

with uncontrollable anguish, sobbed "belles, belles," adding in explanation: "Which she did thrice refuse."

Objective symptoms: Great nervous excitement, eyes wildly staring, strong contortions of the body, accompanied with tossing of the arms and loud spasmodic cries.

Diagnosis: Some are suffering from infantile colic. In others, too sudden check of amatory functions has resulted in hysteria, with strong tendency to puerile insanity.

Prognosis: Favorable.

Treatment: Antispasmodic at 9 a.m., to ward off recurring attacks; soothing draught of "New Theology" to act as a cardiac sedative; "milk diet" at 3 p.m.; gentle exercise; one "at home" a week; change of scene and fresh country air in the spring.

Now these are the generations of the higher vertebrata. In the Cosmic period the unknowable evolved the bipedal mammalia and every man of the earth, while he was yet a monkey, and the horse while he was yet an hipparion, and the hipparion before he was an oridon. Out of the ascidian came the amphibian and begat the pentadactyle, and the pentadactyle by inheritance and selection produced the hylobate from which are the simiadae in all their tribes, and out of the simiadae the lemur prevailed above his fellows and produced the platyrbine monkey, and the platyrbine begat the catarrbine monkey, and the catarrbine monkey begat the aurotopoid ape, and the ape begat the longimanous orang, and the orang begat the chimpanzee, and the chimpanzee evolved the what-is-it, and the what-is-it went into the land of Nod and took him a wife of the long imaneous gibbons, and in process of the cosmic period were born unto them and their children the anthropomorphic primordial types. The homunculus, the prognathus, the troglodyte, the autochthou, the terragen, these are the generations of primeval man.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING.

JOHN McFAR-ND: Conversats are a complete failure, of late years. Why, they have no Gleees, no—no—

C. C. ARTHURS: No sandwiches, John.

Good-bye, latch-key, no more fun,
No more coming in at half-past one.

Yours affectionately,
W. J. HER-S-N.

LEARN EVERETT SHORTHAND.

- 1.—Because it is particularly adapted to College work, having been invented by that distinguished British Scientist, Prof. Everett, of Queen's College, Belfast, who thoroughly understands what a College student requires.
- 2.—It is the briefest legible system extant.
- 3.—It is simplicity itself, easy to write, easy to learn and easy to read.
- 4.—Hardly any grammalogues, while in Pitmanic systems these are counted by the thousand.
- 5.—Vowels are indicated even in the briefest reporting, therefore unfamiliar words in Greek or Latin can be written at speed and read afterwards—a feature which no other system can boast of.
- 6.—No one who has mastered its principles has given it up for another system, while numbers have abandoned the Pitman systems and use Everett's.
- 7.—No need of a teacher, simply procure a text book and learn the system yourself during the holidays.
