Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has an achieved in modern medicine has been attained patients treated during the past the Dixon recastled during the past a state guident treated during the past as a state guident treated as subborn malady. This is none the 1s as take when it is remembered that not five per cent even the presenting themselves to the regular per owner are benefited, while the patent med cin of other advertised cures nev. record a cure. St ring with the claim now generally believe the most scientific men that the disease is due a presence of living parasites in the tissue, a xon at once adapted his cure to their externi m—this accomplished, he claim: the catarrh actically cured and the permanency is unqued, as cures effected by him two years ago resstill. No once else has ever attempted to ctarrh in this manner, and no other treatment cured catarrh. The application of the rem simple and can be done at home, and the presence of the year is the most favorable for a spead of the year is the most favorable for a spead of the treatment.
