VIVE LA REPUBLIQUE.

Arrival of the Statue of the Republic at Paris.

PARIS, July 14.—The great statue of the republic was unveiled this morning with appropriate ceremonies, in presence of senators, deputies and a vast concourse of people. A heavy gale last night destroyed most of the decorations throughout the city. The prefect of the Seine pointing to the statue, in the right of which is an olive branch, said "The republic holds in her hand an olive branch, showing that the period of violence is past, and that universal suffrage has replaced revolution. France is unwilling to impose her will upon other nations, but wishes to live as a republic well respected." The president of the municipality said he should have been happy had not of ceremony marked the ceremony. This referred to the government's refusal to pardon the anarchists.

There was a grand review of troops this afternoon by the president and the ministers. The president and the cabinet were greeted with shouts of "Vive la Republique."

Many of the flags displayed yesterday in honor of the national flag were draped with garlands of flowers. At unveiling the statue of the republic in a British colony, the president and the cabinet were greeted with shouts of "Vive la Republique."

BEARING ON HADLEY.

The Past Career and Present Standing of the Alderman.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The following special cable dispatch appears in the New York Herald to-day relating to Alderman Hadley, who is promoting the cable scheme, the charter for which was amended in the last Canadian parliament.

LONDON, July 13, 1883.—People in this city are considerably amused at the few who seem to be making according to the telegraphic reports to the press over Alderman Hadley, and it may interest you to have some particulars about him. Formerly he was chairman of the Standard bank of London, which after a great financial panic collapsed suddenly. The alderman is not so important a man over here as you seem to imagine. He is a great admirer of the alderman of strong financial parties and is not considered strong enough for important business aspirations. People here think it just possible that the great cable invention which he is venturing is the same in which M. de Lesseps and those interested with him were granted a monopoly in making a large amount by the advice of Sir William Thompson.

THE SAND LOTS ORATOR.

Benjamin Kearney Delivered a Lecture in New York.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Dennis Kearney was present this afternoon at a meeting of the Central labor union. Before the meeting Kearney harangued the crowd from the outer steps until the proprietor of the hall ordered him to stop. When his name was announced within and a motion made to grant him the floor uproar and confusion broke out. "What labor organization does he represent?" "Where did he get the money to come here?" was called out. His friends replied "Who is the father of the Chinese act?" The motion was lost by 38 to 122. Kearney strode out, denouncing the members of the union as blatherers and dirty loafers. Some of Kearney's admirers hired another room in the same building. Kearney made a speech denouncing the labor union as a protectionist, advocating higher rates of freight and passenger rates, claiming this would lead to higher wages, and abating the corporations.

THE TELEGRAPH TICKERS.

Advancement of the Easy Operators.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The officers of the Western Union telegraph company express belief that an amicable settlement will be arrived at with operators.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—Six hundred operators met to-night to discuss the situation. Representing the telegraph company were Messrs. J. M. G. and J. M. G. of New York, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Baltimore and Washington. Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed over the new rates adopted by the Western Union company regarding the night operators. A despatch from New York stated that the operators of the day were protesting against the new rates. The operators of the night are protesting against the new rates. An article in Rassegna at Rome, written with the consent of the pope, reviewing the Irish question with the object of showing the policy of the Vatican had been consistent throughout the present pontificate, and for a period long anterior. The article is emphatic in the re-assertion of the principles contained in the pope's letter to the Irish bishops.

The London Times says it is intimated on good authority that a recent attempt is about to be made to obtain an international copyright convention between England and America. The Times advises the promoters of the project to remember the powers of the less scrupulous American publishers to retain their alliance, even if they are to sacrifice some benefit.

Leute Michel and Her sympathizers. RONKAI, France, July 14.—A crowd assembled to-day to protest against the recent action of the chamber of deputies in rejecting a motion to grant amnesty to the Paris and Montsenon les Mines rioters, including Louise Michel. The crowd previously attempted to invade the town hall. The police commissary was struck on the head and was charged by the gendarmes. Six were arrested upon whom bludgeons and several revolvers were found.

THINGS AT TAMATAVE.

A BRITISH VESSEL PLACED UNDER GUARD.

The High-Handed Proceedings of the French Admiral—Three More English Residents Placed Under Arrest.

LONDON, July 15.—The steamer Taymouth Castle was boarded at Tamatave on June 25 by a French officer, who stated the French had taken Tamatave. The passengers were forbidden to go ashore. The cargo was allowed to be landed only on payment of duty. A sentry was placed on board the steamer. The passengers were taken to Mauritius.

Capt. Hay, of the Taymouth Castle, on arriving at Natal reported nothing relative to the capture of Tamatave. He said the British man-of-war Dryad was acting as consul. Hay was allowed to see the captain of the Dryad once. The French wished all consular dispatches sent aboard Admiral Pierré's ship, but the English objected and Hay received them direct from the Dryad. The latter vessel escorted the Taymouth Castle out of the harbor.

LONDON, July 15.—A despatch from Durban says the protest against the French admiral's proceedings at Tamatave. Much misery exists among the British subjects. The governor of Mauritius has sent a steamer to bring a British consul to Tamatave. The French admiral lowered the consular flag and forbade the re-hosting until the foreign representatives had been received.

The captain of the English vessel Dryad has offered the French by leading a guard of marines at the British consulate. He has his boats at the disposal of the fugitives.

A despatch from Tamatave, June 21, confirms the report of an English missionary by the French. Three more English residents were placed under temporary arrest. Communication with the French refugees from the capital who it was feared had been murdered reached Tamatave safely.

TON THUMB DEAD.

The Famous Little Man Dies Suddenly of Apoplexy.

MIDDLEBORO, Mass., July 15.—Charles Heywood Stratton, better known as Geo. Tom Thumb, died at his mother-in-law's house this morning, aged 45. Apoplexy was the cause.

Tom Thumb was born in Bridgeport, Conn., in 1837, and at the age of 5 years was not 2 feet in height and weighed less than 10 lbs. He grew very little for three or four years. In 1842 he was exhibited in New York, his age being given as 11 years. He had fine talents and was remarkable for his agility and symmetry, while his lively sense of the ludicrous gave him excellent success in performances suited to his character. He visited England in 1858, was several times exhibited in the Queen's court at Buckingham palace, gave lessons and was highly paid for the nobility. In 1861 he returned to the United States in 1847, and was exhibited in the principal cities of the United States
