

NOTE--The First Performance on Wednesday Evening Begins at 7 Sharp.

"THE MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY."

SENSATIONAL--THE UNDERGROUND RIVER--WONDERFUL.

ARTHUR HUSKINS and DeWITT CAIRNS, The Harmony Boys.

"HER BURIED PAST"--Irene Hunt in a powerful social drama. | NEWS PICTORIAL--Interesting events | "AXEL & FLOOEY"--A dandy comedy. Coming--The wonderful, soul-stirring serial story, "THEY O' HEARTS"--will hold you enraptured, entranced, spell-bound during each instalment of this master problem play by Louis Joseph Vance.

THE NICKEL--RECOGNIZED HOME OF WORTH-WHILE ATTRACTIONS--THE NICKEL.

422nd Day of the War

Latest From the Front.

Messages Received Previous to 9 A.M.

OFFICIAL.

LONDON, Sept. 29.

The Governor, Newfoundland: General French reports severe fighting around and north of Loos, and further progress south of Loos. The ground north of Hill 70, retaken by the enemy on the 26th, is now held by us. Our captures now are over 3,000 prisoners, 21 guns, and 40 machine guns. Many were destroyed by bombardment. We are now attacking the enemy's third line.

The French Government report the capture of crests east of Souchez, and fresh progress in Champagne; 1,800 prisoners were captured near Massiges.

The total German losses caused by the Allies advance exceed three Army Corps. The total cannon brought to the rear number seventy-nine.

The Russian Government report continued fierce fighting near Dvinsk. The enemy are attacking with large forces on the Galician front.

BONAR LAW.

BRITISH SUCCESS IN MESOPOTAMIA.

LONDON, Sept. 29.

The British have won an important success in Mesopotamia, and the Turks are in full retreat toward Baghdad, whilst the British are pursuing them. An announcement of this effect was made in the Commons to-day by Austin Chamberlain. Mr. Chamberlain read a telegram from General Nixon, commanding the forces in Mesopotamia, relating to the outcome of the recent fighting. He reported that one position, carried by the British, constituted a long line of defence astride the river Tigris. At a point seven miles east of Kut two brigades crossed the river from the right bank, and by a forced march reached the left bank of the Turkish position carrying it by assault at night. The whole position has been carried. The Turkish losses in dead are described as severe. The Turks clung to their trenches with great tenacity. They were filled with corpses when the British finally carried them. A number of guns, many rifles, several machine-guns, and a quantity of ammunition were captured. General Nixon gives the British casualties as under five hundred. A second despatch from him says that the enemy's position in advance of Kut Amara, has been captured with many prisoners and guns. The enemy is in full flight toward Baghdad. Our forces are pushing the pursuit. The details will follow. General Nixon's second despatch indicates that the British forces made a long advance in the interval since the previous official report. Kut Amara is on the Tigris River, 150 miles beyond Baghdad.

BRITAIN'S NEW TARIFF.

LONDON, Sept. 29.

The Commons approved to-day the resolutions fixing import duties on tea, coffee, cocoa, sugar and dried fruits. The higher rates proposed in the Budget by Chancellor McKenna, on currants, are excluded from the dried fruit schedule, the Government having discovered the existence of a treaty with Greece, which necessitates that a year's notice must be given before the duty can be increased.

AMERICAN RECRUITS.

LONDON, Sept. 29.

There have been so many cases of recruiting sergeants inducing American members of the crews of cattle boats and other craft to join the British Army, that Robert Skinner, the American Consul General, has effected arrangements with the Board of Trade, by which such men, who report of their enlistment, shall be promptly released. The American Embassy, of late, has turned all cases over to Consul General Skinner, who now has a number of them under consideration. The facts in all the cases are similar. The men, arriving in England, are met on board ship by recruiting agents. The British Government does not favor the practice, and is doing all it can to break it up.

THE KAISER REACHES WESTERN FRONT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.

A special cable to the New York World from Paris says: "The Kaiser reached the Western front, coming through Luxemburg at breakneck speed in a special train, on Monday afternoon, and has been in continuous consultation with the Crown Prince and other generals, seeking means to bring the general advance in Champagne to a halt. This information reached me from the highest military authority. I have it that the German losses in Champagne alone totalled more than 60,000, and in Artois they have lost between 30,000 and 40,000. Although it is impossible to cable an estimate of French casualties, I am empowered to state that their total is considerably below that of the Germans."

The Fall Exhibit of Jaeger Goods for Men,

Consisting of WOOLEN UNDERWEAR, HALF HOSE, PYJAMAS, SHIRTS, BEDROOM SLIPPERS, and HOUSE SHOES, SMOKING JACKETS, DRESSING GOWNS, WOOLEN WAIST-COATS, SWEATER COATS & OVERCOATS, WOOLEN GLOVES, CAPS, WOOLEN MUFFLERS.

Will open on Thursday, September 23rd, at the Jaeger Depot,

SMYTH'S, - - 286 Water Street.

These goods are manufactured in England by an all British Co.

Phone: 726. P. O. Box, 701.

When Your going Shooting take a

KODAK

with you and be sure that you load your CAMERA with an EASTMAN CARTRIDGE FILM supplied by Tooton's, The Kodak Store, - - - 320 Water St.

FALL OPENING OF NEW GOODS at DEVINE'S.

Featuring the Latest in Fashionable Merchandise-- Many New Novelties. We invite inspection.

J. M. DEVINE,

THE RIGHT HOUSE, Cor. Water and Adelaide Streets.

through Luxemburg at breakneck speed in a special train, on Monday afternoon, and has been in continuous consultation with the Crown Prince and other generals, seeking means to bring the general advance in Champagne to a halt. This information reached me from the highest military authority. I have it that the German losses in Champagne alone totalled more than 60,000, and in Artois they have lost between 30,000 and 40,000. Although it is impossible to cable an estimate of French casualties, I am empowered to state that their total is considerably below that of the Germans."

RUSSIAN POSITIONS UNCHANGED.

LONDON, Sept. 29.

Frederick Renet telegraphs to the Daily News: "Renewing their furious attack upon Dvinsk, the Germans have been repulsed everywhere, and the Russian positions remain unchanged. All the trenches demolished by German artillery fire were re-erected during the night with strong barbed wire protections. Against these, the Germans have heaped up a wall of bodies. On other parts of the front the Germans meet the same stubborn

ON THE EVE OF AN IMPORTANT OPERATION.

ATHENS, Sept. 29.

"I believe we are on the eve of the most important operation of the war, namely, the landing of troops in Macedonia to begin a march, not so much on Constantinople as on Berlin,"

CONTINUED FIGHTING IN PROGRESS.

PARIS, Sept. 29.

Continuous fighting has been in progress all day, between Souchez and Vimy, where the Allied forces have maintained all their positions, according to an official communication issued by the French War Office to-night.

WEDDING BELLS.

PIKE-WHITE.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday last, at 3.30, at the C. of E. Cathedral, the contracting parties being Miss Elsie Pike, daughter of Capt. John H. Pike, of Channel, and Mr. John White, of Jersey Hr., formerly captain of the schr. "Tobacco," now mate of the Helen Stewart. The bride looked charming in a costume of saxe blue silk with hat to match. She was given away by Capt. Churchill, of the schr. Success. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Norman Boyce, cousin of the bride, who is attending B. F. College, and E. B. Cheesman, while the bride was attended by Miss A. Babstock and Miss L. Lukins. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon White, Rector of the Cathedral. After the ceremony the party drove to the residence of Mrs. F. Lukins, Lyon's Square, where supper was partaken of amongst a host of friends and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. After supper songs and music were rendered, and dancing was enjoyed. The bride dancing was enjoyed. At the last the able presents which show the esteem in which she was held. We wish Mr. and Mrs. White every happiness in the future.

JOINED 17th BATTALION.

ALEX. BEARNS, of this city, residing at Sydney for the past ten years, enlisted with the 17th Battalion which left Sydney a week ago yesterday.

Captain Baxter Barbour

IN CHARGE OF THREE THOUSAND TON FREIGHTER.

Another Newfoundland lad has made good recently. It is Captain Baxter Barbour, a native of Newtown, E. B., who is now master of the British steamer Dunraven, which is now loading steel at Sydney for France. The Dunraven is 3117 tons gross register, 1953 net, 3 years old, 298 horsepower, 331 feet long, 45 feet 1 inch wide, 21.8 deep and owned in Cardiff. Capt. Barbour left here in July as mate of the S. S. Bonaventure for Hudson Bay. A fortnight ago when that ship was at Halifax he sat before the Marine Examining Board and gained a master's ticket with honours and since then was appointed to Dunraven. Capt. Barbour's promotion has been rapid and we wish him continued success.

$4 Saved Two Fingers.

While at work in the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery, J. V. Besnard, of 539 Craig Street E., Montreal, had his hand badly crushed by the falling of an iron beam. Two fingers, particularly, were so badly crushed that the doctors, who were called to attend him, said they must be amputated. Mr. Besnard, however, had heard of the wonderful healing properties of Zam-Buk, and he refused to have the fingers taken off. Instead he had the fingers and the crushed hand dressed with Zam-Buk. This, he says, stopped the bleeding, eased the pain, and put the wounded members on the way to recovery. Every day he had the Zam-Buk dressing replaced, and by the time he had used eight boxes of Zam-Buk the fingers were completely healed, he could use them as before the injury, and his hand, too, was just restored.

Just think what this really meant! Think what it means to go through the world with a maimed hand, and minus two fingers! Practically a cripple! Ordinary treatment would have meant just that to Mr. Besnard. The Zam-Buk way saved him from it! By a trivial expenditure of $4 in Zam-Buk, the world's greatest healing balm, he saved himself from disablement for life!

Take the lesson to heart! If you have any injury, blood-poison, or any diseased tissue, old wound or suppurating sore, apply Zam-Buk. Don't waste time! Zam-Buk builds up new tissue, heals wounds, cuts, burns and bruises, ends eczema and eruptions, heals cold cracks, cures piles, and is the most useful and most effective balm known to present-day science.

All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or most free for prices from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Refuse harmful imitations and substitutes. Get the real thing and see the name on the box before purchasing. Imitations and substitutes of Zam-Buk would not have saved Mr. Besnard's fingers, and will not save yours!

Special Offer

Will close next Wednesday

With every 25c. crock of "Nyal's Face Cream" you will obtain a 10c. sample of "Nyal's Face Cream Soap."

Stafford's Pharmacy (Duckworth St.) Dr. F. Stafford & Son, (Theatre Hill), Agents for all Nyal's Preparations. Stafford's Drug Store (Theatre Hill), is open every night.

Wedding Bells.

PIKE-WHITE.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday last, at 3.30, at the C. of E. Cathedral, the contracting parties being Miss Elsie Pike, daughter of Capt. John H. Pike, of Channel, and Mr. John White, of Jersey Hr., formerly captain of the schr. "Tobacco," now mate of the Helen Stewart. The bride looked charming in a costume of saxe blue silk with hat to match. She was given away by Capt. Churchill, of the schr. Success. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Norman Boyce, cousin of the bride, who is attending B. F. College, and E. B. Cheesman, while the bride was attended by Miss A. Babstock and Miss L. Lukins. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon White, Rector of the Cathedral. After the ceremony the party drove to the residence of Mrs. F. Lukins, Lyon's Square, where supper was partaken of amongst a host of friends and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent. After supper songs and music were rendered, and dancing was enjoyed. The bride dancing was enjoyed. At the last the able presents which show the esteem in which she was held. We wish Mr. and Mrs. White every happiness in the future.

WARRANTS ISSUED.

The barq. Lake Simcoe, was laden for Fernambuco, was ready for sea this morning, but was prevented from sailing, and is still held up on account of four men, the majority of her sailors, absconding themselves from the vessel. Capt. Halford has sworn out warrants for the arrest of the deserters and at present the police are very active. The practice of deserting is becoming a great nuisance and vessel owners and shippers of cargoes suffer much inconvenience and expense in consequence.

LEFT ON SHOOTING TRIP.

Sir Joseph Outerbridge left by last evening's train on a shooting trip.

Prohibition

Meeting Last Night

A large and representative gathering of citizens met at the Board of Trade Rooms last night to discuss plans for the formation of a City Committee to carry on the campaign for Prohibition. Mr. H. E. Cowan presided, and amongst those present were Revs. Uphill, Pike, Whittemarsh and Hemmeon. The Chairman in explaining the object of the meeting, referred to the bill passed at the last session of the Legislature, granting a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all quarters has been most gratifying and encouraging, said the Chairman, and all the messages received breathe a sentiment of willingness to aid, and of belief in a successful issue. Mr. Cowan then announced to a plebiscite on the question of Prohibition, and briefly reviewed the work done since then to forward the movement. He emphasized the need of concentrated efforts in the outports and stated that circulars had been issued to the clergy and other influential persons in the various settlements asking them to use their utmost efforts in the cause. The response from all