ANOTHER HUNTER IN THIS PROVINCE SLAIN FOR DEER

Victim of Latest Accident
Was Archie McLean of Black River

A party of ten young men and women from Black River Bridge went up the North West on a hunting trip, and succeeded on Friday in shooting one deer and wounding another. Then they divided into different parties for the purpose of surrounding the wounded animal and thereby prevent the possibility of escape. One of the party saw it and fired, and the bullet struck and killed Archie McLean on the opposite side of the circle that had been formed by the hunters. He was one of Black River's finest young men. He was a son of Mr. Hugh McLean. The remains arrived in Chatham by auto on Saturday and were taken to the Town Hall, Corner Benson, after hearing the statements of the brother and sister of the deceased, who were of the hunting party, gave permission for the removing of the remains to Black River Bridge.

New Brunswick Goes Dry 2 to 1 Majority

The second referendum to be held in this province on the liquor question was held yesterday when the electorate decided in no uncertain manner that liquor cannot be imported into New Brunswick in the future. New Brunswickers by their vote yesterday definitely decided this question by a two to one vote to make the province dry.

All counties throughout the province, with the exception of three viz:—Restigouche, Gloucester and Madawaska voted strongly in favor of becoming dry. St. John City, Moncton, Fredericton, Campbellton, Newcastle, Rexton and Harcourt gave dry majorities while Dalhousie, Bathurst, Chatham, Balmoral, Richibucto and Buctouche were in the wet column.

Newcastle gave a dry majority of 96 and Chatham went wet by 137.

Northumberland again proved her metal by giving a dry majority in the vicinity of 1700. A strenuous campaign had been carried on by those in favor of prohibition, many rallies having been held in various parts of the province at which prominent men made speeches. A strong newspaper campaign was also conducted by both parties. In Newcastle a very small vote was polled, but the Temperance forces were on the job from 8 o'clock until 6 the hour of closing the poll.

The following is the returns of Northumberland Counties' polls:

WAREHOUSE BURNED AT BURNSVILLE

Gloucester Lumber and Trading
Company Loses Property
Valued at $10,000

Bathurst, Oct. 7.—Fire destroyed one of the largest warehouses of the Gloucester Lumber & Trading Company at Burnsville on Saturday evening. The warehouse was stocked with sleds and all kinds of rigging for lumber operations, both for men and horses, and it is estimated by W. G. White that the damage approximates $10,000.

The outbreak occurred in the early evening. As the warehouse stood alone and some distance apart from the milling property there was no danger involved to the other buildings of the company; but in spite of the efforts to subdue the flames the warehouse was practically destroyed with everything in it.

STORMY MEETING IN CHATHAM

A meeting of the ratepayers held last Thursday night in the town hall was anything but gentle. The object was to vote upon the question of a $20,000 bond issue in order to assist the unemployed, the money to be expended upon the streets. Shortly after the meeting opened Mayor Mersereau had his hands full. Everyone wanted to talk at once and several prominent citizens left the meeting. Finally a standing vote was taken and by a majority of sixty to five the project carried.

ST. ANDREW'S HOLD HARVEST FESTIVAL

Sunday last, harvest thanksgiving service was held in the local Anglican Church. Good congregations were present at both morning and evening services. The Chancel step showed a display of the fruits of the earth; and the Altar was beautifully and tastefully decorated with flowers; a memorial to a departed loved one, whose remains are laid to rest in Apohaqui Anglican burying ground; and whose Father, Mother, and Sister, were present at this service. Special hymns were chosen for the occasion and the congregational singing was earnest and inspiring singing with voice and heart.

At the morning service, the Rector chose as his text: "If a man die shall he live again" and the text of the evening was: "There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body." The sermons were listened to with rapt attention, as lessons from the growth of spiritual life, were reasoned upon, and explained, all leading up, to the glorious immortality of the eternal here after. So earnest were the services, they cannot fail to be remembered and thought upon in future days, as "a time of refreshing," to every right mind and soul, who took part therein. Both "Priest and people" were inspired with the time spirit of thanksgiving and worship. It stamped every feature of the services.
