

stimulating the development of policy research capacity, and further developing links with professional and academic researchers in the field of international commerce.

Patricia Fuller
Chief Economist
Foreign Affairs and International Trade Canada

Ottawa
June, 2008