SAINT ANDREWS, WEDSESDAY JUNE 6, 1838.

It may not be familiar to all our readers that the opposition party in New York have long accused the Jackson party of bringing aliens (particularly the Irish) to the polls and getting them to vote by the score although not admitted citizens. A native American society has been strongly advocated by some of the violent anti-jackson prints, and sentiments of bitter hostility to conigrants and emi-gration have been promulgated and cherished. ed, dated 28th May, 1838. We shall not stop for a moment to comment on this conduct, as we are merely stating facts. The government party defend themto the Division of Grand Manan, with the selves from these attacks and in the justice of the Division of Grand Manan, with the rank of Ensign, May 30th, 1838.

He takes no umbrage 55, John Wilkinson, whatever at the direct and indirect weight of these aliens both in heart and in interest, but flatters, favours and feasts them on all occasions. Nay, though withholding the hospitalities of the city from the second officer of the government, one who bore on his person the marks of hard service to his country, and who is historically connected with one of the most chavalrous acts of the late war-while doing this in the face of his felwar—while doing this in the face of his fel-low citizens, we find the lucky lottery office man at the keels of every titled foreigner that comes amongst us: making them complimen-st, when the following gentlemen were chocomes amongst us; making them complimenthry harangues, giving them complimentary dinners, and displaying his subserviency by vulgar ostentation, low bred servility, and of the city much in the style in which the monkey imitates the man.

perfectly notorious, that his worship has no objection to foreigners, or foreign influence, provided it is all on his own side, and of a character to make it palatable to a gentleman of his high breeding. "The choicest houor, the most glorious attribute of our courtry, is that of being the refuge of the poor and oppressed of all nations. Yet his worship the mayor, himself the mushroom of a day, the fungus of a corrupt system of lottery schemes, and puffing quackery, is determined, it seems, to pluck this brightest wreath, this crowning laurel from the brow of our country, and brand it forever hereafter with the disgrace of innospitality to all but titled by the conducted; and at whose disposal all sums of money granted by the Legislature to that purpose, should be placed. For reasons sufficiently obvious, this Board should be composed of persons of standing in society, of acknowledged acquirements, and holding public office; such as the Professors of Natural History and Natural Philosophy of King's College, the Province Secretary, and the brow of our country, and brand it forever hereafter with the disgrace of innospitality.
