

For nearly seventeen years he has labored under India's sun, preaching the gospel in hundreds of towns and villages to those who knew it not. He is older now than he looks in the picture but young in heart as ever.

MRS. J. F. CAMPBELL.

Mrs. J. F. Campbell's maiden name was one well known in Nova Scotia, and one which young people should gratefully remember, for Rev. Dr. Forrester, her father, was

They were no doubt both lonely at times, and so after a time, Mr. Campbell, hinting no doubt that such was the case, and perhaps also reminding her that the apostles were sent out two and two, proposed that they should henceforth work together instead of separately.

Busy busy lives they lead in their station in the city of Rutland. Mr. Campbell with his helpers, visits and preaches the gospel in the many towns and villages within a distance for many years superintendent of education there and Principal of the Normal School, and in this way did a great deal to help the young people of after years in fitting themselves for life.

MRS. J. FRASER CAMPBELL.

When the call came from India for young women to go and teach the women of India, who, shut up in their Zenanas, were beyond the reach of missionaries, Miss Forrester volunteered to go as one and was appointed to the work.

of several miles around. He looks after schools, last year they had seven Sabbath schools, distributes books and tracts, &c, &c, while Mrs. Campbell, with equal energy and zeal gives herself to work among the women.

The RECORD and its readers unite in the wish and prayer, that for many years to come they may be spared, young in heart as their days lengthen and their locks whiten, to carry on together the blessed work to which they have given their lives.