

- Thury, Father Pierre, 233; at the capture of Pemaquid, 236; the religious aspect of the Abenaki war, 237; incites the Abenakis to war, 237; 366; an insidious enemy of the English, 377; on the feeling of the Abenakis against the French, 379; persuaded the Abenakis to stay with the French, 381; in the massacre at Oyster River, 385; his invaluable aid to Villieu, 386; intrigues of, 391; instigates the Abenakis to attack the English, 394; rewarded for his zeal, 394; keeps his converts in hostility to the English, 385; anxious for the adhesion of the Abenakis, 397; holds a conference with Chubb, 398; in the attack on Pemaquid, 399.
- Tibièrge, on Thury's zeal in instigating the Abenakis against the English, 394.
- Tilly, Sieur de, 38; councillor of Quebec, 50; banished from Quebec by Frontenac, 52.
- Tionondogué, fortified village of, 97.
- Tonawanda reservation, the, 164.
- Tonty, Henri de, commanding at the Illinois, 150; at Fort St. Louis, 151; 156; on Denonville's campaign against the Senecas, 163; goes to the "Assinneboins," 349; on Fort St. Louis of the Illinois, 424; in charge of a forest post, 440.
- Toronto, Denonville projects a fort at, 133; 154.
- Torture of prisoners, 145, 146, 188; 315, 374.
- Totiakton, town of, 164.
- Townsend, Peter, 298.
- Tracy, chastises the Mohawks, 78, 84.
- Triple alliance, the, conclusion of, 208; means ruin to Canada, 208.
- Trouvé, Father, 250.
- Troyes, Chevalier de, in the capture of the forts at Hudson's Bay, 138, 140; left in charge of the fort at Niagara, 162; death of, 174.
- Trumbull, J. Hammond, 387.
- Turenne, 13.
- Turks, the, attack Candia, 13, 453.
- Tuscaroras, the, 475.
- Two Mountains, the Lake of, 203.
- Tyrconnel, Earl of, 93.
- ULSTER, militia of, 447.
- Urfé, Abbé d', interviews Frontenac in behalf of the Abbé Fénelon, 39; carries accusations against Frontenac to France, 43; commended by Colbert to Frontenac's consideration, 45; his memorial to Colbert, 45.
- Ursuline convent, the, at Quebec, 293, 351.
- Ursuline nuns, the, at Quebec, 28; 272; mourn Frontenac's death, 451.
- Utrecht, the peace of, 235.
- VAILLANT, Father, sent as ambassador from Denonville to Dongan, 170; his lack of success, 170.
- Valrenne, commandant at Fort Frontenac, 201; demolishes Fort Frontenac, 202; 277, 279; his attack on Schuyler, 305-307; estimate of his force, 308.
- Van Cortlandt, Mr., letter to Andros from, 227.