Rev. D. C. MacGregor, D.D., Addresses Hamilton Road Church.

Unity in place of competition, and protherhood instead of discord is the great need of the church today. Thus did Rev. D. C. MacGregor, .D. of St. Andrew's church, paint e picture and plead the cause of ch union in an adress delivered Hamilton Road Presbyterian Commenting upon the fact that his irst convictions in favor of organic mion had come to him while on a mission field in Western Canada some rears ago, Dr. MacGregor stated that the world was not interested in isms,' but in Jesus Christ."

The 'world' means the un-spiritual people, and since spiritual things are only spiritually discerned the unspiritual can only judge by what they see. Is the unspiritual man impressed by the spiritual unity underlying the church in the world? Or is he impressed by the divisions, sectarianism and denominationalism to sees in the church today? Christ's sees in the church today? Christ's e sees in the church today? Christs rayer must mean a visible unity hat will impress the world. The world must be made to see the invisble because the invisible arough things that appear."

Turning to the Westminster consession of faith, Dr. MacGregor laimed that the confession had been rawn up at an assembly in 1643 as trawn up at an assembly in 1643 as a basis of union upon which the form churches of Great Britain and eland could unite." Dr. MacGregor ated that there were some things

Under the resolutions, empire dried fruit is to enter the British market free, while foreign dried fruit will be dutiable at 10s 6d per cwt. This applies to such foreign dried fruit (e.g. apples, pears and peaches) as the dominions may consider of interest to their trade.
