For God's Sake, Let Me Stay!"

He pleaded with all the intensity his He pleaded with all the intensity his weakened body and soul could master. His voice trembled. Tears lurked in his strained, anxious eyes. "I have traveled for two days on the train," he said. "I have been turned out of my boarding house. I have been turned out of my boarding house. I have been turned out of a hotel in my own town. The local hospital refused me admission. Nobody wants me. For God's sake, doctor, let me stay."

This man had been a railway conductor.

This man had been a railway conductor. He had money to pay for his needs; so he applied to the Muskoka Cottage Sanatorium for treatment of the disease which held his life in its grip—consumption. But those sufferers without money and without friends, what of them? With their hopeless knowledge that people shun them, they believe in futile to seek relief. If their lives are to be spared they must be sought out and supplied with nourishment, medicine, and treatment. To do this costs money. Will you contribute a trifle to help in this effort to save lives? Please act quickly. Winter has brought keen suffering.

The Forest Band Excursion was almost a total failure. Owing to the heavy rain which fell during the early hours of the morning all along the route of the ex-The crowd was only about one third the average, and the Band will do well to break even on the undertaking.

A number of Anderdon farmers have threshed, and in every intance where army worms were discovered in the oats, the crop turned out from 10 to 25 bushels per acre less than in fields which were not attacked. The grain almost covers the ground in places and hogs were turned into the fields to pick a good living.

Use Miller's Worm Powders and the Use Miller's Worm Powders and the battle against worms is won. These powders correct the morbid conditions of the stomach which nourish worms, and these destructive parasites cannot exist after they come in contact with the medicine. The worms are digested by the powders and are speedily evacuated with other refuse from the bowels. Soundness is imparted to the organs and the health of the child steadily improves.

Ruthven boasts of a dog that kills to-bacco worms faster than two men can do it. The canine is the property of William Topping, of that place, and it is said to be right on to his job. He looks every plant over carefully, selects the largest worms, and after biting the heads off goes on to the next plant, continuing the journey across the fields.

exactly meet the need which so often arises in every family for a medicine to open up and regulate the bowels. Not only are they effective in all cases of Constipation, but they help greatly in breaking up a Cold or La Grippe by cleaning out the system and purifying the blood. In the same way they relieve or cure Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headaches, Rheumatism and other common ailments. In the fullest sense of the words Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are A Household Remedy

THANKS FOR A FAVOR.

The Lady and the Baker and a Little Bit of a Surprise It was after dark, and the French baker was about to close his shop when the telephone bell rang. "Mr, Ovens?"

"Yes, ma'am." "This is Mrs. Jimley of Hickorynut

"Yes, Mrs. Jimley."

"I am giving a supper tonight, and I discover that I need half a dozen more rolls. Could I trouble you to send them over?"

"I'm sorry, ma'am, but I haven't a roll left in the store nor even a loaf of bread. We are sold clear out tonight." "This is very provoking," said Mrs. Jimley. "Are you sure you haven't anything that would do?"

"There isn't a thing in the place that I would care to sell you, ma'am. Hold on, though. There's a half dozen fresh rolls on my own supper table right now. I could let you have those if you think they would do. My kids can eat crackers instead. They'd rather, anyway.'

"Those will do very nicely, Mr. Ovens. Will you send them over soon, please?"

"Right away, ma'am. The boy has gone for the night, but I'll take them to you myself."

In a minute or two he stood on her front steps ringing the bell and feeling well pleased with himself that he could do some one a kindness.

Mrs. Jimley opened the door and took the packages from his hands. Then she said in icy tones:

"The next time you bring any goods here, Mr. Ovens, I wish you would remember to ring the basement bell. I can't have tradesmen coming to the front door."-Newark News.

* HELPFUL FOR HOUSEWIVES.

Keep a pair of ordinary pliers in the kitchen for lifting intensely hot pans.

Keep an egg timer near the telephone to gauge your long distance calls. It is a good idea to buy a supply of extra bobbins for the sewing machine. Dip matches in hot melted paraffin if you wish to make them waterproof. Cut the invalid's toast into inch squares. It can be eaten much more easily.

Good nets for dresses can frequently be bought in the upholstery stores. In planning summer menus get as far as possible away from winter dishes.

A good way to clean mirrors is to wipe them with a pad dipped in whiting and warm water. Then dry with a soft cloth and polish with a piece of chamois skin.

Waxed paper is a good thing to wrap about articles of food before placing them in the refrigerator. It should also be wrapped about cheese and like edibles that must be kept in a dry place. *****

EFFECTS OF COLORS.

Those of Hats and Gowns Modify the Shade of the Eyes.

Have you noticed how the color of your eyes changes sometimes with the weather and sometimes with the color you wear? With almost everything but the eyes it takes contrast to bring out color. For instance, a portrait of a blond woman almost invariably has blue in the background, and some where about the portrait of a brunette you will find pink or red blended to accentuate the dark skin and hair. It is exactly the opposite with nature. A color brings out a color. You will see a rosy cheeked girl with a rose colored hat on her head. Remove the hat and replace it by a brown or green one, and she will look pale. A blue hat or veil casts a blue shade over the face, so that the sweetest natural complexion will appear as if painted. You can make your blue eyes or gray blue eyes deeper in color if you like. If you wear a blue facing or much blue trim-ming upon your hat the same shade will be reflected in your eyes. The darker the blue the darker the eyes. The same principle works with rich violet colorings. Often blue eyes appear like violets under a purple hat. Brown and dull reds will darken and deepen brown eyes when worn around the shoulders or on the head. Then there are colors which take all color out of the eyes.

The mustard yellow, so fashionable just now-or absinth color, some call it-while it flatters black hair, is positively fatal to complexion and eyes. It fades all color out of blue eyes and makes brown eyes look absolutely pale. Some pale shades of pink gowns are becoming to both blonds and brunettes, for they cast a soft glow over the complexion and eyes. Blue gowns on a blond or not too pale a violet color will deepen the color of the eyes and make the skin appear pearly. Blonds should avoid tan colored clothes. Only dark brown is becoming to fair hair.

White is illuminating to every oneman, woman and child. It enhances the color of the complexion and hair, but it brightens only the eyes. It has no effect upon their color. While a soft canary yellow will tone down any strong color by reflection too deep a yellow will cause the cheeks and lips to look pale.

WILD FLOWERS.

Old Fashioned Posies Are Popular Hat Trimmings.

Wild flowers, such as ragged robins, speedwell and bachelor's buttons so delightfully made that they might have been executed by "nature's own sweet and cunning hand," are prepared for garlanding summer hats and for wearing as posies; also old fashioned garden flowers, stocks, wallflowers and sweet peas. Cornflowers and hya-cinths of the most vivid blue are already appearing on hats; also roses of every kind, from tiny rampler and button blossoms to huge roses of velvet and silk.

Tulle is usually considered the most perishable of fabrics, but a variety which, though it appears just like all other tulle, is far more durable is the beautiful rainproof tulle, made by a special process—that is to say, it will not spoil when subjected to damp or become raggy in moist, heated atmosphere. Another exquisite fabric for evening wear emanating from the same manufactory is a fine silk gauze, woven in the fashionable metallic effects—gold, aluminium, copper shot with silver and radium blue. It is charmingly effective for tunics and Novel Way With Fish.

For this you take a cupful of cod-fish, two cupfuls of sliced raw potatoes, a large onion, a cracker rolled fine, a pint of milk and salt to taste. Pick the codfish and soak it over night. Change the water several times in the morning. When ready to use, pare and thinly slice the potatoes and onion. Heat a dish, butter it well and put in alternate layers of fish, potatoes, onlons and one cracker rolled fine. Cover with hot water and boil twenty minutes, then add salt, milk and, if possible, a little cream. Serve very hot.

In Australia kangaroo farming is an important industry. The hides are valuable, and the tendons extremely fine. Indeed, they are the best known to surgeons for sewing up wounds, and especially for holding broken bones than catgut.-London Globe.

Defectives. "Here's a story about a man with a cork leg, a cork arm, a rubber ear, a glass eye and a wig."
"He must be one of those defectives

there's so much agitation about."-Buffalo Express.

A Question. "The pen is mightier than the gword." "Then can the fellow with the fountain pen be said to be carrying con-cealed weapons?"—Town Topics. Cured.

"I thought it was a case of love at first sight." "It was: but, then, I took a second look."-Buffalo Express.

Talent creates a work; genius keeps it from dying.-Emerson.
