

OR C BIG LE n Mowers Utensils,
c., etc.
Cost

Opening

larmalade
b this with this grand de Oranges
three dozen for $1.00
Per Lb. 2/4c

Corner Yates and Douglas Streets Phone 312

STUMP PULLING
MERS—The Stump Puller is the most powerful than any other ever catches from one to twenty tons clear up to a radius of 300 feet and without moving; can be used with ease in thirty minutes; can cover with green or old m. Those having land to clear have one of these. Apply at

POLY AND LIVESTOCK
Registered Guernsey Bull, sold on May 18th, very gentle, $85. For further particulars C. R. Young, Bazel, Maple Bay Vancouver Island, B.C.
ALE—My flock of registered pure-bred sheep, 12 ewes, 12 lambs. Will sell at a bargain price soon or to anyone taking the sheep acre on my own property or on any other island and the Islands. Featherbell, "Glen Lee" Col. O.

D—To the premises of W. F. and, 6 head of cattle, 1 short-horned, 1 Jersey and Holstein, 1 yearling, 2 short-horned, 1 blue and white heifer, 3 old Jersey and short-horned, 3 old Jersey and short-horned. Expenses of advertising adages. Rock Hill ranch, Lake

per dozen .25
baking, per box .08 to .10
local, per box .20 to .25
per dozen .20
ble, per lb. .25
table, per lb. .25 to .30
ses, each .50 to .59
es, per lb. .20

meats.
per lb. .30
Jordan, per lb. .75
California, per lb. .75
s, each .20
per lb. .30 s, per lb. .20

fresh, per lb. .10 to .13
smoked, per lb. .08 to .10
sh, per lb. .06 to .08
s, fresh, per lb. .06 to .08
fresh, per lb. .06 to .08
fresh, red, per lb. .15
smoked, per lb. .15
Olympia, per pint .40 to .50
Toke Point, per dozen .40 to .50 per lb. .25 to .30
per lb. .06 to .10
kippered, per lb. .12 to .15
Haddie, per lb. .12 to .15
s, for .25

Meat and Poultry.
No. 1, per lb. .05 to .10
Red, per lb. .15 to .20
Mammoth Red, per lb. .15 to .20
Whiter, per lb. .15 to .20
Ailsay, per lb. .22 to .25
Alfalfa, per lb. .22 to .25
Perennial, per lb. .09 to .10
ss, Italian, per lb. .09 to .10
y, per lb. .10 to .12
Grass, per lb. .10 to .12
Blue Grass, per lb. .10 to .12
Brass (fancy mixed), .10 to .12
per lb. .10 to .12
per lb. .04 to .05
per lb. .45 to .50
Oats, per ton .45 to .50
Wheat, per ton .45 to .50

CHECK PASSED ON FREE IMMIGRATION

Dominion Authorities Restrict Work of Charitable Organizations

London, April 22.—Canada has put a stop to the indiscriminate sending by the Dominion by charitable organizations of the surplus population of London and other English cities. During the past few weeks the Canadian immigration officer in London refused to give his sanction, which is required by the steamship companies, for the immigration of 50 persons, the poor that those they propose to send over, and he has been ordered to task by the head of that organization for his refusal. His reply was that Canada would accept only those whose fitness as settlers he was assured of. The certificates of the companies, the poor that those they proposed to emigrate are fit and proper persons, will not be accepted. If, as is the case with the Salvation Army, they can be shown that each has work to go to, there will be no interference as long as the emigrants are physically and morally fit, but otherwise something further than an assurance that they are worthy of assistance must be forthcoming.

This policy has been rather severely criticized in England by those who believe that Canada owes it to the Empire to take those who cannot find work here, but a recent statement of waiting until there is a greater demand for labor before campaigning for a movement Canada-wide of men without means.

MURDER UNBELIEVERS

Bloody Doctrine of the "Dreamers" as Expounded by Leaders of Their Sect

Medicine Hat, Alta., April 24.—In the trial for arson for burning the house of Joseph Lehr, members of the sect known as the Dreamers, and Heltz, of Irvine, an ex-Dreamer, on the stand yesterday stated that dreams were discussed at the meetings. If the dreams could be interpreted, the interpretation was supposed to be carried out by the Dreamers. If one who dreamed could not execute the dream some one else was supposed to do it. It was once told also that she must burn the Baptist and Lutheran churches at Josephburg. This was not the result of a dream but the result of a suggestion of a Mr. Karlotto who the suggestion he said he would do her a good turn if she burnt the churches.

Letters were read at the meetings from God Jacob and other instructions to kill and murder unbelievers. The names of John Lehr, W. E. Martin, J. P. Bouch and Dias had been mentioned for destruction. After Jacob Merkel Jr. did the shooting in Dakota all the Dreamers were supposed to go blind. All were armed in Canada. The killing of the Bible in court had been the dream of the Dreamers and it was said that the dream of Emmanuel Gill told of a dream in which he was to shoot his brother, William Gill, through the window of his house. Emmanuel Gill and Dias had fought, and when the story was told at the home it was decided that Dias was to be destroyed, as well as Michael Gill, who had assisted him. Witness room with his brother and the prisoner past Michael Gill's place. The prisoner showed the witness a revolver with which he stated he would have shot anyone down if he would say a word as they passed.

AMMUNITION AND BOMBS

Lublin, Russian Poland, April 24.—The murder of a policeman yesterday was followed by the capture of 30 workmen in local factories, where the police found stores of ammunition and melinite bombs.

TORONTO LICENSE FIGHT

April, April 23.—The license reduction by-law remains quashed and the courts will not interfere. The attempt to reinstate it is being made by judgment of the divisional court, rendered today.

INSURANCE BILL MAY GO OVER

Ottawa, April 24.—It is probable that the insurance bill will be given until next session, in view of the differences of experts with regard to some important clauses of the bill.

YOUNG LAD DROWNED

Carleton Place, April 24.—Lord Thomas, 15 years old, son of Henry Thomas was drowned in the river today while playing in a boat with other boys. His body was recovered.

ST. LAWRENCE OPENING

Montreal, April 24.—Advice received by the marine office states that the government steamer Lady Grey broke up the ice in the river channel between Balaclava and Three Rivers, a distance of twenty miles, and the ice is now clearing out.

ARGENTINE OUTBREAKS

Governor of Santiago Province Forced to Depose—Another Governor in Trouble

Buenos Ayres, April 23.—News has been received here of a serious situation in the province of Corrientes. The provincial chamber of deputies has approved a motion that the governor of the province be arraigned by a local court on charges of treason, and the press predicts that anarchy may be expected in Corrientes.

Furthermore, a revolutionary outbreak has taken place in the province of Santiago. A band of revolutionaries attacked the governor of the province and drove him and his ministers from office. They then proclaimed a provincial government. The governor was wounded and his brother was killed in the encounter. Troops were summoned and put an end to the uprising. The revolutionaries have been disbanded.

INVOLUNTARY BATHS

Two Unfortunates Unintentionally Sample Temperature of Water at Vancouver

Vancouver, April 23.—The bathing pool was opened this morning at Gorepoint slib, but the persons who went in the water were involuntary swimmers, and in one case a fatal result was narrowly averted.

One of the crew of the tug Canadian, lying at Gore-avenue slip, who working on dock, stumbled and fell, breaking into deep water.

He was only six feet from the wharf, but could not swim a stroke, and might have easily drowned had it not been for the prompt action of Captain McEwen and the people on the slip, who threw a rope to the struggling man and fished him out, little the worse for his experience.

At the New England Fish Company's rescued by her at Seattle point. On board the Celestial Empire was Captain Freeman's little son, aged 8, and in scrambling about the crowded decks of the trawler he fell overboard into the chilly water of the inlet. Luckily the youngster could swim, and was rescued without any difficulty.

The Phoenix, of the New England Fish company's fleet has been overhauled and will be taken out by Captain Freeman while the Celestial Empire gets a cleaning. The Manhattan arrived this morning with 35,000 pounds of halibut, after a rough trip, and a heavy loss.

Bank Clerk's Suicide

Guelph, Ont., April 23.—Percy Perry, son of Principal Perry of the high school, Waterdown, committed suicide by shooting himself at Fergus yesterday. He was employed as a clerk in a bank, and was the only clerk in Toronto. No reason can be assigned.

Railway Commission's Work

Ottawa, April 23.—The railway commission on May 5 will take up the case of liability of railways for damage to or loss of freight put off at flag stations, but without engines or permitting automatic cent-in-the-slot machines to be left out over Sunday in the doorway of their stores.

Machine Worked on Sunday

Toronto, April 23.—According to the ruling of Magistrate Kingsford in the police court yesterday, it is illegal even for a machine to sell chewing gum on Sunday. The shopkeepers were convicted, but without fines, or permitting automatic cent-in-the-slot machines to be left out over Sunday in the doorway of their stores.

FOUR OF FAMILY DIE IN FIRE ON PRAIRIES

Young Girl, Sole Survivor, Vainly Sought to Save Relatives

Battleford, April 22.—Miss Anna Mathews is the only survivor of a family of five as the result of a prairie fire in the Tramping Lake district. She retained the purchase of the Transcontinental railway commission for $25,771 of land in St. Boniface, Man., for which she sold for the Grand Trunk Pacific.

John Henry Keene, Winnipeg, gave testimony to the effect that he purchased at section 24-14-10 for $5,000 as a mere investment and sold it to the Transcontinental commission for $138,000.

BALTIC AND NORTH SEAS

Powers Affix Their Signatures to Neutrality Agreements, Affecting Northern Waters

Berlin, April 23.—The North Sea and Baltic treaties were signed at the foreign office today by Her von Solsen, German secretary for foreign affairs, the British and French ambassadors, and the Danish, Dutch and Swedish ministers. It is expected that an agreement will be reached by the powers regarding the time when the text of the treaties is to be made public.

Stockholm, April 23.—Simultaneously with the signing of the North Sea and Baltic agreements, an official of the Swedish government and the British and French diplomats, and the Swedish ministers, to Russia affixed their signatures to an agreement terminating the Stockholm treaty of 1857. This treaty was an alliance between Great Britain, France and Sweden, and meant the integrity of Norway and Sweden against Russia.

St. Petersburg, April 23.—A declaration of mutual recognition by Russia, Germany, Sweden and Denmark of the principle of the territorial status quo of the Barents and Kara seas signed at the Russian foreign office at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Foreign Minister Lwowitsky signed for the Russian government, while the British and French ministers, to Russia affixed their signatures for their respective governments.

WILLIAM JOLLIFFE HAS TWO LITTLE MASCOTS

Salvage Company's Tug Brought Two Bears Picked Up By Seaman at Skidagate

With two bears, small cubs that might have been Teddies if they had not been born on the Queen Charlotte Islands, the tug William Jolliffe of the B. C. Salvage company reached port yesterday at Skidagate and northern lighthouses, buoys and beacons. The William Jolliffe took stores and supplies to the lighthouses at Egge Island, and returned to the ship.

The cubs were promptly adopted as the mascots of the big tug, and Kuroki, the Japanese cook, had them in a cage at the end of the strings. The cubs were promptly adopted as the mascots of the big tug, and Kuroki, the Japanese cook, had them in a cage at the end of the strings.

ACHATES A FINE VESSEL

New Tugboat Added to Grear Fleet Had Trial Trip Yesterday to Ladysmith

The new tug Achates, which J. H. Greer of this city has added to the list of tugboats in his management, had her trial trip yesterday, when she proceeded to Ladysmith from Vancouver for coal. The Achates, whose home port is Victoria, is unusually spacious, carries a five-horse power gasoline launch in addition to her two dinghies.

The craft is owned by M. L. Evans, A. Evans and A. G. Barnard, and was constructed at the Pacific coast yard, Coal Harbor. She is 114 feet 6 inches over all and has a beam of 23 feet with a moulded depth of 6 feet 6 inches and a draft of 6 feet 6 inches. The boat was built under great difficulties and when the boiler was being put in the slings broke and put it in the water.

Died of Apoplexy

Brandon, Man., April 25.—Mrs. N. A. English, wife of a C.P.R. conductor, was found dead in her bed this morning. Apoplexy was the cause of death. She leaves a large family.

Subscribe for THE COLONIST

Lutheran Settlers

Winnipeg, April 23.—Hundreds of German Lutherans from Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska are preparing to emigrate to the Canadian west. Thirty thousand acres of land have been secured for them in the Tramping Lake district. They are a thrifty class of people, and will make ideal settlers.

Death of J. J. Cassidy

Toronto, April 23.—J. J. Cassidy, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' association, died today. He was well known to the manufacturers of the Dominion, having been before its organization for fifteen years secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers' association. He leaves a widow and three children.

WESTMINSTERS FOR EAST

Champion Red Shirts May Travel After Minto Cup About Middle of Lacrosse Season

New Westminster, April 24.—The members of the local Lacrosse club are again discussing the prospect of a trip east in quest of the Minto cup and the world's championship title, and it looks as though the team would make the trip probably about midsummer.

Mayor Kearny has offered on behalf of two local men to travel with the team on the trip, putting up about $3,000, and trusting to the gate receipts for reimbursement. The scheme would include the playing the exhibition matches with Tecumseh, Capital, Cornwall and Montreal before playing the Shamrock for the Minto cup, and a game would also be played at the Dominion exhibition in Calgary on the return trip. The present plans provide for the team leaving about the middle of June and returning about the middle of July. Should the club finally decide to send the team east, permission will be asked from the British Columbia Lacrosse association to alter the dates of two scheduled matches which would come on during the time the team would be away.

A meeting of the executive of the lacrosse club will be held next evening to further consider the matter.

GETS GOOD PROFIT FROM PUBLIC GUEST

Land at St. Boniface Costs the Transcontinental Large Amount

Ottawa, April 23.—In the Commons public accounts committee this morning Mr. Northrup moved that a summons be issued for the appearance of Mr. Northrup at the Commons, Wednesday, to give evidence as to the fishery rights secured by him in James Bay, and that the general question as to the issue of fishery leases be taken up then and prosecuted till concluded.

Mr. Barker, M.P. for Hamilton, then took up the inquiry into the purchase by the Transcontinental railway commission for $25,771 of land in St. Boniface, Man., for which she sold for the Grand Trunk Pacific.

John Henry Keene, Winnipeg, gave testimony to the effect that he purchased at section 24-14-10 for $5,000 as a mere investment and sold it to the Transcontinental commission for $138,000.

CARDINAL LOGUE VISITS NEW YORK

Will Take Part in Celebration of Catholic Centenary of City

New York, April 23.—Cardinal Logue, the head of the Catholic church in Ireland, arrived in this country today on the Cunard liner Lusitania. He came here to take part in the Catholic centenary celebration, which begins in New York tomorrow. Owing to a heavy fog, the Lusitania was delayed at Sandy Hook until this afternoon, when she slowly steamed to quarantine. Here Archbishop Farley and a score of leading clergymen and other well-known citizens met the distinguished prelate.

"I have little to say," the Cardinal replied when he was besieged by an army of newspaper men. "I'm glad to be here with Archbishop Farley on this solemn occasion, and to join with him and his people in solemn thanksgiving for the faith that is in us and the progress that faith has made in your country. I shall probably remain here a month, and I expect to visit your principal cities."

Asked about conditions in Ireland, he replied that the South of Ireland was very poor, and that it grieved him to see that many young men were seeking employment in Dublin and being unable to get it.

"I really believe that you in this country will help to give a salvation of your faith," he continued. "Numerous merchants complain that they cannot export their products to America with profit. It would be a great help to the Irish people if you in America could do something to help them. The merchants would be encouraged, and there would at least be some opportunity of the Irish people in the few industrial institutions that remain with us."

The Irish cardinal is not optimistic in his views concerning Home Rule. On the other hand, he is confident that the prospect of the Irish people governing themselves is remote, but not altogether improbable. I do not foresee my country governing itself at any time in the future. I don't know, I do not say that Home Rule will not come; I only tell you that I do not think it will soon come. I don't think the Irish people are prepared to have been hoping these many years."

Then he touched on the Irish parliamentary party.

The representatives of Ireland in the English Commons are doing nobly," he said. "They have secured by hard fighting certain measures that will be beneficial. They deserve support, and I trust the House of Commons will continue to support them. It is better to fight and gain a little than stand idle."

The cardinal was escorted to Archbishop Farley's residence by a delegation of the County Louth association and members of the Armagh Protective and Benevolent association, who were dressed in Irish costumes. The city of New York to receive him in their name. On his way up the bay an address of welcome was presented to him by the Archbishop. The cardinal will be celebrated of the pontifical mass of thanksgiving at St. Patrick's Catholic cathedral, with which will be the solemn memorial service commemorating a hundred years of Catholic activity in New York. Cardinal Gibbons will preach and Monsignor Falconio will represent the Vatican. The American cardinals and the archbishops of America will arrive in New York on Monday and will be met by the various committees of the Holy See. Cardinal Montreuil will represent the Catholic church in Canada.

Tomorrow there will be parochial celebrations in all the Catholic churches, archdioceses and parishes of New York, with masses of thanksgiving and special sermons. Archbishop Farley has received a proclamation from Pope Pius X., which will be made public Tuesday. The celebration of the centenary will continue through the week, the chief feature being the services in the cathedral. The American cardinals and the archbishops of America will arrive in New York on Monday and will be met by the various committees of the Holy See. Cardinal Montreuil will represent the Catholic church in Canada.

ON CORRECT DEALS FOR THE EDUCATOR

Teachers in Convention Listen to Addresses From Some Learned Speakers

Vancouver, April 23.—Most interesting of the addresses given before the provincial Teachers' Institute last night by Rev. John Mackay, A. D. D., principal of the Presbyterian Theological College, Vancouver, and Dr. W. A. McIntyre, B.A., of Winnipeg, was that of John Mackay, principal of the Orange Hall and Mayor Bethune presided over a large attendance.

Dr. Mackay took for his subject "The Educational Experience in Teaching." He appreciated the honor done him in asking him to address a gathering which was bound to have such an effect upon the future of this province as to be of the highest importance. He then dealt with the teachers of to-day found their embodiment in the lives of the generations to come and they were written in the history of the world in the world's history.

"I have chosen for my subject," said Dr. Mackay, "Authority and Experience and Education—education which is not a mere transmission of knowledge, but a process of development. I know that all over the world, there is a tendency to regard the young people as a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

"It was born and brought up on a farm, but my education in the public schools never showed me a single thing in the whole wonderful scheme of nature round me. I never had my eyes opened by any of my teachers to the lives face to face with nature. Someone is responsible for the bitterness of the labor would speak plainly and directly to the people and use their efforts to keep the membership of the churches clean.

Many Visits Marama. Vancouver, April 23.—An astonishing number of people paid a visit to

Exquisite Costumes CAMPBELLS' Dainty Neckwear

EXQUISITE BLOUSES

THE NEW AND EXQUISITE BLOUSES we are displaying are in the daintiest fine muslin, sheer white lawn and finest quality mull. The lace and embroidery is wrought in most exquisite designs, deftly fashioned to accentuate the roundness of the bust and the slenderness of the waist. Amongst these beautiful creations will be found, elaborate all-over lace and embroidery, artistic Grecian designs, openwork, lingerie and panel embroidery work, difficult to describe but charming, attractive and most distinctive in wear. Naturally these exclusive creations vary in price, but at each price we give you the greatest value in the west.

75c. - $1. - $1.25. - $1.50. - $1.75. - $2. - $2.25 and up to $16

Hosiery for Ladies

PLAIN BLACK AND TAN HOSE, double toes and heels, excellent value, per pair... 25c

BLACK, NAVY, TAN AND WHITE HOSE, double toes, spliced heels, per pair... 35c

GAUZE LISLE HOSE, all colors, including blue, tan, cardinal, sky, champagne, brown, gray, mauve, white, black, etc.; extra special value, with garter top, per pair... 50c

EMBROIDERED AND LACE FRONTED HOSE, patent style fancy fronts, double toes and heels, in blacks and tans, per pair from 50c down to... 50c

LACE FRONTED TAN LISLE HOSE, absolutely fast and stainless, very special value, per pair... 50c

EMBROIDERED GAUZE SILK HOSE in all colors, de-luxe for this season, at per pair... $3.75

Hosiery for Children

PLAIN BLACK AND WHITE, extra strong, at, per pair, 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c

RIBBED HOSE, black I-I rib, extra fine and very durable, per pair 25c to... 40c

COLORS LISLE HOSE, all shades, all-over lace, very dainty for children, but strong to resist wear and tear; at per pair, 40c, 50c and... 55c

SILK HOSE for children, in all the new shades, a splendid selection from per pair, $1.25, down to... 75c

INFANTS' HOSE, in all colors, all sizes, cashmere, I-I rib, at, per pair, 35c, 40c down to... 25c

BABIES' BOOTIES, in white and fancy from 50c down to... 25c

N.B.—The Booties are in the Infants' Outfitting Department.

Sunshades to Match All Suits at "The Home of the Dress Beautiful."

ANGUS CAMPBELL & CO.

LIMITED

Beautiful Blouses The Ladies' Store Gov't St., Victoria Fashionable Skirts

are practically sold for Christianity. It is not the exercise of authority which has brought about this great change," went on Dr. Mackay, "but an attempt was made to show the men that the truth which the churches have stood for are things which can be tested in living experience. An example of the different effects authority has brought to mind by the memory of two colleges of the United States. One stood for orthodoxy and tried to guard its young men from anything outside the orthodox faith. The other college pursued a diametrically opposite policy. Their young men were allowed to see what men were thinking in every phase of life and this college turns out a majority of men who accept orthodox positions, while strange as it may seem, the 'orthodox' college turns out a majority of men who adopt a heterodox position.

"There are three phases in modern life which may be accounted for by the fact that the principles of authority have not been sufficiently departed from by our teachers all over the world. I know that all over the world, there is a tendency to regard the young people as a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis and deplored the disappearance of home industries in place of the modern factory system which had increased poverty, resulted in physical deterioration and brought about an anomalous life in the home, making father compete with son. To remedy this state of things two courses had been suggested. One was to give our young people a contemptible lot. Many good farmers and mechanics have been spoiled by a smattering of education. In there, nothing is wrong with a system of education which will lead a pupil to experience a feeling of revolt from the occupation his father followed.

Dr. McIntyre began his address by remarking that after the gentle "roast" they had received—for what it was—he could do nothing but provide a little dessert. He dealt with education and the social crisis