The Chairman: That concludes the estimates of the Secretary of State. The committee will now consider the estimates of the Solicitor General.

Mr. Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre): Mr. Chairman, I rise on a point of order. I wonder whether it is correct for the Chair to say that the committee is going to consider the estimates. Would it not be better to say that we are going to vote on the estimates?

The Chairman: That is probably a fair distinction.

Mr. McGrath: On the same point of order, would the Chairman call the page number when he calls a new department, to expedite the passage of the estimates?

The Chairman: Order, please. If I put it more slowly, would this serve the same purpose?
