

Wedding Bells.

HISCOCK-LEDEW.

On August 8th a very pretty wedding took place at Carbonear at St. James' Church, when Rev. H. V. Whitehouse united in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony Mr. Richard Hiscock and Miss Vida Joyce LeDrew. The groom is the youngest son of Mrs. E. C. Hiscock of Trinity, and the bride the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. LeDrew of Carbonear. The church was suitably decorated for the occasion, and the choir was in attendance, the hymns "The voice that breathed o'er Eden" and "O perfect Love" being sung during the service. The bride looked charming in a travelling costume with bouquet of carnations and fern, her bridesmaid being Miss Notta C. B. Hiscock, sister of the groom. The groom was assisted by Mr. H. M. Hollands, son of the late Rev. C. Hollands. After the ceremony the wedding party were entertained at McCarthy's Hotel, when the health of the happy couple was proposed by Rev. H. V. Whitehouse and suitably replied to by the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Hiscock then motored to Hr. Grace, joining the train for St. John's, where a few days were spent, thence taking the Sagona for Bonaville, and spending a week at Trinity before taking up their residence at their bungalow on Beaumont Avenue, Grand Falls. Grand Falls was reached on Monday, August 23, and the popular young couple received a hearty reception from their many friends of the paper town. Mr. Hiscock has been foreman of the Exploits Valley Royal Market for some years, and has made himself deservedly popular among the people, while Mrs. Hiscock has held, very capably, a responsible position on the teaching staff of the Grand Falls Academy for the past three years. There were very many presents from their many friends, and among the congratulatory messages received on the day of the wedding was one from a brother of the groom, Capt. George Hiscock, who wirelessed his good wishes from his steamer, the Livingstone Roe, on his way to Sweden from the U.S.A. We join in the many expressions of goodwill for the continued happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Hiscock.—Com.

Salvage Notes.

The summer vacation being spent and home once more settled into, it is time that your correspondent endeavoured to publish, for those interested, the happenings at Salvage during the last few weeks.

The children of St. Stephen's Sunday School, Salvage, held their annual picnic yesterday evening on "Net Point." The weather was delightful and the children enjoyed themselves to the full (provided that their shouts and cheers were an index of their feelings).

Miss C. Blackmore of Newtown, has been appointed as Assistant Teacher ensuing year.

Mr. Chas. Brown of Bishop's Hr. has had his shop taken down and carried to Alexander Bay, where he is rebuilding. Mr. Brown hoping to remove his family to the latter place sometime during the autumn.

Miss Lucy Lane, Coward's Island, is spending a short holiday with her sister, Mrs. Chas. Brown, Bishop's Hr.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Miles are spending their summer holidays with the parents of Mrs. Miles, (Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown, Bishop's Hr.) We understand Mr. Miles leaves next week to resume teaching.

Miss Rebecca Curtis, King's Cove, has been spending the summer with her aunt, Mrs. John Moss, Bishop's Hr.

By the last Malakoff Mrs. A. Squires was taken to the Hospital. We hope Mrs. Squires may soon return thoroughly cured of her malady.

Mrs. H. J. Oldford, Salvage, returned from St. John's to-day.

Mrs. H. Burden, Salvage, who had been away for a short holiday, returned home last week, looking fine after her trip.

Mr. Jas. Burden, in company with several other men went to Gambo yesterday, in motor boat, en route for the "Paper City" in search of employment. Only a few men are left in these borders now—as nearly all have gone in search of the wherewithal to live, as the fishery has been a total blank (with the exception perhaps of one case). At present those fishing rarely get a barrel per day, and generally not half that amount. Squid is fairly plentiful the past few days.

During the summer Dr. and Mrs. MacDonald had the great pleasure of seeing all their offspring at home. Nurse MacDonald (Heart's Content) was home for a week or so. Kenneth was up from Botwood and Alastair was home for a short while. Nurse MacDonald is still at home. Mrs. MacDonald is at Greenspond visiting friends, etc.

During the past few months we have heard and read quite a bit about "Buried Treasure." In next week's notes we shall try and give a short account of the "supposed" piratical loot at Bar Harbor and the attempts made to recover same.—CORRESPONDENT Aug. 20, 1921.

At Last Outpost of Civilization.

Augusta, Maine, Aug. 20.—Governor Baxter received yesterday an undated letter from Captain D. E. Macmillan, the Arctic explorer, now on an expedition to Baffin Land, in which he said he had reached what might be called the last outpost of civilization.

"I have taken the last provisions and fresh water and am now awaiting weather to clear before proceeding northward to Hopdale, the first Eskimo settlement," he wrote.

"It is two above freezing here today with many icebergs in sight, but no drift ice to hinder us on the coast," according to wireless reports. The Bowdoin is proving to be a wonderful sea boat. Had her going the other day with ice rail under and forerigging cutting every fave. Was a bit anxious about my main boom which was bending like rubber but she came through all right."

Mainly About People.

Gerald Ritchie, a great-grandson of Thackeray, died recently in Chelsea.

President Harding has written one book, "Our Common Country," a book about the great land of which he is now the first citizen.

One hundred thousand copies have already been subscribed in America for Sir Hall Caine's new novel, "The Master of Man."

There was a Gloomy Dean before Dean Inge. His name was Donne. He was the eighteenth-century poet and a predecessor of Dean Inge at St. Paul's. Mr. Gosse calls Donne "the Sepulchral Dean."

Sir James Barrie must vehemently disapprove of the Russian Soviet Government, which has just issued an edict that children's tales must be devoid of all elements of superstition, and must contain no mention of angels and fairies.

A Delaware bookshop's window had this notice:—

"THIS IS POET'S DAY."

"Personally and confidentially speaking, we'd have half the birds shot at sunrise if we could get away with it. But as we can't we content ourselves with displaying them all here and leaving their fate to you. And in case none of this poetry suits you, here is a rhyming dictionary with which you can write your own."

It is said that Mr. Winston Churchill is to receive £15,000 for the British rights of his book on the war. The American and foreign rights will probably be worth as much more. Is this a record?

It is becoming the fashion of novelists to follow the example of Anthony Trollope, Charles Garvice, and Anthony Hope, and to take an office and work there regular hours like business men.

Touching Mr. Lowther's retirement—is the House of Commons an unhealthy place? Many elderly politicians give evidence of great vitality. But perhaps this is a case of the survival of the fittest. When Mr. Gladstone was in his sixty-fourth year, as recorded in his diary when standing with the Queen at Balmoral, he walked thirty-three miles over the roughest ground he had ever passed. Ten years before, after a walk of twenty-five miles, he remarked, "This is rather too much for my stiffening limbs. My day of long stretches is, I think, gone by."
