Found Guilty

Of Attempting to Wreck the Welland Canal-Sentenced to Imprisonment for Life.

Welland, Ont., May 26.-The jury in the Welland Canal dynamiters' case returned a verdict of guilty against all three prisoners. Chancellor Boyd sentenced them to imprisonment for

When the trial was resumed yesterday afternoon, Wm. Mains, policeman, Niagara Falls, Ont., sworn, said that he saw the three prisoners together twice on Bridge street on Tuesday, April 27, and three times together on the same street on Wednesday. On Thursday, he saw Dullman twice on Bridge street on Tuesday, April 27, and three times together on Thursday he saw Dullman at the Rosli, and Walsh between the Rosli and the river. On Friday he saw Dullman and Walsh separately. On Saturday, about 2 o'cock, he saw Dullman outside the Rosli House. He saw Nolan go over the bridge and turn up the road. Dullman started and followed Nolan. He caught up to him, and they turned toward the M. C. R. de-Witness instructed Officer Lewis to follow. He arrested Dullman at the Rosli at 10 o'clock at night. Dullman refused to give his name, residence or any information. Witness found two cash fare tickets of the Buffalo Falls View Railroad, dated April 14 and March 23, on Dullman.

Joseph Spencer, sworn, said he drove a hack at Niagara Falls, Ont. He saw the three prisoners together, and drove them between the bridges. Dullman paid the bill. On the 19th he drove Walsh and Nolan to Thorold. They asked about Merritton and Thorold. Witness told them to see the old canal at Thorold. On the way down witness met Dullman in a livery rig driving towards the falls.

George Thomas, clerk in Taylor's grocery, Niagara Falls, Ont., said that he sold a clothesline to Walsh on the afternoon of Saturday, April 21.

George Waters, news-agent, Niagara Falls, Ont., said he saw Dullman and Walsh on the street on April 21. Walsh went into Taylor's store. Clerk Thomas came to the door, got a clothesline, and went in again. Subsequently Walsh came out with a parcel under his arm. Several experts on dynamite and other witnesses gave their evidence, including Superintendent Thompson, of the Welland Canal, who swore that the damage to the locks was from $1,000 to $1,500. If the explosion had been successful it would have caused loss of life and property. THE DEFENSE.

The hearing of evidence then closed, and William German, for Dullman, addressed the jury for an hour and a half, using every point possible in favor of his client. He asked the jury to drop from their minds all rumors and reports that they had heard, and weigh the evidence carefully and give even-handed justice. Every man was considered innocent until proven guilty. He went over the ground from the time the three arrived at Buffalo, and contended that not even suspicious circumstances connected Dullman with the case. His being in the company of Walsh, and Nolan, assuming them to be guilty, was not sufficient to convict. He traced his actions up to the time of his arrest. Had he been guilty why leave the country and escape arrest? All his actions proved innocence. No positive evidence connecting Dullman with the case had been produced, and he asked for his

THE CROWN ATTORNEY'S PLEA. Mr. E. F. B. Johnston addressed the court for an hour and a quarter, confining himself chiefly to connecting Dullman with the crime. Mr. Johnston's arraignment was a strong one, showing the chain of evidence which implicated the three men during all the time they were under surveillance. He urged the jury to do their duty regardless of consequences, and have the dynamiters' hands paralyzed in Canada now and forever.

His lordship, in sentencing the prisoners, found no mitigating circumstances. The prisoners, he said, here with evil intent. They had planned the deed long, seriously and deliberately. Karl Dullman, as the leading spirit, deserved more even than Walsh and Nolan. The sentence of the court was life imprisonment for all three.
