

"Trust not yourself, but your defects to know; Make use of every friend and every foe."

"The chains of habit are generally too small to be felt till they are too strong to be broken."

"Of all the lights that you carry in your face, joy is the one that will reach farthest out to sea."

Attention is the signal of success and should be cultivated by every student until it becomes an acquired habit,

People who fish for compliments do not need long lines. They will get the best bites in shallow water.

"Rich peoples," said a Dutchman, "cats venison because it is deer, und I eats mutten because it is sheep."

☐ The Xmas, number of the College Times is dressed in very gorgeous raiment, would that it might retain its brilliant colors.

Anyjoe to Farmers.-Clean your land before it is dirty, feed it before it's hungry, and pay for it before it's mortgaged.

"Words are like leaves, and when they most abound

Much fruit of sense beneath is rarely found."

We welcome the Sunbram, our only exchange from sister colleges. Its columns are well filled with pleasing and pithy articles.

College Times comes regularly to our table. Evidently this paper shows as many interesting traits of character of the students at that College.

The white appearance of the Calct intensifies the moral influence of its columns. Several maxims appear as extracts in the exchange column.

The High School Herald is an exchange meriting praise. The Christmas number contains suggestions for profitable reading, which are worthy of particular note.

The January number of College Chips presents itself with its accustomed excellence. An article on "Perseverance" struck us as being particularly good.

"A man that is young in years may be old in hours if he has lost no time; but that happens rarely. Generally, youth is like the first cogitations, not so wise as the second."

And the second section of the second section is a second section of the second section section section section

"Men of age object too much, consult too long, adventure too little, repent too soon, and seldom drive business home to the full period, but content themselves with a mediocrity of success."

The Argosy furnishes a well written article on "Physical Exercise." This article presents many undeniable truths concerning amusements used as exercise, such as football, baseball, gymnastics, etc.

Weacknowledge the receipt of the Advance which contains many articles of interest. Shakespeare's Brutus, by B. S. Hull, suggests many beautiful quotations to those familiar with that renowned play, Julius Casar.

The most successful men are the manufacturing farmers who always sell the finished article ready for human use. The manufacturers always possess much biproduct, which on the farm is of no small value as manure.

"Though we seem grieved at the shortness of life in general we are wishing every period of it at an end. The minor longs to be of age then to be a man of business, then to make up an estate, then to arrive at honors, then to retire."

College Chips is one of the most interesting of our exchanges. An article in the last issue, "The Power of Attention," presents truths which must be practised by every pupil who would become a successful student. Also an article on "Higher Education on a Christian Basis," deserves mention.
