Harbor Grace Notes.

Mr. R. W. Strong paid a short visit to the city last week returning again on Friday.

Mr. C. A. Jerrett of Briggs was in on Friday of last week.

Mr. M. Yeman arrived from St. John's by Saturday night's train, having spent the week there on a holiday.

Mr. Charles Webber arrived from St. John's last week and came on to town.

Mr. G. G. Webber and friends, who have been absent from home for two years and will likely spend winter here with his mother, Mrs. G. G. Webber and friends. We welcome the young Capt. to his home and trust that his holiday will be very enjoyable one.

For the Christmas holidays, the great day schools resumed work in this morning (Monday). We are glad to see the little "let up" from the holidays will be very beneficial to both the scholars and that they go back to school and take up their tasks again with fresh vigour, may the coming year's examination be a record year for the causes entering to sit for same.

Mr. Leslie Chase of the Cable Office, St. John's, is in town spending his holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Chase and friends.

Mr. Robert Payne, who was in town to see his sister, Mrs. Samuelson, off on the S.S. Resaland, returned to town again by Saturday train.

Mr. Ben. Parsons of the Cable Staff, St. John's, is in town on a holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons and friends.

Mr. Frances (Navy, R.C.) Teacher at St. John's, spent the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Casey.

We are pleased to see Mr. J. A. Mann able to get out again, after being confined to his home for several days, as the result of a heavy cold.

It had been inclined to think that the "Mummers" were over, but it is not the case, for this time it is quite a number took part in that special bit of amusement the Festive Season affords. It was passed off here in its usual way. If there were any so-called "kiss" or bees disguised as confederates or like, arrived on the night of the 7th or 8th or later.

great care was taken so that few, if any, would be the wiser of it. Therefore we might say "no drunks" were in evidence, and but for the Mummers, it would scarcely appear as Christmas at all; that is from the jovial point of view.

Miss Mollie Pugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pugh, is filling the vacancy left by Miss Fannie Parsons, who has resigned her position as Teacher of the Junior Department of the Methodist Superior School, and Miss Pugh commenced duties this morning. We wish her much success.

"In the midst of life we are in death" is indeed very true, but brought more forcibly to our notice during the last few days; and may we say, it matters not whether it be young or old, for the summons comes and the call must be answered. This time a young life has been removed from our midst; we refer to the sudden passing of Mr. William H. Kitchen, son of Mrs. and the late John Kitchen, who while on his way to undergo an operation at the General Hospital, St. John's, passed away on the train before having reached the city. He had been ill but a few days, and left on Friday morning for treatment, as above. He was very bright when leaving, and, no doubt, had great hopes of coming home again fully recovered, after a short time; yet it was willed otherwise, and the young lad has now entered into the other world. His widowed mother may be comforted somewhat by the thought that he was a good boy, and although his life with all its opportunities has been cut off at such an early age, he has, without a doubt, merited the smile of approval of the Divine Master. He was employed for some time as messenger with the Anglo-American Telegraph Co. here, where he was doing well, and gave every indication of becoming a competent operator should he continue. Although not out of his teens, he showed that he possessed many many qualities, and everyone had a good word for Willie, as he was mostly called. His body was brought on here by Saturday afternoon's train, accompanied by Mr. William Adams, who was with him going over to the city. The funeral took place yesterday (Sunday) and was one of the largest seen here for some time. The Teachers and scholars of St. Paul's Sunday School preceded the hearse and accompanied by a large concourse of young and old, the day being a beautiful one and the sun shone in all its splendour. Service was conducted at St. Paul's Church, the Rector, Rev. W. R. J. Higgitt officiating, and at the graveside when the body had been committed to Mother Earth the burial service came to a close by singing a verse of hymn "Abide With Me," and so, in sure and certain hope we leave the departed lad to await the glad Easter morn. The community extends deepest sympathy to the widowed mother, brother and sister in the irremediable loss they have sustained. May they feel the touch of Him who has promised to be near to those who mourn.—C.O.R.

THE OLD BOYS.

I live here where many old boys come, to spend their years declining; no more for them the busy hum of commerce, they're opining. The heat and burden of the day they've borne, it seems, for ages, and now it's up to them to play, like birds released from cages. When they arrive they're all so glad it does me good to view them; but soon I see them looking sad, and fancies come and chew them. This is the life they thought would please, in years of stern endeavor, long days of play and restful ease, and hard work gone forever. This is the life of which they dreamed in years of busy toil, where trolleys clanged and whistles screamed and weary crowds were toiling. And now they wish they might be back amid the wild commotion; they walk along the sandy track, and rubber at the ocean. They gaze upon the views sublime, their faces split with yawning, and spend large portions of their time doggating and doggoning. Soon, soon they tire of luscious ease, of tennis, golf and fishing, of auto rides and quilting bees—for Old Head Work they're wishing. And one by one they go away in motors bravely chugging, to mix again in yonder fray where strong men do their struggle.

It is safe to assert, that given the means to do so, a large percentage of our working people would emigrate this spring to Canada and the States, and many who can afford to do so will not hurriedly take such a step now, as they will await the outcome of pending legislation on this most important matter.

Most people in discussing the subject deem it one of the most momentous proposals ever to be offered for legislative consideration. It is a matter that is pregnant with possibilities for the well-being of the State and its people, and in its discussion I have no doubt the people will expect, nay, will demand, that partisan politics be avoided, and each feature of the proposition be accorded a square deal.

I hold no brief for its originators, but I deem that it can be discerned, even by a casual glance at the prospectus, that they place implicit faith in the success of the venture, to which (even if we have to make sacrifices to do) we should, as a Dominion, contribute. I profess no intimate knowledge of the niceties and intricacies of finance, and therefore deem myself unqualified to say much on this aspect of the case, but cannot conceive that the guarantee of a million dollars or so can, or should, be an impediment to the successful adoption of this scheme. How many millions of dollars have been borrow-

Workman Sees Possibilities

AN INTELLIGENT DISCUSSION OF A BIG QUESTION.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—The outline of the scheme for the development of the Humber River Valley, which appeared in Monday's issue of your popular and universally read journal, affords a matter which will be pursued with keenest interest by the people of the whole Dominion of Newfoundland, and will in a special sense appeal to the great laboring element; amongst whom must necessarily be included the fishermen. The repeated references in the Telegram to the possibility of Newfoundland's great codfishery (with its other piscatorial adjuncts) being inadequate to support the Dominion, come as a timely warning to the country, so that as an alternative to prospective financial and economic collapse, the means for the development of other industries must be sought and presented with promptness and vigor. As we all are well aware, Newfoundland, though the oldest of the British Dominions, is yet the newest, in the sense that its great natural potentialities (though more or less recognized) have never been utilized to any great extent, and a virgin country awaits the enterprise that will develop its undoubtedly great wealth.

It would seem to be providential that this Humber Valley Scheme should be promulgated in this unfortunate crisis in the history of old Terra Nova. Depression, the unfortunate result of the Great War, has seized all countries, but its grim effects are being felt here, possibly with more poignancy than any other, for want, in great measure of variety in industry. The "peasantry" of Newfoundland, recognized as its brave and hardy fishers, will always and successfully "troll the finny deep," but the day is coming, if it has not already arrived, when the hook and net will find powerful auxiliaries in the pick and drill of the miner, the axe of the lumberman and the "liquid crystal" of the river and lake.

Sir, I care not who has initiated the present effort to improve industrial conditions here, but I greet him or them and wish the movement the success it deserves. I write as one who must depend on the labour of his arms for sustenance, and cannot but deplore, with thousands of others, the conditions which impose enforced idleness on so many willing workers, at present. The movers in this attempt at developing the rich Humber Valley have assuredly launched this grand idea at the psychological moment, for never has the labor market in such a hopeless condition.

With thanks in anticipation of publication.

Yours truly,
 WORKMAN.

Dear Sir.—I have just received from one of our volunteer workers at St. Anthony a cheque for one thousand dollars for the Grenfell Association Endowment Fund. The donor says "when you have been on the coast and seen the institutions, and the extent of their help and good influence, you are glad to give something to carry them on." This makes over $10,000 given by volunteer workers at St. Anthony in the last twelve months to that fund. It scarcely looks like a blackmaling enterprise.

Very truly yours,

Vancouver Woman is Now Rejoicing Over Her Recovery

Mrs. Barnes Declares Change in Her Condition is Truly Remarkable.

"The wonderful change in my health seems almost too good to be true; I owe it all to Tanlac and never intend to be without it after this," said Mrs. H. Barnes, 536 Cambie St., Vancouver, B.C.

"For more than five years I had stomach trouble in a bad form, and I suffered a great deal more than I can tell from indigestion, nausea and headaches. I had a constant ache in my back and this troubled me so much, especially at night, that I got very little sleep. My face was just the color of chalk and I was so weak and worn out I had to lie down most of the time. I had almost given up hope, but Tanlac has made me well and strong and I enjoy life now as I haven't been able to do for years. I will always praise Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

ed during the past 30 years and expended with little or nothing tangible to show? And shall this expenditure, even if necessary, nullify such a promising proposition? It is to be hoped not. To anyone who has read carefully the outlines of the proposition in the Telegram it must be apparent that the sincerity of the promoters is evident in every sentence. They have secured men of the greatest ability as engineers, surveyors and experts in the several departments of the work, and associated with them are the most solid and prominent financiers of the Empire, who would not, nor who could not, lend their aid to any scheme which might, peradventure, become a failure; for to do so would mean loss of credit as well as prestige in the Financial World and entail eventual disaster to them. Faith in the possibilities of this venture should be quickened when we contemplate Grand Falls, Bishop's Falls, Bell Island and the cross country railway, which, according to pessimists, would traverse a howling wilderness, but which, despite its vicissitudes, has been the key to the development of an otherwise inaccessible terrain, and an indispensable utility to the country.

Work for the people is indispensable to the recovery of Newfoundland, and this enterprise will afford it for several years to come while the pulp and other industries which will originate will afford employment to large numbers for all time; so that the fishery alone will not, as it has in the past, be the only source of revenue. Much can be written as to the beneficial possibilities of this great enterprise for Newfoundland, and its people, and if you accord me the privilege of your columns I will have something more to say on the question later.

With thanks in anticipation of publication.

Yours truly,
 WORKMAN.

Placentia Notes.

We are glad to welcome to our town Dr. O'Connell, who is henceforth to assume the medical practice of this place. Dr. O'Connell comes here from St. John's, whose people speak highly of his efficiency as a medical man. Already, by his genial and gentlemanly manner, Dr. O'Connell has made a large circle of friends here. We bespeak for him a large and successful practice.

We are informed that Dr. McKendrick, who for over 30 years has acted as physician to the people of Placentia, has now retired. Dr. McKendrick's name is a household word in Placentia. His gentle and courteous manner has made him much beloved by the people of this locality. His generosity towards those who were not blessed with a proper proportion of this world's goods, is well remembered by them with many "A God Bless Him." We hope he spends the remaining years in that peace and contentment which his labours have earned.

The Xmas season was replete with entertainment, as will be seen by the following. On St. Stephen's night the ladies of the Parish opened the Christmas Tree, which had a decidedly successful run of three nights. The different booths were well stocked with a splendid line of Fancy Goods, Toys, etc., and were well patronized. The arrangements and decorations were most tasty. The lines of fancy work displayed were the finest we have ever seen, and reflects most creditably on the handwork of the ladies and children of the Parish. We understand the financial returns were beyond all expectations. The organizers are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts.

On Thursday night, the 29th inst., under the direction of Mr. T. P. Kemp, the Jersey Side Dramatic Troupe presented to a full house a comedy-drama, "Hearts and Diamonds," which was heartily enjoyed by the large audience, the different actors portraying the characters of the play excellently. Special mention should be made of the stage settings and scenery, which were tasty and most realistic. Rev. Fr. O'Flaherty graced the performance with his patronage. We hope this troupe will give us such another entertainment in the near future.

We wish our readers a Happy and Prosperous New Year.—C.O.R., Placentia, Dec. 31, 1921.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Ready and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 1/2 ounce of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 18 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 1/2 ounce of Pinex with full directions for use. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

"Blair's for Values"

HENRY BLAIR

—By Bud Fisher, Mixtures Which Make You Ill.

It is very unwise to give children milk pudding after meat. When you take milk into the stomach it immediately curdles.

If there is meat or fish with milk, the milk clots upon it, becomes hard curd and prevents the digestion of either the meat or the milk.

Milk should not be taken for at least four hours after meat has been eaten. There are other foods and drinks which, wholesome in themselves, may become almost poisonous when taken together. Bananas have a very high food value—greater indeed than almost any other fruit. But they should never be taken at the same time, for with most people the mixture prevents their digestion. As for drinking spirits of any kind on top of bananas, the result may be really dangerous.

Stout can be taken with oysters, but spirits should not be drunk with these shell fish. Whisky, in particular, renders them most indigestible.
