Toronto Bay was a sight worth seeing on Saturday atternoon. It was a grand day for aquatics. The sun shone brightly, there was enough wind to make sailing exciting, and yet the water was not too rough for rowing. The Bay was covered with craft of all kinds, from the steamer and the stately yacht down to the one-seated row-boat. It was particularly lively west of Yonge-street with boats going to Hankar's Point and the contestants in the yacht, skiff cance and rowing races, reports of which will be found below.

This was a close face until near the finish when the Holden crew shot ahead and won by over a length. This finished the preliminaries. FOURTH HEAT. This heat brought out Meagher's and Boyd's crews. It was no even scee until 200 yards from the finish, when Meagher's crew ran into a skiff and was out of the race. Hoyd's winning of course easily. FIFTH HEAT. This was the decisive heat, the contesting crews heing Boyd's and Holden's. It was mose exciting. Holden's crew Web for some distance from the start, but could not keep it up. They steered a bad course and No. 2 seemed to be weakening. Boyd's crew won by four lengths. The victors were heartify cheered and special cheers were given for Lough, who is only 17. It was his first race sad the third time he had pulled with the crew. The club's skiff sailing race was twice around this course, starting at 3 o'clubs: From Club House buoy to buoy off old ice house point.
