust himself to speak. we know not what a day may bring favor to another! you take of everything?" Eleanor answered, with a pettish gesture, as she began to work again. "I perfer to believe in kindled in a young heart. She could sea. There was no light from moon or kindled in a young heart. She could sea. There was no light from moon or kindled in a young heart. She could sea. There was no light from moon or kindled in a young heart. She could sea. There was no light from moon or kindled in a young heart. She could sea. There was no light from moon or kindled in a young heart. She could sea the seal of the seal o people, and attribute the best motives to have woven a romance—albeit she had stars, only a great rush and roar of boiling McCarty, Somerville, Mass.; A. Phillips, hem."

And as she spoke, a coldness seemed never wanting in youth—if it had not for salvation, no hope!

y day.

At that moment the colonel came in for his equipments. He was a tall, strong, muscular man, with iron-gray hair and of her dream if she moved from the engagin the face she had dreamed over in muscular man, with iron-gray hair and of her dream it she moved from the engagain the face she had dreamed over in of her dream it she moved from the engagain the face she had dreamed over in the old balcony, and the eyes beamed the old balcony, and the hands met residence unknown; Oscar lasigi, Turkish residence unknown; Oscar lasigi looking at some brilliant, rare place she could call up again the dark, with love upon her, and the hands met exotic that had sprung, by a strange sensitive face, the brown eyes full of feelfreak of nature, from a cold, gray rock. ing, the grace of that kiss, wasted, alas! lead her up through starry spheres, out He felt some sort of pride in his beautiful daughter, however, and there was a kind way with an electric subtlety through into heavenly gardens, sweet with > reverie like a blow: . "Come in; girl !" Never had she heard her father's voice so hard and devoid of feeling before.

"Come in; there is no need of making but he! And you betrothed to a good "Does Jasper complain?" asked "Oh, my dear sir, did you not hear Eleano.; with her face crimson and her the wreck of the Dolphin?" "Well, asked the marquis, thrown to another," answered Jasper, "I have decided for you," went on the colonel is nigh distracted. He was never father. "You shall go to your aunt Sam one of the tender ones, but he grieves as anthy's at once_there is fortunately a one who won't hear comfort." vessel to sail to night. I met Captain The marquis bowed. He did not trust terrible sea was running as they ap-

There you are to stay till this blows over, need any frippery, as there are no gallants | ness." Too indignant to speak, and trained to by the two men like a young queen—not ichsafing even a passing glance at Jasper, who already half repented the face convulsed with emotion. "And yet ging; Lieut. Rhodes sprang for him; but it seemed best." ion which must banish so much

The girl hurried to her own room, and of courtly grace and eloquent speech, began in a sort of frantic haste to lay a with a wish that he, too, were lying to avoid being capsized. Captain Wright whose voice would have power to thrill few articles together; but long before her fathoms deep beneath the salt sea waves, work was done she had sunk upon a for the world had grown very dreary to

Terrible Sacrifice of Human Life-Statesments of Passengers.

of Columbus :- "The City of Columbus left Boston at 3 p.m. on Thursday, carrythere was the tumust of many feet. Not if they could have known her secret Head light bearing south half east, the pair of blue eyes that reminded one of rolled in vapor, and the winds were laid pose. He knocked at his daughter's breaking in and flooding the port side of full of youthful bloom; but one could read great capacity for feeling in the soft ranks cast a glance or a nod upward to said, uneasily. "Perhaps it would be a nasty night, I fear," he life-boat put off and took seven persons. Another life-boat put off between 12 and levelock. The revenue cutter. Dexter, "Oh, no, cousin," answered Eleanor, came along at 12.30 and sent off two touched the hand, and felt a strange turned quickly away.

But the two watched the ship as she sailed out with her sails swelling in the Then something fluttered softly rising wind and noted that she dipped and through the air and fell at his feet. He rose on the crested waves like some

"I must know her—that Puritan rose," Now and then a rumble from unseen thought the marquis, as they marched artillery fille the darkened sky, and a heavy sea running. We launched a The tug Nellie returned about five o'clock, hours of 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning the affinity. After all, I might do worse than bosom of sombre cloud, and showed a The sea was breaking upon the steamer's bodies she bore were slid up planks to but took not the slightest notice of the very French popinjays whom he secretly it all the same. Another day would have the awful significance of his words, till, Eleanor did not hear her cousin go, at midnight, the ship, struck by a sudden being wrapped, in truth, in those sweet gale, turned over, and all on board were

And as see spoke, a coldness seemed liever wanting in youth—If to had not to chill her warm, beating heart, as she been for the tie which was fast growing when the sounds of terror wakened her, this man, who seemed less congenial day

Charlottetown, I Goldsboro', Me.

As it was she sat on in the sunshine and she struggled up on deck, only to

But a harsh voice smote upon her awandering brain? The marquis, haunted by the lovely face which had looked down like Juliet American School, and whee Juliet was a part of the search and wife, Dorchester; Jas. A. Merill, Boston; Henry L. Daniels and Juliet was a part of the Juliet was a part of the Julies and Juliet was a part of the Julie from the old stone balcony, was dreaming wife, C. A. James, Mrs. James Beal and "No, father, we are quarreling—that is more the order of the day with us," an swered Eleanor, with a saucy smile.

"Come in; there is no need of making and planning about neeting the beautiful girl. He lingered about the old Mitchell, J. T. Tibbitts, T. A. Day, M. She shivered a little, as if all the sunsay of the same and planning about neeting the beautiful girl. He lingered about the old Mitchell, J. T. Tibbitts, T. A. Day, M. Sargent A. Cunnings, D. Eaton, G. Sargent, A. Cunnings, D. Eaton, G. Sargent, D. Sar She shivered a little, as if all the sunshine had gone out of the June day, as she obeyed. Then, as the meaning of anxious, sorrowful-looking old man, and chase and wife, H. Durland, residences anxious, sorrowful-looking old man, and chase and wife, H. Durland, residences ton. A large number of Bostonians are she obeyed. Then, as the meaning of the bodies. said the colonel, smiling grimly. "In her father's words dawned on her, she half an hour we'll be marching by, girl. flushed, and drew herself up proudly.

Sometimes a younger one, go out and in. Had it all been a dream? he asked. W. Lapham, G. R. Hammond, C. D. Ball, "What is the matter, father?" she But no; there was the faded rose, with C. Frost, residences unknown; Joel "What is the matter, father?" she asked, quietly, for she saw a darker nor. "Don't you see my best brocade, and this exquisite rose in my hair? It's what is the matter, father?" she saw a darker along the matter, father?" she latter along the matter, father?" she latter along the matter, father?" she latter a lingering sweetness around it still. At last, overcoming his delicacy, he asked of none of the following are known:—the barber over the way, whose great pole and this exquisite rose in my hair? It's

"She's away now, I suppose?" asked

"I_I could not enjoy seeing my gift pang striking his heart. "Miss Eleanor was on board and went Howe, and thirty-three seamen, names down, sir; every soul perished! The old unknown.

"It was nothing after all but a rose and bow being the only portion of the hull and the officers are gone. Go, girl; not a smile. But oh! it was a hard fate for word—go pack at once! You will not so much beauty and youth and tender the rigging, as the boats would have been pounded to pieces. The men in the rig But he did not know all, and could not feel the deathless pangs that tortured and we caught them as they arose to the silence as she had been, Eleanor swept the two men who sometimes met in the surface and pulled them into the boats. "God forgive us-we sent her to her death!" the old colonel murmured, his Eugene McGaray jumped from the rig-

And Jasper bowed his head silently, and it was necessary to pull to starboard

WRECK OF THE COLUMBUS.

New Benenen Mass Jan 19 The fol-

Lieut. Rhodes, at the peril of his life. lowing is Capt. Wright's statement rerescued the last two men in the rigging. garding the loss of the steamship City One was Mr. Richardson who died before reaching the cutter. About four hundred dollars was found in a wallet in his ing eighty passengers, and a crew of dred do forty-five. At 3:45 a. m. on Friday, Gay pocket. vessel struck on the outside of the Devil's The afternoon grew darker and more bridge buoy. The wind was blowing a rather toying with the embroidery while she seemed to work, looked up with a seemed to work, looked room door in good time announced the the saloon. All the passengers excepting vailed, women rushing about the cabin Ah, to day it is a triumphal march. carriage ready and waiting. He was a few women and children came on deck, in their ni ht dresses. In about twenty minutes the steamer listed. The were carried away by the sea almos wore no ornaments save the lace at her the uniforms, and the breeze wafts the troat and wrists; but that was old and sound of triumphant music far around.

The carriage, then both accompanion to the vessel, Eleanor keeping a proud silence. Jasper looked around with life-raft, and about forty more took to the the vessel-listed I made my way along did not leave the cabin until their bodies. throat and wrists; but that was old and rich, and pale buff in hue. Her face was full of youthful bloom; but one could full of youthful bloom; but one could tors, and sometimes the soldiers from the tors, and to some the soldiers from the tors, and to some the tors, and to some the tors, and to some the soldiers from the t persons, all men, had taken refuge, 1 o'clock. The revenue cutter, Dexter, There we clung for life, with fingers be debris at our feet." John T. Cook, of Portland, Me., one

Bedford. Three persons died after going THE CAPTAIN'S ACCOUNT OF THE WRECK. Captain Wright said in addition that bout the main stay. At length his strugold Colonel Gwynne, and there was an eye to property to be kept in the family on the part of the frugal parent.

The young girl had not dreamed of on-The young girl had not dreamed of opposing this calm disposal of herself—having been educated in the old English style, where the parent's will is law—but the faint rosy flush that poured it with Summer bloom.

fair, sunshiny head, with the pale rose but did not betray the longing he had to nestling in it; the beaming eyes, darkly take her home with him again; for he heard the second mate, who was in the pilot-house with the mate, sing out, when the pilot-house with the mate, sing out, with Summer bloom.

Vort the helm." I jumped out of my praise to the officers of the revenue cutter praise to t vessel bound down the sound. I then them from the wreck. All the survivors cried out, 'Hard a port,' and in the moonlight saw the buoy on the Devil's steamer was fast going to pieces when the forward beam and about three hundred vards distant. She immediately are now on board the cutter. The bridge in the port, about two points off the cutter left her at six p. m. POSITION OF THE WRECK. struck. I ordered the engine to be reversed, and she backed about twice her THE STEAMER IMMEDIATELY STOPPED fragrant missile to his lips with a grace that none but a Frenchman could hope the friendly captain received the north, but she filled forward and listed the weekers were sent at once she might the weakers for. It was the rose—Jasper's rose— young lady in the kindness manner, found and as it touched his lips, "the soul of the best seat for her, and made her com-LANDING THE DEAD BODIES.

stronger, and the Dolphin flew before it. The steamer settled down aft and the dead which might have been picked

THE LIST OF THE SAVED Waterhouse, of Bath, Me.; John White, Gorham, Me.: Thos. O'Leary, fireman, E. Gorham, Me.; Thos. O'Leary, fireman, E.
T. Briggs, Furber Hanson, S. E. Wright, on the body. In her lap was found a tiny on the body. In her lap was found a tiny captain, all of Boston; A. A. Pittman, Brooklyn, stewart; G. D. Whitcom, Hudson, Mass.; H. W. Farnsworth, Townsend, Mass.; J. L. Cook, Portland, Me.; G. W. a full sandy beard was picked up. The first assistant engineer; Jno. Madden, Charlottetown, P. E. I.; T. R. Hammon NAMES OF THE LOST. The following is a list of those lost:-Wm. W. Wright and wife, Boston : E. S. Rand and wife, Roxbury; T. K. Hale, Boston; Levi Lawrence, Geo. H. Kellogg, consul-general, Boston; A. J. Morton, Boston Globe; H. Brooks, Northboro', Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rand and son, nation for the purpose of identification Boston; Mrs. Henry Slade, Chelsea; R. Davis, Mrs. IL J. Kellogg, C. Richardson blonde man was J. May, of Boston, the and wife, E. T. Richardson and wife, S.

she had ever seen before, though it was never a sunshiny face at best.

"Matter? Oh, is it nothing that you make yourself appear like a light olove in the face of the army—casting favors to French officers, and smiling in their eyes?"

the barber over the way, whose great pole rose up in those days like a gigantic of days like a gigantic of the barber over the way, whose great pole rose up in those days like a gigantic of the barber over the way, whose great pole rose up in those days like a gigantic of the barber over the way, whose great pole rose up in those days like a gigantic of the barber over the way, whose great pole rose up in those days like a gigantic of the barber over the way, whose great pole rose up in those days like a gigantic of the coast. They also dangerous points on the coast. They demonstrate the steamship Columbia, soiling from Boston to Savanna, was lost. Willet, Brown, Walker and Fassett. The last three applied for tickets just before last three applied for t placency," Jasper answered, brusquely, And Eleanor, seated in the grey stone balcony, where with the carven stone for

THE SCENE OF THE CATASTROPHE.

Boston, Jan. 19.—The ledges on which

GLEANER JOB PRINT

officers and crew were lost. The City of Columbus was one of the finest ver iron and thoroughly equipped, was rated A 1, valued at $300,000 and insured for

The news of the wreck of the City of city, where a number of the victims reide. The passage through the channe had successfully passed through the numerous reefs and shoals when she struck. Had it not been for the extremely rough water the number saved would have been auch larger. The Devil's bridge is not ed dangerous except in thick nearly everyone in the rigging was saved. here is plenty of room for vessels to pass The City of Columbus sunk a barque off Nantucket three months ago, and it nas never been settled who was responsible for that accident. Pilot Webber says the wind on Thursday night was blowing westerly gale. The night was clear, and only a disable steamer would have been ing on the steamer, excepting the captain. Lieut. Rhodes asked him to jump, but he in danger of going ashore on Gay Head The wind was such as that a vess quately provided with sails should have weathered the point. "They could not swim a stroke, he was rescued. Fifteen survivors of the wreck arrived accounts of the wreck. F. W. Fairbanks Fairbanks says while in the rigging the pilot told him he had fixed the cours the vessel and fastened the wheel and had veered round. When he aso sained the vessel listed I made my way along the windward side up an inclined plane did not leave the cabin until their bodies and carried out the bodies, furniture, and baggage before the eyes of the horrified en by him alive after the vess THREE MORE LIVES SAVED. An additional list of the saved includ-, besides the sixteen taken in the cut-Thos. Butler, firemen, and seaman Leary

THE PILOT'S RECKLESS NEGLECT

SOME OF THE PROMINENT PASSENGERS. Edward Sprague Rand, who with his wife was lost, was one of the best known con veyancers of Suffolk county. Oscar Tasgi, onsul General for Turkey, and tresurer o Carrol D Wright, Chief of the B reau of Statistics. Dr. Horace C. Bartlett, of Landon, Vt., and his wife were going to Florida. Mrs. Dwight B. Rich, of Boston, The wreck of the City of Columbus lies | whose name does not appear in the passa mile and a half from shore. Her bow enger list because she is out of the water. She lies in about voyage as a guest of the captain, was four fathoms, with her upper works gone among the lost. She leaves five children. If the weather moderates it may be pos- Rev. C. A. Rand, who was among the lost, mother also perished. All the trains to this city to-day have ALLEGED INHUMANITY OF A PASSING STEAM she answered, with a merry laugh.

"Do you know, Nell," he went on, with a little hesitation, "that there is somethe dawning of love in those sweet blue around her, and scarcely heeded the but we were quickly obliged to take to wreckage. Among the bodies picked up the house of the passing steamer, and the dawning of love in those sweet blue eys."

Example 2 in the manufacture of the ranked above like the crack of the ranked above like the ranked above like the crack of the ranked above like the ranked above like the ranked above like the ranked above like the crack of the ranked above like the ranked above like the stank above long dark brown wavy hair and dark eyes. From her dress pocket was taken of the Glaucus states that his vessel The names of those saved are:—Horace a package of jewellery done up in a passed the wreck at a considerable distance, of Reth. Mo., Lahn White handkerchief, consisting of a gold brooch, tance, eight or ten miles, and he avers earrings, necklace, and locket, as well as that after a prolongued scrutiny through a little steel purse containing a small a glass he could discover no evidence of

> The body of G. F. Hammond, of Hyde the wreck the body of a blonde man with Park has been recovered. Six seamen a full sandy beard was picked up. The Nellie next picked up what is supposed Gay Head are supposed to be still there:

> to be the body of Mr. Morton, of the Boston Globe. Another body picked up was that of a woman probably forty years of age. She was badly bruised, probably engineer exclaimed, 'The vessel is ashore!' of age. She was badly bruised, probably by contact with floating debris. The fifth of the bodies was evidently that of a off, then we got bells to go ahead, and she drove right on to the reef again. It did not seem ten minutes before she The captain of the Nellie reports see ing other bodies which it was impossible

WOODSHOLL, Mass., Jan. 18 .- The tug victims recovered Mr. Morton's face bore the most calm expression. The examithe cargo was washing out of her. Great quanties of wreckage have drifted blonde man was J. May, of Boston, the elderly woman Miss Beach, and the sea-bull of the ship, and if smooth enough from her head in agony. Another of the smoke stack, that the pilot-house was heated by steam. It was very warm, and there was no necessity to get warm. The

(Concluded on fourth page.)